The beautiful, large Texas-shaped Belgian waffle maker is exactly what every Texan needs in their kitchen. This waffle iron is a great opportunity for all lovers of Texas waffles, and in this review I will show you how this waffle maker stacks up. At the end we will have a large pile of golden brown, perfectly cooked Texas-shaped waffles! Basics made of stainless steel and sold from a company from Texas, this waffle manufacturer is already the winner. Especially large, thick grids are designed to produce large Belgian waffles and are not larger always better?!? The sticky coating promises that your waffles won't stick to waffle iron, and just over $43 (check the current price here!), this Texas waffle maker is a great gift for anyone who loves Texas- including yourself! Keep reading my super comprehensive review of texas waffle maker or check out our video below to see the machine in action! Closer: Texas Shaped Waffle Maker's red, white and blue box adorned with stars is the perfect package for this beautiful Texas-shaped Belgian waffle maker. When I took the waffle maker out of the box, a nice stainless steel surface reflected back on me and when I opened the machine to look at the plate, well, Helloooooo Texas! I've seen many Belgian waffle manufacturers and the grid of this machine doesn't disappoint - it really has an extra large, thick grid! This is such a great feature of the shaped waffle iron, because so many of them thin, flimsy waffles. This Texas waffle manufacturer looks promising! The waffle manufacturer feels beautiful and sturdy, does not seem to be made cheaply and feels like a product that should last. Since it will be around your house in the coming years, it's nice that the waffle maker is also not too bulky and perfect for the wardrobe. You can also hold it vertically, because it can stand on the hinges- even better for storage! With only one light to say, when the waffle manufacturer is hot, this machine keeps it simple- no temperature gauge, flip mechanism, or timers- just plain Belgian waffles. Waffle mesh is not sticking, which is perfect for easy cleaning. Making Texas-shaped Belgian waffles Orange Light the Texas waffle maker went after about 5 minutes meaning it was hot and ready for waffle dough! Of course, I use our amazing waffle dough and while the waffle manufacturer's guide offered 2/3 cups of dough, just over 1/3 cup filled all over Texas. Steam is poured out by the waffle manufacturer, which is a great sign because it means waffles are cooking and growing beautifully. The handle on the Texas Waffle Maker doesn't latch shut, but it allows waffles to expand. You may even notice iron opening a bit like waffles to cook, which is good, it's just just waffles are getting bigger and better! After about 3 minutes, I opened the waffle maker and there were beautiful golden brown Texas waffles. The waffle fell clean from the plates and did not climb at all. Both sides of the Texas waffle were golden brown, and the waffles were very crispy on the outside and fluffy inside- just what you want from Belgian waffles. (However, seeing how this waffle goal is to look like texas, it really should be served with the top facing up so we don't have back Texas in our hands!) Advantages: The sticky surface works perfectly cooks perfectly golden brown Texas-shaped waffle Did not take long to heat or cook waffles Does the indicator light let you know when it's done small size for easy storage - can be stored vertically, as well as cons: A little more expensive than the usual waffle manufacturer Should you buy this Texas Waffle Maker? If you're in the market for a Texas-shaped waffle manufacturer than I would say to totally get this one. Not only does the form come out perfectly, but it has also made some of the most beautiful Belgian waffles I've ever seen (and it says something as I tested a lot of waffle makers!)
