This classic WoW Cooking Leveling Guide shows you how to level up your cooking skills from 1 to 300 as cheaply as possible. In many cases, the material is based on the case where you get each skill point. This doesn't happen, so you'll need to buy some extra ingredients while leveling your dishes. Also, if you want to level your fishing, I highly recommend using my classic WoW fishing and cooking leveling guide 1-300 instead of this one. If you're leveling your character, or if you're just starting a new alt, we recommend using Zygor's 1-60 leveling guide. The guide is lying in a small window on the main screen in the game. It contains all the details you need to complete the quest. Table of Contents: To become a classic cooking trainer place apprentice cook, you need to reach level 5 and find a cooking trainer. Click one of the links below to see the exact location of the trainer. If you're having problems finding a trainer, you can walk up to a security guard in a major city and ask where the cooking trainer is. After asking the guards, the trainer will be marked with a red mark on your map. Horde Trainers: Alliance Trainers: Classic Cooking Leveling (1 - 50) 1 - 50 Soosing Spices, Hot Spices, Refreshing Spring Water are usually sold by cooking supply vendors near your trainer, so they are not listed in the guide. Don't buy from the auction house! Alternative Recipe Journeyman Cooking (50 - 130) Visit your trainer again and learn Journeyman Cooking. 50 - 80 40x Smoked Bear Meat - 40 Bear Meat Recipes are sold by Andrew Hilbert (Hoard) in the Silver Pine Forest in Sepulcher and Drak Rahkat (Alliance) by Loch Mordin of Tel Samar. If you have a lot of cheap asari meat in your auction house, start making boiled asari. You can also make up to 70 Spice Wolf Meats if you can find cheap Strinny Wolf Meats in the Auction House. 80 - 130 Learn boiled clas from your trainer, go to the Twilight Shore on the Dark Shore, and farm-covered Tydoc Rollers and other sea creatures. You can also go to Aschenbert, head to the Zorham Strand, where the sea is northwest, where you can kill all kinds of sea creatures. The recipe turns green at 110 and makes up to 130 crab cakes, so first cook about 30 boiled asari. When you open a small bee clam, you can find the clam meat. Refreshing spring water is sold by most in-keepers. Alliance players also need to buy recipes: crab claws cooked from Kendall Kabonka in Stormwind because some of the sea creatures drop crawler claws. Don't forget to buy recipes while you're there: curiously delicious omelettes. To learn Expert Cooking (130 - 225) Expert Cooking, you need to reach level 20 and level up cooking to 125, then you need to buy a book Expert Cookbook from Wulan (Hordes)Of Shadowplay Village or Shandrina (Alliance) Ashenbert. 130 - 175 50 x Curious Delicious Omelette - 50 Raptor Egg Recipes are sold by Kendall Cabonca of Stormwind City and Kenna of Arati Highlands. Alternative Recipes 175 - 225 50 x Low Strapter - 50 Raptor Fresh Recipes: Low Strapper is sold by Hamon Khan and Ally Highlands Keina. Alternative recipe artisan cuisine is a reward from clamlet surprise. Quests can be earned at level 35+ with 225 cooking skills. You need these to complete the quest: 12x x Giant Egg 10x Zestikrum Meat 20x Don't go to Gadget Zan before getting The ArterLach Swiss Quest Items! Alliance players can start quest lines by picking up I Know A Guy. A quest from Daryl Rikunussun of Iron forge. Both quests will lead you to Gadget Zan's Dirj Kikreave. If you find him, he'll give you a clamlet surprise quest. Get all the ingredients and you'll learn artisan cooking. Make about 65 from one of the recipes below 225 - 275. (If you can get really cheap meat/fish, you can make these up to 285.) Recipe: Weakened clam choulder is sold by Darby of Tanalis. (If you're in Tanaris, you'll also need to visit Gickix and buy all the recipes from him.) Ice Cold Milk is sold by most innkeepers and bartenders. It's a limited supply recipe, so if someone buys in front of you, you'll have to wait for it to res pawn. I'm not sure about the exact res pawn timer. Recipe (or purchased from auction house): The Spouted Yellow Tail is sold by Tanarys' Gicchix. You should also buy recipes: Nightfin Soup and Recipes: Poached Sunscale Salmon.Recipes: Monster Omelette is sold by Himmick in Everluk Winter Spring because you use them in the next step. He is in the inn. or by Felwood's Marigen (alliance)/Bale (hordes). Recipe: Tender Wolf Steak is sold by Dilge Kiku creep of Tanalis. (If you're in Tanaris, you'll also need to visit Gickix and buy all the recipes from him.) Recipe: Redgill filets are sold by Kelsey Jans in Booty Bay. He is in a large building at the end of the dock of a ship in Booty Bay. Enter the building and immediately left. 275 - 300 make about 35 out of one of these two. Both recipes are sold by Tanakis Gickix (if expensive, you can also make recipes up to 285 previous). I hope you liked this classic WoW Cooking Leveling Guide, congratulations on reaching 300! It's not a bad guide (back to the top). Having a list of food buffs for class will definitely help later when I try to cook everything for my guild run. My only review would be nice to have a recommended skill up pass. I suppose you're waiting for updated data to add one. Keep up the great work on the guide!A row of blessed sunfruit juice and rumtam tuber ingredients in the sections of priests, shamans and paladins is not at all correct. Blessed sunfruit juice information can be located in a row with a rum chuper, while the blessed sunfruit juice contains