Squire to many of his friends, was born April 11, 1939. As a child, his family lived originally in the 14th Street neighborhood before moving to Historic Revnoldstown. He had fond memories of walking to school, playing with friends and mock funeral processions with his brother. John Thomas, with their wagons and bicycles. He graduated from Atkins High School in 1956. His mother, an education advocate, refused to sign for the 17-year-old to join her and encouraged him to go to college. He enrolled at Lincoln University in Pennsylvania along with his best friend Curtiss Todd. Clark Jr. later returned to North Carolina and attended NC Agriculture & College before graduating from the Atlanta College of Mortuary Science in 1961. After graduation, Clark Jr. ioined his father as a licensed embalmer and funeral director of the family company. He often spoke of many times that he struggled with cases at first. He received advice from the family company.
several experienced colleagues. Madison Epperson, whom he highly regarded. Never enjoying himself as a front person. Clark preferred to keep the embalming guiet behind the scenes and spent almost 59 years perfecting his craft which brought great comfort and closure to hundreds of families. Clark believed in hard work. In addition, to work in the family business, he traded embalming for other companies and spent more than 20 years at Stroh Brewery, a former Schlitz brewery. He retired 1996. In Stroh Brewery in 2001, Clark S. Brown, S. Brown, Sr. died, and Clark Jr. became CEO of Clark S. Brown & Sons, Inc. His primary purpose was to continue to provide service to families who served nearly 73 years in the business, not forget their father's dream and secure a job for the third generation and beyond. Clark instilled the same values conveyed by his father: service, hard work, dedication, and treating people fairly and fairly. He was extremely proud when his eldest grandchild became the fourth generation licensed funeral director. She left this life peacefully on Monday, February 10, 2020. Ms Butler was a lifelong resident of the city and had lived in the Morningside Manor Community for 51 years. She was a faithful member of the Apostolic Church of Emmanuel until her health declined. She loved the Lord and was a woman of faith who trusted God. Her favorite bible verse was Psalm 23. Mrs Butler was the matriarch of her family, their Queen E and the Star. By nature, she was a housewife and caregiver and through her selfless acts of kindness and love touched many lives. That love and kindness transcends her close family. She was a mother to a lot of people. She loved to paint, knit, cook and enjoy life by giving it away. She was married to Isaac M. Butler Jr., who preceded her death. Her stepmother Lois H. Thacker also preceded her death; two sons, Elbert Thacker, Sr. and Michael Ronald Thacker; her son-in-law, Fred Wilson, and great-grand man, Jalen Yates. Mrs Butler was precious and loved by many in her congregation, the church family, the jewel full of life. She leaves to celebrate her legacy and the legacy of her family, two sons: Anthony C. Thacker and Gregory M. Butler, Sr.; one daughter, Carol Wilson; fourteen great-grandchildren; special aunt, Gloria Fulton; many nieces, nephews, relatives, other relatives and friends. The funeral service will be held at 1pm,

She was educated at Winston-Salem Forsyth County schools, graduating early from Atkins High School to help her mother support the family unit while Rev. Hairston passed tuberculosis in her early teens. As she helped support her family in her youth, she continued to do so over and over again as an adult. Her heart was big and her arms were wide in a large family. It was a solid rock and held on tight. As several of her sisters moved to the northern states, she joined her mother, Bessie (Muah), in motherhood several of her nieces and nephews as her own. It has even adopted many nieces and nephews as her sisters became members of heavenly quorum. She had the honor, but he generously shared it with all of us because when she loved you, you knew it. She looked forward to every Hairston family reunion as if it were her first. She