Providers interested in learn more about the Illinois Quality Counts (QRS) may participate in a free QRS guidance offered by their local Child Care Resources and Referrals (CCR&R) agency or available online. The guidance covered eligibility requirements, the application process, and available supports and resources. Prospective applicants had to attend this session before submitting an application. Training on evaluation scales was also required prior to implementation. Training was required on the classification scales of the environment prior to application at any star level. Business Administration Scale (BAS) training was required if star level 3 or 4 was requested. Both trainings were offered by the local CCR&R agency at a cost of $15 per session of 3 to 4 hours. Prior to applying to ExceleRate Illinois, licensed child care centers needed to complete ExceleRate Illinois' free 2-hour Guidance, in addition to other training depending on the Quality Circle they chose to prepare and achieve. The guidance covered ExceleRate Illinois cross-sectoral standards, eligibility requirements, application process, and available supports and resources. All licensed centers were recognized in the Licensed Circle of Quality, the fundamental level of quality of the system. The Bronze Quality Circle focused on training around quality practices. Quality Silver and Gold Circles focused on continuous quality improvement and quality assessment. Fit Small Business content and reviews are editorially independent. This article is part of a larger series on real estate Agents.As a single licensed state, Illinois only provides real estate broker licenses. To get a license, you must complete 75 hours of classes and pass the real estate broker exam. While there are many options to choose from to meet this requirement, we carefully select the top six real estate schools in Illinois based on a variety of learning needs and styles. Real Estate Express: (Best overall) For students looking for affordable, high-quality course content and accessible Kaplan instructors: A great choice for newer agents looking for professional coaching and mentoring Real Estate Institute: Best for real estate professionals looking for a quick Inland Real Estate School option: A better choice for runners who prefer learning in a live classroom from Illinois Real Estate School : What for those who need guaranteed employment after the completion of the Mbition course: The best for people looking for unique classes instead of online real estate course packages can provide Illinois brokers with the necessary prelicense, post-license, exam preparation, and continuing education credits through the web or mobile app. Take our Illinois online real estate school quiz to decide the best education provider for you. Answer a few questions about your business and we'll give you a personalized product match How we evaluate the best real estate schools in Illinois Some aspiring real estate professionals are looking for live classroom instruction, while others are more concerned about cost. Others might be looking for online courses that can be completed at their own pace or fast schools that will speed up the process. Therefore, to determine the best real estate school in Illinois, we consider factors such as price, course offerings, and customer reviews. After analyzing these six real estate schools in Illinois, we determined that, with a score of 4.09 out of 5, Real Estate Express is the best overall choice. It's the most affordable option by far, and the school gives students easy access to instructors when additional help is needed with a topic. Here are the criteria we use to evaluate the best real estate school in Illinois: The price of 90 hours of prelicense courses varies greatly. We take into account the cost when choosing our top six schools. We looked for the most affordable options that also offered the highest value. We focus primarily on schools that offer the prelicense courses needed to become a real estate agent. However, real estate schools in Illinois can offer other things, such as exam preparation, first-time renewals, continuing education, and professional development. That's why we're also looking for schools that offered multiple types of courses, as well as those that excelled in a single type of education. Online schools make it easy to start a new career or qualify to maintain an existing license from the comfort of your home. However, some find it difficult to keep up with their work without report cards or set schedules, so we looked for schools that offered tools to help you manage your process and save notes. We also compared how long each school allowed students to access course materials. While some prefer the comfort that comes from taking an online class, others prefer to work with instructors in a traditional classroom setting. Therefore, our list includes both options. We also include additional features, such as free test preparation materials and assistance in finding a management broker. It's important to know that help is available when you need it, so we investigate the availability of customer service for each real estate school. We also compare which channels are available for help understanding course content, as well as the hours of support available at each school. We consider the outstanding characteristics of each supplier in order to determine which schools offered the best value for money. In addition, while no company can please everyone, we also place a high emphasis on customer reviews in order to better highlight the features that users love and a general usability, while paying attention to the issues raised by previous students and negative comments. *Percentages of the overall score Real Estate Express Best Overall Illinois Real Estate School PROS Easy-to-use interface Wide variety of courses and package options Customer service responds quickly CONS No video or audio components No in-person courses Overall score 4.095 QUALIFICATION CRITERIA Prices 2.75 OUT OF 5 Course Offers 5.00 OUT OF 5 Course Formats 4.25 OUT OF 5 Study Aids & Access 5.00 OUT OF 5 Help & Support 3.50 OUT OF 5 Expert Score 4.38 OUT OF 5 Real Estate Express is a national online real estate education provider that offers all kinds of education, including pre-licence packages and continuing education.
