Liquor is a basic spirit with no inherent flavour. Vodka pairs well and blends easily with countless recipes that include a wide range of interesting ingredients. Vodka drinks are best when the liqueur is cold at the beginning of the mixture. You can keep a bottle in the fridge, or chill a room temperature bottle in the freezer for 10 to 15 minutes before making a drink. The first half of our top 10 vodka recipes are the well-established ones and most often asked for drinks featuring vodka. The second half of the Top 10 vodka recipes are those very popular drinks for their combination of delightful flavors and most suitable for our Western Australian environment. That means they include the sweet and tart flavors of our generous fruits. These recipes are diverse enough that everyone will be sure to find one or more that please their taste buds. Feel free to try them all to find your favorite. The following recipes are presented using Vodka+, one of our premium Australian vodka, but you can make these drinks with any brand of non-flavored, premium vodka. There are 10 or fewer ingredients used in each recipe and the preparation time is less than 10 minutes. I left out the guesswork. Each recipe includes the amount of each ingredient needed, to combine the ingredients, and what type of plastic swish cups is best used to serve the drink in for appearance and taste. Whether you take a quick glass of water after a jog morning or serving specially cocktails for your party dinner guests, no kitchen is complete without a good set of drinking glasses. But today, drinking glasses built from traditional glass are no longer the only option. Plastic glasses, which are lightweight and less prone to breakage, have begun to gain popularity. Even the glass drink has evolved: the tempered glass, for example, is resistant to heat shocks, can contain both hot and cold drinks, and when it breaks, it does it in small cubes instead of shards. In addition, many sets of glass are now unleaded. Of course, there are many shapes and sizes of drinking glasses available in addition to the tumbler shape, such as highball, goblet, cocktail, and more. To help sift through all the options, here's our list of the best drinking glasses for your home kitchen. This 16-piece set is all you need for everyday use or for parties. The set includes eight glasses of 16.25-ounces and eight shorter 12.25-ounce ice glasses rocks, so you will always have one ready for water, cocktails, iced tea, or water. The shape is classic, with a weighted bottom for stability, but a simple modern form to work with any type of drink or cocktail. The set is unleaded and is manufactured in the US and is safe for dishwasher. Reviewers note that this is a large set of glasses at an affordable price. Clear glasses are great to see what you're drinking, but that doesn't mean you have to completely lack color. These 13.25 ounces each have a different color on the bottom, adding a little fun and making it easier for diners to know which bottle is theirs when they set it next to another glass. Because color is an integral part of the bottle, it will not wash or fade. The weighted bottom helps to keep the glasses stable and feel them substantial in hand. The waves on the bottom of the bottle help manage the sweat that occurs with a hot day cold drink. The set includes six glasses. They are safe for the dishwasher for easy cleaning. A set of shorter, matching glasses is also available. For anyone who wants a classic design for their drinking glass, this Picardy glass from Duralux is the clear winner. Duralux is a French company that pioneered hardened glass, so know that this glass not only has a beautiful vintage inspired style, but is also incredibly robust. The glasses themselves can withstand heat shock from -4 degrees Fahrenheit to 212 degrees Fahrenheit. That means that in addition to being safe dishwasher these glasses are good to be used in the microwave or refrigerator as well. Duralux hardened glass is also resistant to stains, odors and scratches. It's a long-lasting glass to be sure. This set includes six 12-ounce glasses perfect for water, tea or any other beverages. Duralux also makes a variety of other sizes, including cocktail glasses, espresso cups, and juice glasses. So no matter what the glassware needs, there is a Picardy style glass that will fit. The glasses are made in France, and we would expect no less from the original French cumbler. Need to equip the entire glass cabinet in one shot? This is the set to choose from. The 12-piece collection is equipped with three different glass sizes. And you'll get four glasses of each size. (Which means you might want to order two sets if you know you'll need eight drinks at any time.) While you might expect plastic for this price point, they are made of high quality glass and come with a high polka dot pattern. The model however is on the inside of the glassware, so they will not help with the grip. Included in the set are 17-ounce highball glasses, 13-ounce double-fashioned glasses, and 7-ounce juice glasses, which means that all drinking needs are covered in this one set. Glasses are also stackable to save on cabinet space and dishwasher safely to make post-dinner cleaning even easier. Galaxy also has several other sets where this combination of glassware is not right for you. And if you want colors, be sure to check out the rainbow set of highball or juice glasses. For those who are willing to spend a little more on their glassware, this set of four drinking glasses from Libbey, is an easy choice. Hard, weighted bottom made for glasses that will not beat over easily while also providing a more refined aesthetic. The glasses are also on the larger side, holding a full 18 ounces of your favorite drink. This set only comes with four glasses, so if you want a closet, you'll have to order a few sets. You can feel good about your purchase knowing that all Libbey glassware is manufactured in the USA. Libbey also sells this glass in a size for juice or cocktails and in a color called smoke, which is a slightly gray nuted glass. Both styles are safe for dishwasher for easy cleaning. While drinking plastic cups are probably not the number one choice for parties, sometimes they can come in handy for everyday drinking needs. Whether you like to dine on a patio or veranda, or simply tend to break glasses easily, plastic can be a good solution. Fan favorite, Tervis hosts drinks in a 16-ounce glass while also keeping liquids cold (or hot) and sweat-free outside. They are made from BPA-and melamine-free construction, so they are safe for the whole family to use. You can order a simple set or be more creative with some of their personalized or more holiday-oriented reasons. Whatever you decide – these glasses will be your new favorite and are guaranteed to last a lifetime. The final verdict Our top choice is Libbey Polaris 16-Piece Tumbler Spectacles Set. Unleaded glasses have a stylish design and robust construction. If you're on a budget, go for the Galaxy Glassware 12-Piece Set. In addition to being cheap, they are durable and elegant. Safety of the dishwasher: While washing glasses in a dishwasher is the easiest option, if you do not use a lot of glassware, it is also easy to sand, rinse and dry glasses, especially if you do not fill the dishwasher every day. Consider whether it is important for you to make drinking glasses safe for the dishwasher. Child-friendly: If you have children, it is wise to consider whether the drinkware you choose will be easy for them to hold-and if it is robust enough to cope with small bumps and accidents. Design: Of course, you are going to choose the drinkware that you like, but if you want to limit the number of glasses you own, it's a good idea to choose the ones you can use every day with your normal crockery and probably even with the nice crockery that you take out just for special occasions.