loved God with all her heart and soul. There was no doubting both her love for st. John CME where she was long a star member, previous chairman of the Board of Pastors, member of the Board of Directors and senior member of the guorum. Her presence will be missed for many seasons to come as she has left a powerful powerful legacy of faith. Her favorite pastime was reading the Holy Bible and seeing both the Wheel of Fortune and Danger, and loving her family both formally and extendedly. At 84, she retired several times from the following institutions; Hanes Hosiery/ Administrative Assistant; Moravia Home / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant; In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care Assistant (In home care Home Health Aide / Certified Care As

Patricia Myers Garrett was the second child to give birth to the Reverends Royace and Elnora Myers on May 19, 1951. Her deaths were preceded by her parents and two brothers, Royace A. and Bradford Myers. During elementary school, Patricia lived in East Bend and attended Yadkin High School, and after moving to Winston-Salem, attended Atkins High School. Patricia worked as a manager for Salem Apartments and then worked as a supervisor at Aramark Custodial Services for several years until her health declined. Patricia loved to cook and feed her friends and neighbors, and they named her Mama Pat and young and old in her community. She had a great sense of humor and a very sharp memory. She'd often say, I don't forget anything. She was a nanny to her siblings and loved her family. He goes to cheroounce his memories of three brothers. Michael W. Myers, Russell C. (Alice) Myers, Radford (Patricia) Myers, and one sister. Roslyn (Odell) Jones, all Winston-Salem, NC, as well as a multitude of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, relatives and friends. Special thanks to Belinda Parker for being a dear friend and carer. Home. The family will greet friends 30 minutes before mass. Interment at Evergreen Cemetery. Mrs Caroline Oswald Tisdell, affectionately known as (T-Caro, Small Ma, Grand Ma, Mama, Teacher Caroline) was born to the late Hermann Augustus Oswald and the late Sophronie Beatrice King Howard in the then small town of Marshall, now Marshall City, Margibi County, Liberia, West Africa. She was the union's only child. She accepted the Lord at a very early age and spent her life serving the Lord. At the age of 18, T-Caro moved to Paynesville and joined the Martha Tubman United Methodist Church where she remained and served faithfully until her departure for the United States in 1995. She was one of the few to join their pastor, the late William Ross and tow sand and cement, and worked hard to help change the structure from zinc circle to semi-concrete. Mother Caroline remained faithful regardless of who the bishop assigned to the church as pastor. She has always expressed that her ministry and faith are not to man, but to God who created it in his image and likeness, and in the beauty of Hiss Holiness. Precious to her heart served as the sexton of the church, and a quorum member even if she had to be solicious to sing it He will not hesitate to put on a dress with both majesty and the power to shine as if heaven were collapsing. Mother Tisdell was very instrumental in forming several ministries/wards in the church. She was a staunch instigator of the Tubman UMC women who motivated them to join the Monrovia County Conference in 1968. Her service in Monrovia County earned her the honor as District Mother Tisdell, Jr., and Oretha Tisdell. Twenty-seven grandchildren, fifty-four great-grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren, and a multitude of relatives and friends in the US, Liberia, Sierra Leone, Nigeria and the United Kingdom. Little Ma was pre-empted by her husband, Charlie Tisdell, her father, Hermann Augustus Oswald, her mother Sophronia Beatrice King Howard; six children: Hermann Minor, Frances Minor, Georgia Outland, Buster Flood (Margaret), Ivan Outland and Alfred Outland, Earlier Tuesday afternoon, December 3, 2019, at oak forest Health and Rehabilitation Center, Winston-Salem, NC, The Master and The