If you're not sure whether hot Wheels 1970 Coast Bombs are more valuable if surfboards are installed on the sidelines or sticking in the back window, don't ask for more money for either of them. The more cruel your honest with yourself, the less likely you are to be fooled by your own dreams and assumptions. After all, men can rely on the cheer of their mark. 2 Fully Motorcycle Helmet 47 states and the District of Columbia require at least some motorcyclists and scooter pilots to wear helmets. If you ride on two powerful wheels, you will need a lid, and it may as well be a functioning helmet. Problem with Craigslist buying: There's no way to surely know if a second-hand helmet will work. Helmets are a one-use technology. Helmet shells and padding are designed to destroy themselves in protecting the wearer's head in the collision. They are not engineered to work twice. Although the helmet looks good after the collision, it should be replaced. Although the helmets have not been involved in the collision, its quality of protection declined over time. Glues, resins, and other materials used in helmet production can affect liner materials, helmet industry standard setter, the Snell Memorial Foundation, its website says: Hair oils, body fluids, and cosmetics, as well as regular 'wear and tear,' all contribute to the deterioration of the helmet. While helmets only sit on shelves for several years, simple exposure to the atmosphere can lead to some adhesives in helmets deteriorating. Beyond all that, the helmet works well when it fits properly. Getting a helmet that just fits your head isn't good enough. And although the helmet looks good, it may not be ready to withstand a second collision. And just because someone on Craigslist says that the helmet is okay or even saying that it's new, it doesn't mean that it is. this can be a matter of life and death. Helmets are not cheap, but they ought to buy new. 3 Used Appliances Division Rebuilding and using the appliance component can save serious money when it's time to set a washing machine, dryer, dishwasher, or range. And there are firms selling and reassuring items. But Craigslist isn't the place to find them. Pulling parts of older equipment is simple. But unless the person knows what he is doing, it's easy to spoil those parts. And that assumes they are still good in the first place. If you fix the appliance, the hassle of pulling things apart and reinstalling it is the greatest cost. Why risk all that by using the cut-off parts of the uncertain circumstances you bought from Craigslist? Buy new sections, or at least get the used parts from places that support them with guarantee. 4 Parts Of Low Carbon Weight Loss Fiber Bkfe Fiber Carbon (or motorcycle or car) part makes them attractive to any rider. But they are expensive, and that makes buying used massively tempting, especially at prices that seem ridiculously low on Craigslist. The problem is that carbon fiber, a very powerful miracle material, is not easy to check for damage. Dings, dents, and fibers split all the wearable signs, but those anxieties are shallow. What you really ought to worry about is a crack that develops in a tube section that's almost impossible to see. And it's easy to overlook the early signs of delamination. Intensive examination and flex testing can take some risks from buying parts of the carbon fibers. With decorative carbon fiber items, such as dashboard trims, their structural integrity doesn't matter at all. But when parts of the carbon fibers fail, they fail quickly and often disaster. Knowing the source and history of the carbon fiber part is your best assurance that a piece can take consumption pressure. Buying Craigslist means that resources can be iffy and historical fiction. 5 Baby Car Seat You will put your newborn into something you bought from Craigslist? come on. Baby car seats are not just for toting children, they are to keep their children safe in an accident. Like a motorcycle helmet, the car seat is subject to deterioration over time as an age sticker, tears upholstery, and padding loses its softness. Why settle for a car seat that has been attacked by other kids? Also, remember that some of the items sold as new at Craigslist may actually be with use, cleaned slightly, and pushed into plastic bags by unscrupulous sellers. You should not buy car seats that do not come with the instruction manual. After all, the seats you don't know how to install or crush your child get worse than worthless. And if nothing else, manually it helps you check to make sure all parts of it are there. Finally, many baby car seats have been subjected to safety recalls over the years and taken out of the market. Some of those seats may appear on Craigslist. So avoid this one altogether. The 6 biggest Concert Event tickets, the biggest games, and the most interesting plays all seem to sell immediately. So taking some tough tickets to get on Craigslist will look very tempting. But event tickets easy to fake, especially since buyers don't always know what tickets are supposed to look like in the first place. Why is the risk of crooking U.S. currency counterfeiting when they can get a good copy machine to knock down some low-risk tickets and cascade them on Craigslist? Most importantly: There are now guaranteed online ticket exchange services like StubHub around, so there's no reason to risk shady Craigslist ads yet. 7 Oil and Engine Lubricants need more than just lubricants to perform well. It requires the right lubricant for the condition in which it operates. The precedent of the lubricants came in a barn that, once opened, was useless. Now many come in refreshable bottles. The upshot is, there is no guarantee that the content of the bottles corresponds to the label. It would be easy for crooks to recyl the bottles by, say, cheap oil rather than synthetic expensive or, worse, with waste oil from other vehicle crankcases. So get your lubricants from established stores. 8 Mattress There are a few things in your life shouldn't be cheap. One place where you will spend a third of each day. Bed frames and headboards are among the best stuff to get a good deal at Craigslist. But the mattress is something else. They wear in a specific way, they can be infested with bed bugs or other vermins, and liquids from others may have seen through. According to the Federal Trade Commission, the used mattress sales requirements vary from state to state. In some states, second-hand mattresses can only be resold if they have been disinfected and covered in new (fabric) check marks. In other states, only parts of the old mattress—such as springs—can be reused. And second-hand mattresses may be required to bring special colored labels to indicate their condition. But all of that comes out the window when you start buying mattresses over Craigslist. So don't. 9 Nothing Guaranteed by Craigslist Craigslist itself offers some useful tips to avoid scams on any website in general. Most of them are common sense, and all are worth taking heart. But someone stands out: Craigslist isn't involved in any transaction. There is no Guarantee of Craigslist. No Craigslist escrow service. There is no Craigslist preferred delivery method. And Craigslist doesn't process payments between buyers and sellers. So if any of that appears on the listing, escape. Not only false, but Craigslist also does not defragment into any responsibility. Because if there is one thing that Craigslist does not want about, that's your problem.
