The reader continued to ground Percy until PTSD decreased and took himself to act as an anchor or sort. A/N: I was so distracted to know that it took me a few hours to write this bc. Anyway here's this, and Sorry, towards the end I lost sight of the plot. Oops. - Day_____ It been more than a week since his last nightmare. A new record. At first, he refused to sleep for fear that he would have to re-experience the experience again in his dreams. Of course, he couldn't keep up forever, and four days after fighting fatigue, he came back. He could taste the air of acid every time he breathed a tremendous breath, and the waves of sorrow from the Kositus River firmly caught him and dug up the repressed emotions and recolled. He stood on shattered glass on the shore, and his shoulders overlapped when the panic calmed down. He glanced around to find his support in all this, but saw nothing but angry red clouds and an endless gray landscape. Annabeth? And it was cracked. I'm riding it. But I'm sorry because it might take some time, I'm just going through some personal right now, but I promise to try and crank it out as soon as possible. Sorry again for the inconvenience, but ♥️ve been going through it a little lately, I'm kinda having a hard time. I'm working hard to complete the request and I'm sorry, but they're taking so long. I apologize from the bottom of my heart. I love and appreciate you guys so much, soon I hope to see Ya :) Percy: Walk on the sidewalk, don't step on the cracks, break your mother's back!! Piper: Walking on the sidewalk. Piper: Looking into Percy's eyes while repeatedly stepping on the crack asked anonymously: How do you feel about people who are big three children? I feel deeply that I am the daughter of a star (Romans because of my life), but I always feel stupid and clichis, but to be honest, I don't think it's a clichil because you need to remember what you know best. If you really think you're going to be a Nebulusan child, you're probably. There is certainly a possibility that they have a bunch of Demi god's children because the big three are ordinary Olympians (kind of) and they are toying with the dead too. I originally wrote this one for another ship, but I think it works really well here. Enjoy, feel free to send me feedback or ask for future ficks! My eyes closed and I stopped breathing. The storm raged outside, thundered, and rained on the roof. Her best friend, Naomi,By her side, holding Sally's new boy and holding back her tears. Sally didn't mean to die like this because of her birth. This baby should not have grown up without his parents. He stretched out his chubby arms for his mother's warm embrace and never knew the fact that he would never come. Her husband had disappeared a while ago, so she would not have been missed by him. Her contribution was not lost because she did not work. But Naomi would miss her, and her son would grow up losing her. Sally said her name was Perseus, so she did. Naomi hugged him tightly and was completely at odds. All she wanted was to take the baby home and raise it like herself, but Naomi had her new son at home and couldn't afford to have both. She had no choice, if she wanted him to have a shot that survives, you must give him to the orphanage. But still she wasn't sure of him. So for now, she just hugged him. February 23, 1944 Percy loved snow. He loved to see delicate white flakes dancing through the cold air. He loved to see his breath swell in the flowing white clouds. Winter was an adventure for the green-eyed boy. He laughed as he ran through the snow, and the little boots left prints on the white ground. He paused and looked up at the sky and grinned when someone called his name. He turned on his heels to see his friend Luke, who was practically his brother, smiling at him. The snowball crashed into Percy's face before he registered what had happened. After he won the cold, he plummeted to make his own snowball, laughing, and chucked it back into Luke's face. Other children from the orphanage noticed the fun and raced outside to participate. Within 15 minutes, a massive snowman war broke out, and dozens of children threw cool spheres at each other. I filled the field with laughter, and despite the cold nipping on my nose, everyone's cheeks were rosy and warm. Percy slumped towards the tree, showed a bright smile on his face, and panted around from the run. His chest stood up and fell steadily, seeing the wonderful confusion he had created. His eyes scanned a group of children and were happy thanks to him. He glanced at the sky again and spread his smile a little. Mom, are you proud of me? he asked. He knew there was no verbal reaction, but Percy liked to think she could hear his voice. Keep reading okay! I'm riding it! and thank you for the birthday wishes :))) and I feel a little jarcy at the moment. For example, I am a child of Hermes, and I know it. I always have it. And hey, if you want help, you can always give a little self-description and I'll be happy to help! Angelo x Will Solus Soldier! Will AUWord Count: 1085 (Buckle Up People) A/N: So I decided to make this as if Solangelo was just a couple of humans. I really hope y'all enjoy! Will was supposed to disappear. A typical six-month development and he came home. Nico should have known better. When he woke up that morning, Will was sleeping in a bunker far away, so