Creator named another name for the villa in glory, and Caroline Elizabeth Oswald Tisdell answered the call. The funeral service will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, December 14, 2019 at Goler Memorial Gardens Mrs. Caroline Cunningham LeftwichNovember 27, 2019 Caroline was born on September 3, 1932 in Lockland, Ohio, to the late Louis Washington and Alice Ivery Cunningham. She graduated from Kimball High School in 1951, where she was a drum majorette and met her future husband, Charles Edward Leftwich. After graduation, she worked at Grace Hospital in Welch, and for E.F. Fields, president of Cincinnati Gas and Electric. She was proud to help her brothers George and Matt get a job at a company where they were both lifelong employees. With West Virginia wildflowers in hand, she and Charles married on March 21, 1957 in the living room of her mother-in-law in Kimball, West Virginia. Their union lasted 54 years until his death in 2011 and spawned four children. As a military woman, she's used to low wages and long hours. She travelled around the world and enjoyed living in San Juan, Puerto Rico and Athens, Greece. She loved to travel and her trip to the World Lands was one of her most memorable. Throughout her life, she enjoyed volunteering and helping others. During the Vietnam War, many military women had no experience running a household. Caroline taught her circle of friends how to balance budgets, pay bills and drive a car. She also worked in nursing for thirty years and was a dedicated and loving carer. It was a passionate lover of art, music and nature. She was a compassionate and loval mother, and her grandchildren were the song of the heart. She was a competitive bowler, even when she played on Wij with her grandchildren. She volunteered with girl scouts, served as a team mom to countless young baseball, football teams. She loved baking cakes and was known for her five-flavor cake and her homemade waffles were always a hit. She was a lifelong Pittsburgh Steelers fan and loved teasing her beloved husband and dallas cowboy kids whenever the Steelers won and Dallas lost. She accepted Jesus at an early age and was active in her church, the United Metropolitan, for more than thirty years, as a usher, senior quorum member and senior missionaries. She died on Wednesday, November 27, 2019. In addition to her husband, Caroline was preceded in her death by five siblings: Mary Cunningham, Ella Anthony, George Cunningham, Walter Cunningham and Lewis Cunningham, Ella Anthony, George Cunningham, Walter C
(Alex) Scott, Dominique Rhodes, Charles Edward, III, Cameron, Caroline Elizabeth, Cecil Jr., Meredith, Austin Leftwich and McKenna Hayden; two great grandchildren, Xavier Scott and Lauren Thompson; seven siblings: Sallie Haygood, Sara Plummer, Matthew Cunningham, Samson Cunningham, John Cunningham, John Cunningham, III, Cameron, Caroline Elizabeth, Cecil Jr., Meredith, Austin Leftwich and McKenna Hayden; two great grandchildren, Xavier Scott and Lauren Thompson; seven siblings: Sallie Haygood, Sara Plummer, Matthew Cunningham, Samson Cunningham, John Cunningham, III, Cameron, Caroline Elizabeth, Cecil Jr., Meredith, Austin Leftwich and McKenna Hayden; two great grandchildren, Xavier Scott and Lauren Thompson; seven siblings: Sallie Haygood, Sara Plummer, Matthew Cunningham, Samson Cunningham, John Cunningham, III, Cameron, Caroline Elizabeth, Cecil Jr., Meredith, Austin Leftwich and McKenna Hayden; two great grandchildren, Xavier Scott and Lauren Thompson; seven siblings: Sallie Haygood, Sara Plummer, Matthew Cunningham, Samson Cunningham, Sa