tmerochchop material. For 1s who want to improve their fishing and cooking skills at the same time, you need to add an example that raises the path through the whole of the fish and you need to make it cheaper. (Useful for people who want to fish squid, night fins, etc. later.) Smoked dessert dumplings weren't in the game until patch 1.8, i.e. you shouldn't see it until Classic Phase 4. It is worth paying particular attention to: STV and Arati Raptors are absolutely great for leveling dishes. They will quickly drop both eggs and meat that can get you from 130 to 235. It is worth paying particular attention to: STV and Arati Raptors are absolutely great for leveling dishes. They will quickly drop both eggs and meat that can get you from 130 to 235. Nice job. Excellent information. Just under a couple notes:expert cooking. Ouran is in Desolas. The map is correct, but the label reads Ashenvale. And the first best way from 1-40 is always spice bread with a vendor's mat right next to the trainer. I just noticed this and I'm not going to pick a pick, but the pins on the map for Terdrasil's Zarin Night Elf Trainer are too high. I don't know the exact code, but he is located just outside the hut which can be seen on the map just above the N of Doranal. One suggestion: When you learn cooking, you will learn basic campfires. But to create a fire, you need Flint and Tinder in your bag, and one simple wood. You need one wood for every fire you create. Flint and Tinder are reusable. I brought this up in my guild the other day and it may be worth mentioning because a lot of people didn't notice it or just forgot about it. Thank you for taking the time to write this guide, it will be really useful I'm sure. :): seal tea is a great rogue class item to make in cooking! Dragon Bresschiri in the Dust Wallow Wetlands (do not jump into the water or the well Fed Buff disappears). It is sold by Helenium Olden for alliances and Ogmer for hordes. Dragon Bress Chile? But nevertheless, thanks to the guide! Note: Strider Stew Recipe ISfor the alliance through the quest of Oberdon. Thank you for the guide. A couple of minor fables: you need 10 but 12 huge eggs for the culinary quest of the artisans. Also, your proposed amount is on the way. Many will be green before you reach the next recipe, so you should be close to twice what is listed here for most of the skill gap. Save your money and bag space by cooking everything on the inn's stove after growing mats. Free fire is beneficial. Horde Cooking Trainer Zamja's marker also waaaay off maybe I'm missing something, but it seems that there is a gap for hordes from 100-130. The mysterious delicious omelette has 130 skill requirements. WOWHEAD - Make a guide to all the cooking recipes available by Quest WOWHEAD - Make a guide to all the cooking recipes available by Quest, you have one for the vendor, but have one for the quest, but not a recipe for quest says: Strider Stew is a horde, but the alliance can do quests on the dark shore for this? A small correction to the guide. Craig Nordward of Seramore is not actually a cooking trainer (unless there is a prerequisite I have not met). He is there, he just sells a bunch of food and is listed as <Cook>. If you need to make a quest to a craftsman's dish (unlock 300) and fly from Org to Gadgetzan, stop at The Southern Needle and don't forget to buy 20 ortarak Swiss from the host there. If you need to make quests to artisan cuisine (unlocked 300) and fly from Org to Gadgetzan, don't forget to stop at Thousand Needle and buy 20 Ortarak Swiss from the host there. Hey, this guide is wrong at some spot I've found so far. (75-100) crab cake (1 crawler meat, 1 mild spice) or cooked crab claw (1 crawler claw, 1 mild spice) (100-150) seasoned wolf Kabob (2 Lean Wolf Frank Required, 1 Stormwind Seasoning Herb) or Curious Delicious Omelette (1 Raptor Egg, 1 Hot Spice Required) Cooked Crab Nail Recipes can't be used until cooking level 85. Starting with level 100-150, it says you can make a curious delicious omelette. But you can't learn it until 130. (100-175) Bristle Wiscanamaz (each required 1 raw bristle Whiskana maz) 160 cooking skills are green, so 75 fish are not enough. You need more, maybe 50, maybe 100 about that luck about 100-175 bristly whiskana maz (each one raw bristle whiskana maz required) 160 cooking skills are green so 75 fish is not enough. You need more, then 50, maybe 100 about that luck about 1-300 leveling classic cooking section is heavily distorted to the level of cooking there are some meats (early on) </Cook>Leveling process) can only be found in the leveling zone of the alliance. It would be nice to offer horde choices. This is an alliance guide! Cooking Trainer - Shandina, she did not have the training to provide to expect cooking, is there a character level requirement? Is there a character level requirement? : Cardrey Spider Kabob is not an alliance-only cooking recipe. In Classic, it is only available to Alliance players as a reward from the quest Caldrey Recipes. On Standard (probably started with Patch 4.0), it was added to the recipe learned from cooking trainers for both Allied and Horde players. (225-250) Spotted yellow tail (each required 1 raw spotted brie tail) Spotted yellow tail is orange from 225 -265 To learn artisan cuisine, you must first complete the quest line and at least level 35, to have a cooking skill level of at least 225. This may say cooking skills at 225 more accurately because your skill level does not advance beyond 225 until you learn artisan cuisine unless you differ from other skills. Dishes.
