Lake hartwell fishing report may 2020

Our Lake Hartwell Fisheries Report for May 07, 2020 Welcome back to a full Hartwell Lake Fishing Report, the goal of these weekly reports is to provide you with the most up-to-date fishing for Lake Hartwell. Now today is a special day for me, it's my birthday and I spent it on the lake by myself enjoying what I love, fishing! I can be an old man, but when I get on the boat and in a fish school I feel like I'm as young as my mind tells me I'm instead of the age of my body reminds me that I am! Fishing can provide you with a vitamin and boost that you simply can't buy anywhere else. It's good medicine for the mind, body and soul. This Sunday is Mother's Day, so it's a good week to honor your mother by taking her on a fishing trip and creating a memory for life; she already thinks you're her best catch ever. I'm still teaching instructional fishing lessons in the water so call us and we'll learn something new. So as I remember everyone who wants to fish, my advice is to leave, Humminbird find them, Minn Kota Sneak up on Them, Stealth Rod Holders Hold Them, Captain Mack Products Fool Them and Okuma Rods and Reels Put Them in the Boat! So let's go fishing! The water levels of Lake Hartwell at the time of this report are 661.44 which is 1.44 feet above the 660 full pool levels. Current water temperatures are sixty-seven degrees. We still have a lot of cold fronts moving through this past week with a major cold front coming this weekend that will possibly lower temperatures to the 1930s by Sunday, I did say the 1930s after it's been in the 1980s for the start of this week. Let's see what this does to our fishing in the coming days. STRIPED BASS & HYBRIDS Striper and hybrid fishing has been just last week and false relief seems to be coming to an early end, especially on the arm of the lake's Seneca River. Keep in mind that not all Stripers and Hybrids spawn at the same time so you can catch some fish as they go up the rivers as well as fish as they are on their way back out of the rivers. Last week Striper and Hybrid fishing has been very tough. One of the best guides on the lake came out of the water last week with only two fish that left it with the same attitude we've all experienced before, as he commented that he would be burning his log books, selling his boat and equipment, as he's fed up with the way these fish treat us all sometimes! Now we've all had those kinds of trips and we've all experienced those same emotions to come back a few days later to load the boat. It's hard to explain Fishing can be great one day and the F.B.I can't even find the fish the next day, but you just can't give up. If you look at last year's report for this very time you will see that the fishing was so stay there is only a matter of time and the bite will return as it always does during this time of year. It's time to climb into the shallows before dawn to catch the Stripers and hybrids as they chase bait in the shallow waters before daylight. This bite is usually quick if you get to the right spot and you can easily be out of bait before the sun rises if the fish are biting at your point. This method is covered in our Instructional Journeys and is a fun and productive way to catch a large box of fish. Big fish are biting right now and this week's image is of a captured spring fish pulling a planer board through a spot on Lake Hartwell. If you want to book a future fishing trip during this spring season on Lake Hartwell or make your instructional journey before the spring bite is over then now is the time to get these trips booked. I've been told I give a lot of secrets when it comes to Striper and hybrid fishing, so I plead guilty, but I want to be known as the Striper fisherman who shared everything. If you caught an Instructional Journey last year, you can use your instruction book to get in the right places to fish over the next month and don't forget that I'm just a phone call away. I would make a serious suggestion if you are not prepared to pull Umbrella Rigs or Mini Mack's and if you want to pull large baits on your perfect brushing boards you might want to look at the bottom of this report for my suggestions on equipment to catch fish over the next few months. It's time to pull some perfect planer boards with gizzard shad near the banks or on the backs of streams where big fish roam. When I move back out of the backs of the streams I deploy two ultralight free lines behind the boat rigged with live herring to catch the fish that feed on top and you would be surprised how many lame fish on these ultralight platforms. I usually locate these fish in two ways. I place them in my Humminbird Side Imaging or Down Imaging and the moment