December 6, 1938 in Columbus, Ohio. She was the second of three children born to Carl Vernon Teeters and Edith Virginia (Evans) Teeters. She embraced the Christian faith at an early age, attending St John's Evangelical Protestant Church (UCC) on Mound Street (Columbus). She completed her undergraduate studies at Ohio University (Athens, Ohio), and in total earned three master's degrees from Eden Theological Seminary (Webster Groves, Missouri), the City College of New York, and C.W. Post University (Long Island, New York). She spent thirty-five years as a teacher at a New York Public School, faithfully serving generations of children in grades 2 through 6. She occasionally taught night school, served as a school librarian, worked in social services at casita maria neighborhood in East Harlem and briefly served as director of Christian education at a church in St. Louis, Missouri. Marte was a loyal member of Riverside Church in New York for more than forty years; It was recently published in an English-language conversation program, working with immigrant and non-native English speakers who wanted to improve their language skills. She was a member of the Sigma Kappa Sorority, an avid reader and longtime advocate for the spread of literacy, especially among the predominantly black and Latino students she taught in New York. She was a member of the United Federation of Teachers and a strong supporter of organized labor. She loved to travel, lighthouses, whale watching, and spent countless summers in Cape Cod with her family, teaching them that they loved it too. Her life was characterized by her generosity, her courage to brave traditional boundaries of race and class at great personal cost, commitment to marginalised communities and readiness for every good deed when the opportunity arises. She sacrificed herself for others without hesitation and gave herself up without regret. She was also day-to-day engaged all her life, and encouraged both of her children to be so. She was loyal to her family, supporting two generations with her time, talent and treasure. James attended P.S. 18, Clark Junior High School and Benjamin Franklin High School. When he was in high school, he realized that school wasn't special for him, so James then enlisted in the U.S. Army to serve his country! James, also known as Skipper, has experienced many trials and tribulations, just like many of us, in life. The huge difference is that Skipper with his calm, cool and collected personality overcame them all with a big smile on his face and forgiveness in his heart! His parents, Vivian P. Bates and James Benford, along with his older sister, Dietra J. Bates, preceded him in death. James goes to grieve for his beloved wife, Mrs Linda Bates, his daughter Janelle; Son, Marguis; his grandchildren, Mercedes, marguise, Ciera and Jamie; his younger sister, Debra Richardson, younger brother, Russell Bates; and sister-in-law, Michelle (Greg), Yvonne and Nina; together with a multitude of nieces, great nieces and nephews, relatives, other family and friends, who he loved as much as they did! community, and will always be respected. He was a loving son, brother, uncle, father, grandfather and great-grandfather, North Carolina. He was the youngest of middie Sr.'s children and Idelle Glymph. Richard spent most of his childhood with his siblings, Middie Jr. and Dorothy. Richard comes from a very christian family. Together, they faithfully attend church and each year Wednesday. In in their late adolescent years hosted prayer meetings, Richard completed many milestones. The former brass band trumpeting player earned an Atkins High School diploma in 1958. In September of the same year, Richard met the love of his life, Arlene Turner, A year later, on April 7, 1959, the lovebirds united in Holy Marriage. Their union produced five beloved children. Richard was a well-known figure in Winston-Salem. The main reason for this was his employment with Safe Bus, the largest black-owned trucking company in the world, as a driver. During his tenure on Safe Bus, the began to familiarize himself with members of the Boston section of Winston-Salem and abroad, even providing members with free rides and service for seniors at the front door. Richard continued his hard work at Wesley Business Forms in the shipping department, where he later retired in 2001. Cars was one of Richard's talents. He enjoyed building a model car with his wife, and would also usually find himself in his driveway, working on his vehicles. Another passion of his was working in the funeral business. He became attached to the dead and comforting families in grief. Richard meant the most to his family. As a father and husband, Richard often took his family to the racetrack.
