Darrow created a very interesting game called Monopoly (board game). In the mean time, the United States was in line with the economic crisis. Like many others, Charles is unemployed. So, he uses this game to kill time with his friends. This game quickly created a fever at that time. With the help of a print shop, Charles sold up to 5000 sets of board games to department stores in his town. The wave of board games has not stopped in Germantown. Once everyone noticed it, Darrow couldn't deliver the entire order, so he decided to sell his game to Parker Brothers. Not only the United States, but also western countries love this real estate business game. During its development of about 100 years, Monopoly has been sold in more than 80 countries and translated into 16 different languages. How many Monopoly players are there? If there are only two players on the chessboard, the game does not encourage two players because it makes the game less competitive. Some features, such as auctions, are only attractive if you have four or more players. When either player makes good moves or good luck, chances are few for the other. I think monopoly is a lot of fun when you have about four or six players. At the time, each player's role was very even. When some players win, there is a lot of activity for the rest of the players. 8 is the maximum number of Monopoly players. With eight players, there's a lot of interesting stuff in the game as well. But you have to spend more time waiting for other players to complete their turns. To overcome this, the game has a lot of activity for you while other players are moving. The set of gameplay Monopoly board games includes the following 2 dice. A token of an animal, train, or something. They represent the players on the board. Money .32 House.12 Hotel. Chance. Land use paper. Monopoly's gameplay is not much different from real board games. First, shake the phone to pour two dice, then make your moves on the board (clockwise). Basically, if you move to an empty box, you can pay the bank to own it. If another player borrows the plotland, you have to pay for it. If you refuse to buy a vacant lot, it will be auctioned off by your bank. All players on board can participate, including players who refuse to buy land. Finally, if a player goes bankrupt, he or she loses and is eliminated from the game. The winning player is the player who bankrupts the other player. If the game run out of time, the richest player wins. In addition to boxes where you can buy or rent land, there are special boxes such as chances and community chests. If you are lucky, you can get money from the bank. But otherwise, you too will go to jail. No need to worry! You don't lose just because you're in jail, you just sit in a certain round and watch other players move. You can participate in a number of activities such as land leasing, auctions, etc. while you are still in prison. Rules customized monopoly rules have been popular for about 100 years and for a very long time. So, some rules allow players to feel bored! Monopoly offers a mode that allows you to edit some rules, such as customizing the number of rounds you have to go to jail or skipping some cells. Mode Currently, Monopoly offers two modes, such as playing with AI and playing with other online players. AI in the game is not easy to beat, they are a real challenge for players. You need to have the perfect business strategy to beat them. If you are away from home and want to join a monopoly with your family on weekends? The game allows you to create your own room and invite your friends and family. Graphics Monopoly simulates a beautiful 3D city instead of a photo on paper like a real-life board game set. The effects and sounds are very smooth and provide the best experience. Exclusive MOD APK Version MOD Feature Exclusive Cost $4.99. You can get the original APK version for free.