I get them under the boat I drop my live bait and Mini Mack's into fish schools. If the fish decides not to eat my live bait then my Captain Mack Umbrella Rigs are my automatic tools for the guaranteed bite. Captain Mack Umbrella Rigs is working very well now and will continue to function as spring arrives. If you want to fish for the next two months you must add Captain Mack Umbrella Rigs to your fishing equipment for the guaranteed bite. Once again we cover all these methods on our instructional journeys and it's a fun way catch some good Stripers. A main element that we cover in our instructional fishing trips is how to locate Stripers and hybrids and then the best methods to catch them. There are many ways to catch Stripers and Hybrids on Lake Hartwell and Travel covers all these points. Now is one of the best times to catch one of our instructional trips, it's also a great time to witness first-hand what a changing season and pattern makes fish and how to adapt to new fishing patterns. When you catch an Instructional Journey you will learn everything there is to know about catching Stripers and Hybrids on Lake Hartwell or your lake home and now you will have the opportunity to ask all the questions that very few professional Striper anglers will share, so if you are interested in learning all the different techniques to catch Stripers and Bass Hybrid is now one of the best times to enter a teaching boat for a Striper instructive or it's a good time to take out your calendar and move on and book a future trip as you book quickly when the weather starts to warm up again. If you've ever wanted to be one of the boats that come to the pier with your limit after a good spring fishing trip you may want to book a trip very soon. A Striper Instructional Trip will be the best trip you'll ever make and increase your chances of catching fish tremendously on any Striper or Hybrid lake. If you are interested in booking a future 2020 instructional trip or guide trip give Captain Mack a call at 770-235-8135. Go to this week's baits. Live Blueback Herring or Gizzard Shad fished on reeds and free lines. Bait shops are assuming good quality bait and several have the gizzard shad you'll need for that big fish bite. Be sure to add O2 from your Keep Alive O2 system to keep this bait healthy during your trip. The live bait bite has been hard, but it should get better soon. Okuma Classic Pro Striper Rods. This live bait bar along with Okuma Cold Water CW203D reel is a great match, this rod and reel combo is the perfect Striper and hybrid combo and is unmatched in its ability to handle a good fish while giving you everything you need to enjoy the fight. This rod and reel combo is the perfect tool and I would give this rod and reel an A++ for Striper Live Bait Fishing. If you choose another reel that will depend on you, but try the Okuma Classic Striper Rod side by side with your other bars and I promise you will see the difference immediately! Captain Mack Super Spoons or captain Mack Jig'N Shad spoons. These insoles are ideal for fish that pile up and hug the bottom. These Jigs are essential for the winter months. Any top water bait of your choice; I prefer a ghost or anything in a chrome color. Flukes and swimming baits along with one of Captain Mack's trailers. The chartreuse trailer works best for Keep the oxygen system alive. This system will make a big difference in your bait. I know from experience that this system will help keep your bait in perfect condition during your fishing day and increase your chances of catching fish with the best bait bait can put in the water. Captain Mack Umbrella Rigs. I'll never go to the lake without them! Umbrella Rig's bite is now a guaranteed bite and the four-arm, nine-bait platforms are working better. These platforms are best fished using the Okuma 303 Coldwater series on a Captain Mack trolling bar. They can be purchased from Lake Hartwell Fish and Marine, as well as Sportsman's Warehouse and Academy Sports. If your favorite bait and rigging shop doesn't carry them, you may want to order them. I like to get my tackle where I normally buy and hate to go to the lake without everything I need to catch a good box of fish. Captain Mack Mini Mack' - they will catch good fish if they roll with their .08 mph drag engine or pull behind their perfect plank boards. Pulling this platform behind your brushing boards is working great right now and gives you the ability to cover a lot of water! These equipments are hard to find right now as they sell quickly. They can be found at Lake Hartwell Fish and Marine and I would personally ask my favorite fishing shop to buy them so I always have a good supply on their way to the bait shop. Perfect brushing