the bed was cold and half empty as usual. He pressed a smile on his face as he promised Will, and slowly stood up towards the calendar. When he saw the date covered with X, his smile shook. Nico sat on the dresser beside him, grabbed a pen, and crossed another date. He always knew that dating a soldier would not be easy, in fact, Will was trying to warn him that it was not good and he must keep his distance. But we both knew that there was nothing to stop us from loving each other. Will didn't go five months longer than he thought. I was scared every day when Nico checked her e-mail. He was afraid that in a small snooze there would be a letter saying that his beloved would never come home. But the letter didn't come. The letter that came was from Will, who told him about his adventures, his fears, his thoughts, and how much he had missed him. They used to come in bunches, but the letters they sent every day were away, but now they come every week or so. Nico knew he should thank them, but somehow he couldn't help feeling like he was losing Will. When Nico entered the kitchen, the sound of his feet lying on the tile floor felt empty in the room as usual. Nico swallowed a little sooth, as the thoughts of the man he wanted stood in the kitchen. Tears filled his dark eyes. He looked around the kitchen and saw Will standing by the stove, not wearing a shirt, whistling a cheerful song while making breakfast. If he thought hard enough, he could even feel Will wrap his strong arms around him and pull him into a tight hug. Nico shook her head. This was not healthy, he had to distract him. The Italian walked to the refrigerator, opened it and pulled it. He frowned atShortage of food inside. His stomach noded. yes, yes, I'm going to buy groceries, he said as he walked back to his room. When I got dressed, I grabbed the key and went out of the apartment. Within a few minutes, Nico got in his car and was on his way to the grocery store. When he walked in, he said, Donate to our men and women abroad! I noticed one of the boxes. He felt his heart falling fast, but he fell a few dollars. He did this every time. He walked through the store, picked up some of the food he could eat the following week, and when he was done, he went back to his car and went home by car. It took too long to get to his apartment on the seventh floor by elevator, and Nico's arm grew tired from a heavy grocery bag. The elevator door immediately opened to take him down, and as he walked to the door, he heard a shuffle coming from inside. He narrowed his eyes and pressed his ears thy doors. He was doing something with will's, someone there listening! The shuffle has stopped. Nico's heart races, he doesn't know what to find inside. In response to his better judgment, Nico pushed the door open and quietly stepped inside. He quietly closed the back door and was a few steps behind the apartment. Someone screamed and the poor Italian screamed and dropped all of his groceries! Jesus, will! Don't frighten me like that! He stepped into the room one more step and then froze. The <a0>T:System He turned around slowly and was there. He stands tall, with golden keys hanging past his chin, and his blue eyes mingle in the sunlight pouring down from the window. Nico's breath turned upside down, tears took over him, he plunged into Will, and he easily caught him and hugged him in his chest. Nico wrapped his arm around Will's neck and his leg around his waist. He buried his face around Will's neck and somed his hands out. Will's eyes were now full of tears, his nose pressed thyme into Nico's hair, and he had a scent that he had missed for 11 months. She gently rubs the little boy's back and whispers, It's okay, Sunshine. s and I'm home now and don't cry, but he wasn't exactly sure who he was trying to stop crying. Through the foggy eyes, Will walked them to the sofa, sat down slowly, and adjusted Nico on his lap. Pull Nico back a little to meet his eyes. Nico's chocolate eyes took his breath away, and they always did. Sure, they were red, weeping and swollen, but he didn't stop surprised Will with his beauty. Nico stared at him, took in green spots in his blue eyes, and stared at how long his hair had become, with all the freckles dotted with tanned faces. He immediately pressed Will's lips and put his neck close. The <a0>It was a good feeling to kiss him for a long time. The blonde pulled back and rested her forehead against Nico's forehead. I missed you, Sunshine, he whispered. God, I missed you too. S-so a lot, Nico said. I'm at home now. Long hair Nico smiled Do you like it? I love you and kissed Nico's nose gently and smiled. Will's heart stopped for a moment. Was this real? W-what, he managed. I said I was going to marry me, said Nico, who put her head on Will's shoulder. Yes, God, yes. One billion times yes! Nico smiled and pressed a soft kiss on Will's chin. Will's face was shining with pure joy, smiling at the perfect man in his arms. He sniffed with laughter among the little soes. After Nico kissed her cheeks, she wiped away tears with her thumb and wiped some lost tears that fell on her face. It's okay, Mio's fine, Nico said. And the two of us are not going anywhere. Until now, Will said to him. Do you know what I really want? Well, when I look at this, I'm literally at a standst at this idea as I'm riding on it right now. See more in the app