Wrestling matches. He was a conservative but often comic relief to his loved ones. He affectionately had a nickname for everyone, especially his family, and they fought back. Richard is preceded in death by his parents Middie D. Glymph Sr. and Idella (Stevenson); Brother

17, 1944 in Atlanta, Georgia, and was preceded in death by parents Nelson McKay and Dorothy Norwood McKay. She graduated from L. J. Price High School in 1962 and attended for three years at Clark Atlanta University. While attending Clark University, Doris met her husband, Ronald Jinks, who attended nearby Morehouse College. By her silent example, she led him to the Lord as they walked. They married on January 8, 1966 and spent many years together traveling across the country and around the world. Of the 32 countries they visited, some of her favorite places were Paris, France, London, England, the Baltic Sea cruise that took them to Russia, Oslo, Norway. They also lived in Indianapolis, Indiana, Sacramento, California, Toronto, Ontario, Montreal, Quebec and Dallas, Texas, before retiring to Winston Salem, North Carolina. As wife and mother, enjoyed caring for her family. Doris was an excellent cook and hostess until her children reached their teenage years, and family seating dinners were standard every night. When her children became more independent, she then turned her attention to becoming a skilled businesswoman; starting and managing Canada's Maid Services – a successful residential and commercial cleaning service – for 15 years. Doris's life in Christ began at an early age at Bible Way Ministries International. In her adult years, she was a member for more than 30 years at The Life Church in Dallas, TX, and more recently at the Central Triad Church in High Point, NC. Doris was an exceptional singer and loved to glorify God in song. Over the years, she taught Sunday School, the Bible's rest school, and opened her home many times to host church members. Doris loved to host, and her love for people was most often felt in those times. Her favorite thing was to be with her family and especially her grandchildren. She expressed pride in their every achievement and was not ashamed to give them life advice and how they should strive to do their best. Her primary hobby was crocheting, which she spent hours working; she's always planning the next item to be made for a family member when she's barely started the project she's been working on. She was in a relationship with a crocheted group in the church—following her own advice to do her best. Doris is survived by her beloved husband of 53 years, Ronald Jinks; Children - Rhonda Green, Garland, TX, Nicole Hall (Winston), Winston Salem, NC; Sister - Renita Gray (Harold), Atlanta, GA; Brother - Nathanial Gray

Foster Roscoe Lassiter, 79, of Winston-Salem, NC, son of the late Alexander and Elizabeth Lassiter, was born on November 17, 1939. He left this life on Thursday, April 18, 2019 at the Novant Health Palliative Care Unit. Foster was baptized and joined the United Missionary Baptist Church where he was an active member who served on the Usher Board and men's choir in which he enjoyed immensely. He was also active in the community as a volunteer for meals on wheels which was another act of care he achieved with ease and joy. Foster, affectionately known to friends as Zeke, was educated early in Winston-Salem, NC. He was a member of the prestigious Esquire Junior Club at Atkins High School from where he graduated in 1958. Foster continued his education at Winston-Salem Teachers College where he participated in the band as a bass drummer, played cymbals and met his wife, Shelda Jean Hardy. He was drafted into the U.S. Army during his third year of college where he served honorably for four years. Foster believed in honoring God, working hard and presenting his best self forward in every and opportunity, that's what he continuously showed his daughter and grandchildren. On December 31, 1962, Foster was united in his holy marriage to Shelda Jean Hardy. They were blessed with one daughter, Cassandria (Sandy) LaVette. Foster was a loyal employee at the tobacco company R. J. Reynolds where he received numerous awards and accolades during his tenure before retiring in 1995. He was also part owner of TWM Services that swirled with food. He'd always see a familiar face wherever he went. He enjoyed having fun, cooking, playing golf and fellowship with family and friends. Loved and loved by many, always fair to everything they will encounter during their time here on earth. Never complaining about life's hardships, but instead taking every opportunity to teach and teach others, especially his child and grandchildren, about a better way to do it. Foster lived life to the fullest, truly loved his family and was a terrible example of how to live a productive, resourceful, successful journey filled with faith while he was here with us. Foster is survived by his loyal daughter of Cassandria LaVette Reich (Terry); two granddaughters -Terra Michelle Beale and Sireyia Renee' Beale;