plates. This is the best Planer Board I've ever used. The bite of the Planer Board can be a bite all day right now while covering a lot of water. It is working very well right now and gives you the ability to put more bait in the water which always increases your chances of catching more fish. I'm going to fish Planks every trip during the fall and winter months waiting for that big explosion that always seems to come behind a Planer Board. QR2 quick release rod holder. This is a NEW technology rod holder and is built for the angler who wants the best for his boats and the ability to fish at any angle he would like to fish with simple adjustments that can be made without tools on the go. Feather bars, free lines or Umbrella Rigs these rod holders will do the job and come with a lifetime warranty. Customers I have fished since installing these new rod holders have already said that they are the BEST they have used and are looking to install them on their boats. (If you are buying a new boat this year please check out the Stealth QR2. Do not scratch your rails with other rod mounts when you can install a Stealth QR2 that will leave no marks on your new rails and will do you an excellent job.) BASS This past week has been good for Bass fishing. Spotted Bass' bite has been fair to Spotted Bass coming out of points falling on 20-40 feet of water being caught in Alabama Rigs, Ned Rigs, Drop Shots, Shakey Heads and Rigs with soft plastics. The black bass is biting well out of the dots and at the back of the coves around the structure of Spinner Baits and Crankbaits. We're seeing some schooling activity right in the sun early in the morning There are still some fish in bed, but it seems that most fish are moving back to feed on baits in their normal feeding patterns. Captain Mack under Spin Jig, KVD 1.5 Magnum Square Bill baits in the color of your choice, with all the rain I would suggest something in a shad or chartreuse color. Deeper dive crank baits are also working in these same colors. Ned Rigs and the hard, soft Jerk Baits of your choice, the Robo Worms are working better. We're catching some good fish in rigged baths with Captain Mack Trailers; again the color chartreuse is working better. Captain Mack Weedless Wonder Shakey Head equipped with a six-inch Morning Dawn Or Bluegill Worms Robbery, as well as some new colors we're using. Captain Mack Weedless Wonder is the best Bass bait I know for Lake Hartwell and I recommend you don't go to the lake without rods rigged with Wonder Weedless! Captain Mack Mini Mack's. If you want to catch a big spotted Bass this is a bait go! Robo Worms is working the best for us. There are several colors that work very well! Steel shads in various colors and sizes are working around the structure as well as in open water. Spinner Baits of your choice will do the job. CRAPPIE Crappie's bite is good and the fish are still under docks with some donkeys being caught as you move from one pier to another. Patients will do the work while taking their time and moving from one place to another. Recent blows created from some pretty bad storms from Lake Hartwell from previous weeks are holding a good number of fish. A new tree in the water is a great condominium for fish looking for a new hang out and you would be surprised how quickly they will find it and make it your home. You may have to catch ten fish to catch some good guardians, but it's a good bite and a funny bite as you move from one blow to another. Live bait under a float and your favorite templates are working fine. Go to Baits for this week. Small fish minnows on the four-pound test line under small floats thrown under springs or over brush will give you the bite you are looking for. Tilting a template with a small fish is also working. Popeye Jigs are doing the job right now and if you slowly fish in deeper brush piles that will produce the bite you are looking for. I will share a secret for fishing this template later in the year as the water gets much colder so stay tuned and I will let you know when this idea starts working. Give Captain Mack a call and order a good deal from Crappie Country Jigs or by Lake Hartwell Fish and Marine and choose a good selection from its large collection of colors and sizes. They come in some crappie killer colors and will produce some good fish. Graphics by Humminbird Solix or Helix and Minn Kota Trolling Motors. These graphics have top side images and descending images and are worth every penny if to locate Crappie. You have to find them to catch them and Hummingbird gives you that ability. Wishing them all narrow lines and good fishing! Rick Owen – Hartwell Lake Professional Fishing Guide (Ret.) ScDNR certified fishing instruction.
