How to sign into hotmail.com login

Windows Live Hotmail is a web-based e-mail service developed by Microsoft. Hotmail has a SmartScreen Junk E-mail Filter, an assisting word document to edit and view from the mail app, and unlimited storage. Hotmail is a free service and you can sign up for one or more Hotmail accounts directly from the Windows Live Hotmail home page. Hotmail.com home page. Click Register. Enter the Hotmail email address you want to use, and then click Check availability to see if the email address you want is available. Enter and confirm the password you want to use to access your Hotmail account. Enter name, country, country, zip code, gender, and year of birth. Enter the security code that appears, and then click I accept to create a new Hotmail account. Co-author hotmail or Windows Live provides e-mail over the Internet. Because setting up a Hotmail account doesn't cost money, there are many such accounts, so it's hard to find a user. However, if you want to find someone who has a Hotmail account for business or family reasons, you can work with a Windows Live ID to find that data. Sign in to your Hotmail account. Click the live Home link. Locate the Find people or web search box. Click the mouse once in the box, and then click the search people from the drop-down menu. Enter the name of the person whose email address you want to find, and press Enter. Browse through a list of your results and click the link for the person you want to find. For e-mail information, click Profile and review the person's details. Then send him a message from your Hotmail account. Matthew Schieltz's free website hotmail gives you the opportunity to let other people know who you are and customize your personal space. Whether you want to connect with your family or even promote your business, Hotmail and Windows Live Spaces allow you to add photos, music, blogs, and other customizable content to suit your needs. Open Hotmail.com and sign in with your Windows Live ID and password. At the top of your Hotmail account, click the More drop-down menu. Click Spaces. Click Create Your Own Space to start creating a free website. Click the Select web address icon. Type the address of the web site you want, and then click Check availability to see if the address has been taken. If you've found the subdomain name available for your free Hotmail website, click Save. To start editing a free website, click Customize Your Space. Select Modules option in the Customize box. Click once on each module (such as guestbook, radio, weather, etc.) to make it visible or remove it from the site. Select the topic you want to appear on your website. Click Themes from Customize the box. Click once on the topic to add it to your website. Change the design of your website in this way at any time you want to change it. Select the layout of your website. In the Customize box, select Layout. Click the layout type you want to change the location and how the modules appear on your site. In the Customize box, click Advanced. Change default settings, such as font and link colors, font type and size, and background colors and pictures. To change site settings, click all the sections in the Advanced box. To save your settings, click Save in the upper-right corner of the Customize box. In the Title and Label Line box, click Change. Type a name for the site title. Select color, font, and alignment options for the site title. Repeat this procedure for the site tagline or leave the tagline part blank if you do not want a subtitle that appears under the heading. When you're done, click Save. Add a blog to the site. To customize the blog, click Add blog record. Enter the title of your blog entry and select the appropriate category. Add text, photos, and/or videos to the blog entry field. When you're done, click Publish Record at the top of the page. Click Share photos to add pictures to your free site. To name a photo album and upload photos from your computer, click Create Album. Add custom lists to your favorite sites, movies, books, music, or other preferences site. To edit the list, click Add List. Type a name and description for your list. Click Save. Type each item in the list, and then click Next. Add a description of each item in the list to inform the site visitors about what your list is about. Edit your profile to add important information that you want to share with others. Click Edit profile. Click all profile sections, such as Job Information, Education, and Information, to change its contents. When you're done, click Save in each section. Finished.