He was born in Winston-Salem, NC on July 23, 1923. Growing up Donald went by many nicknames including Bubblegum, because of his thick jaws, and as a young man, D.J. Rhodes. He was educated in the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County school system before spending several dedicated years as an employee of Sara Lee, where he retired at age 62. Donald was a loyal servant of the Lord and enjoyed being an active member of the Church of God's Stokesdale. He drove in a church van to pick up many of the neighborhood kids every Sunday morning, always dressed on his best Sundays, sharper than a Philadelphia lawyer. When he wasn't in church, Donald was a lot. handing out kool-aid pops and snacks to those same kids who affectionately referred to him as Mr Rhodes. His favorite call of all was a family man. Husband, father and grandfather, or as his grandchildren would say, Dad. He loved blessing his family with summer vacations at Walt Disney World, Universal Studios and Myrtle Beach, among many other places. He always said if he hadn't gone on all those trips, he'd be half a millionaire today! His generosity stretched far and wide, and his love for his family was always unconditional. Also unconditional was his infinite love for the Washington Redskins, New York Yankees and Boston Celtics. As a young adult, Donald enjoyed playing baseball for the RJR team. For Donald, love knew no bounds. He was preceded in death by his parents and brother, Richard Harding of Dumfries, VA. Wilhelmenu Gaynelle Brown called Lash God home, while resting comfortably at home surrounded by family. She was born on October 9, 1921 to the late Thomas Jefferson Brown. She was the youngest of four siblings: Thomas Leon Brown, Macie Elizabeth Brown and Eldridge (Charles) Alphonso Brown. The importance of quality education is imprinted on her at an early age. Both parents graduated from Shaw University in Raleigh. Her father taught, was a postmaster and actively funded for Winston-Salem Teacher's College (Winston-Salem State University) for nearly 70 years. So it's no surprise that Wilhelmena was born in College campus dispensaries. After graduated from Atkins High School when she was a member of the school's first cheerleading team and was a brilliant student. She completed her studies for 3 years, and in 1940 she graduated from the University of Zagreb. Influenced by her aunt Mable Faison Carter, a temple university graduate in Philadelphia, she received her master's degree in librarianship from North Carolina Central University in 1947. After graduation, she began her teaching career at Caswell County Schools in Yancevville, NC. In addition to teaching duties, she was a saxophonist in a traveling college band. This is where she met the love of her life, David Lee Lish, Sr. They married on April 11, 1943 and moved to Winston-Salem, where she worked as a librarian for the next 43 years at Kimberly Park Elementary School.
Paisley Jr. High, Glenn Jr. High and Moore. Wilhelmena became a lifelong member of the First Baptist Church at the age of 12 in 1933. Her parents learned that a personal relationship with Jesus Christ was an integral part of success and that the Church family kept her on the path. Through Sunday school classes, a senior choir, missionary meetings, and the Women's Service Council have been active for 84 years and were recently honored as the longest-serving member of the First Baptist Church. Wilhelmena joined the Phi Omega Grad chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. In 1946. She was recognised as the Golden Soror in 1996 and remained active in nursing until the end. She never understood what retirement meant. After her teaching career, she remained active in the Community of the First Baptist Church and volunteered at the Carver School Road Branch Library and other engagements. Her love of learning and sports and her wonderful sense of humor were powerful threads throughout her life and affected many people. She was a faithful friend, loving wife, sister and active and welcome participant in the lives, decisions and achievements of her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She is preceded in death by husband David

Gregg McDaniel, loving and caring mother, grandmother, aunt and friend, heard the voice of God and answered the call on Saturday, September 16, 2017, at Wake Forest Baptist Center, after an extended illness. Surrounded by family and friends, she went from humane work to rewarding, since her legacy lives on in the lives of many she touched and was forever graced by her presence. Affectionately known to all who knew and loved her as a number, the preacher's wife – a caring, cheerful and vibrant personality, she could fill the room with happiness and bring smiles and delight to even a distant stranger. An excellent chef and culinary expert, she enjoyed family gatherings and always supported numerous special events and family celebrations! She was born on April 1, 1939 in Bishopville, South Carolina, in the union of the late Mr. Murry Gregg and Mrs. Fostwenie Scarborough Gregg. She was educated at Lee County Public Schools, where she learned the value of education and cultivated an environment of high expectations for education and christian environment and joined New Zion AME Church in Wisacky, South Carolina, at an early age. As God put it, she was later united in marriage with her soul mate, the Rev. Joseph L. McDaniel, the elder who preceded her in death. The minister's wife, and alongside her husband, joined in and became first lady at New Hope Baptist Church in Badin, North Carolina, where she served with admiration until her husband's death in 1995. A devout Christian and true believer in Christ, she continued her Christian pilorimage and joined the Union Baptist Church, founded by her husband's uncle, the late Dr. Abraham H. McDaniel, of Winston Salem. While there, she served as an active member of choir A H McDaniel until her health began to decline. A devoted and devoted wife, mother and first lady, she devoted most of her life as a quardian to her children, family and home. Prior to that, she worked diligently for many years as a case manager for the Agency for Experience of Self-Reliance, and additionally worked part-time at the Ace Clothing Store as a sales representative. A charming and addictive personality, she was praised and recognized for her exemplary and outstanding customer service skills. A true matriarch, she loved her. and especially enjoyed spending quality time with her grandchildren. In addition to her husband's death, she was preceded in death by two sons, Richard Gregg; Joseph McDaniel, Jr.; and one son-in-law, Grover Shields. He goes to appreciate fond memories, two sons, Curtis Gregg and Thomas (LaToya) McDaniel of the city, Brenda Shields of College Park, Georgia; seventeen Jolee Rush was born in Winston-Salem, NC on March 14, 2012, matthew and Joie Colvard Rush Tatyana not only fought a good fight, fought bravely and heroically, until the very end. She was diagnosed with brain cancer at 18 months, endured brain surgery, countless invasive procedures and two years of chemotherapy, always with a smile on her face and a high five for everyone. Regardless of the pain she was in, Tatyana was always ready for an exciting game of patty cake, especially with her Nana, Brenda Rush. When doctors declared her incurable and said she only had a few weeks left or a few months at most, they failed to consult With Tatyana. She had other ideas and got on with her life, attending school at the Children's Center and a half. In all this time, as she weaved pain that would bring a fully grown person to their knees and with barely crying or even whining, she fought bravely and gracefully.. But now, she has found peace and our loss is heavenly On the 25th day of April 2017, our precious little Tatyana Jolee Rush got wings. Her big carring heart went out with love, and everyone who met her claimed her as his own, often referred to many as another mom.

She had a contagious smile that would make you feel like everything was going to be okay. She was a very reassuring woman. She would always be. Her passions were cooking and music. She loved cooking big meals and dancing to good music especially Marvin Gaye. She enjoyed the simple things in life such as family and the sounds of laughter from people having a good time. Although she was a sweet woman, she also had a feisiness towards her that kept her strong and determined to live life to the fullest. She was a fighter. No matter what challenges she faced, or problems that seemed difficult, she had a way of showing with her challenges and her problems that God was greater, and he would do so in her favor. She was a perfect example of a strong woman. Her deaths were preceded by husband James Earl Mickle, her brother Rocky Maynard Ramey and step daughter Traci Meredith Banks. Rita leaves behind to cherish her memories of her mother, Rosa B Ramey; her daughter, Jamie Earlene Mickle, and stepdad Sandra Mickle; 7 brothers: James C. Ramey, Robert Tyrone Ramey, Robert Carl Ramey, Kenneth Leroy Ramey, Ora was born of the late Silas and Albertina. Smith in Mooresville, North Carolina on April 24, 1918. Early Christian education began at Watkins Chapel AME Zion Church in Mooresville. She married her childhood sweetheart, Arthur Shepherd, and in that alliance they were blessed with the birth of a little girl, Mary Lee. Arthur Shepherd was then invited to be Christ's minister at 36th and Garland Avenue in Louisville, KY, and the couple moved to that city. At the time of his death in 1982, the couple had been married for more than 46 years. In 1988, Ms. Shepherd moved to Winston-Salem, North Carolina. The move allowed her to live closer to her daughter, Mary Lee (Cloys) Cecil, and grandchildren. Her new hometown also offered a warm and welcoming Christian fellowship that she found as a member of Christ Carver Road Church She enjoyed hobbies of cooking, fishing, crocheting, gardening and writing poetry. Maggie was a devoted daughter, wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, great-grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, aunt and most importantly for her was to be a member of Christ and His example;
