As he explores it, Lazar meets three people from Yliaster, who are Jakob (leader), Lester (self-styled sub-leader) and Primo (the lowest member). Lazarus questions their intentions, but after Primo reminds him that they are his leaders, and a brief outburst in which Primo points the tip of his sword at Lazarus' neck, he quickly submits to the threesuck and hands them the leadership of The New Domino City. Next, Primo tells the other members of the threesue that he will take his machine tsar for a test drive. A day later, Sector Security investigates a turbo duelist named Ghost, who attacks Turbo Duellists, and steals their Synchro Monsters, at night. Jack, Yusei and Crow, meanwhile, are preparing for the upcoming tournament, the World Racing Grand Prix (WRGP), but when Trudge proposes to Jack, Crow and Yusei to help him bring down the Spirit, he rejects Crow Trudge's plea for help, in favour of working on their new engine, as he states they have a Grand Prix to prepare for, and that they have no time to spare. Instead, Crow insists that Trudge and the rest Security, like cops, they go chasing a ghost. Trudge meets the Spirit later that night, but is defeated and badly injured. He warns Yusei not to use Synchro monsters against the Spirit, because synchronisations are useless. After the incident, Crow feels guilty about what he told Trudge. After Yusei tells him that blaming himself won't work, Crow asks Yusei what he should do, to which Yusei replies that they go to find and defeat the Spirit. Yusei, Jack and Crow then go in search of the Spirit, which Yusei soon encounters after a few hours of riding. He soon found himself up against Ghost's monster ace, machine emperor Wisel Infinity, a combined monster made from five other monsters. 66 New Threat, Part 2/ Symbol of Evolution - Sinkro MonstersTranscription: Shinka no Akashi Shinkuro Monsutā (Japanese: 進化の証 シンクロモンスター)Shin YoshidaJuly 8, 2009 (2009-07-08)September 25, 2010 Yusei invokes his Stardust Dragon and orders damage to the Spirit. However, Ghost uses its machine czar Wisel Infinity's special ability to absorb stardust dragon, causing Stardust Dragon attack points to be added to wiselw, increasing its attack points from 2,500 to 5,000. Yusei sets up a good defense, but finds himself under pressure. After hanging out for a while, Yusei remembers having a second chance, and using the Speed World 2 crimson Dragon effect to pull out another card during the draw phase, which gives him tuner monster Majestic Dragon, and he is able to retrieve the Stardust Dragon using the Synchro particle trap card, and invokes majestic Star Dragon, then attacks Wisel Top, resulting in the destruction of the rest of the machine czar, defeating the Spirit. The ghost then crashes into the woods, and one of Yliaster's three emperors, Primo, takes Ghost's disc for the duel, and his own Wisel deck from The Ghost's duel runner. When Yusei, Jack and Crow arrive at ghost's crash site, they discover that he's actually a robot trudge identifies as Duel-Bota, which was stolen from Sector Security, and reprogrammed. 67 Lessons learned / Traditions of Duel Academy! Yusei was asked by the academy director to fix something, which turns out to be the lead instructor, Rudolph Heitmann, who threatens to expel Leo, Luna and their friends for using low-level monsters. Yusei arrives, challenging Heitmann to a duel, to prevent them from being ejected, and to prove the strength of a low-level monster. Manages to summon three Ancient Gear Golems on its first step and carries great damage. Yusei kills stardust dragon, but sacrifices him to invite several Tuner monsters, belonging to relevant students. Later, everyone attends the premiere event for WRGP, where details for the tournament are shown. Lazarus meets with a group from Yliaster, who use the tournament for their own benefit. Just then, the party was toppled by a violent Turbo Duelist named Dobocle. Akiza prevents him from ruining the party, and the trio from Yliaster take an interest in her powers. Dobocle tries to escape, but is attacked by another Ghost, who is really Primo, because he's tired of Dobocle's actions. They found out the fingerprint belonged to Lazarus. 81Get With the Program, Part 1 / Operation Capture JaegerTranscription: Iēgō Hokaku Sakusen (Japanese: イーガー捕獲作戦) Kenichi YamashitaOctober 21, 2009 (2009-10-21)November 13, 2010 Yusei, Jack, Crow and Bruno opt for Lazarus, who stole their program for Primo. Noticing that he was being followed, Lazarus went to the mall where Yusei and company managed to arrest him, but he took a break for it. Lazarus manages to lose Jack and Crow using holograms, although Bruno manages to figure it out, and he and Yusei follow Lazarus to the compound. Lazarus gives the program to Prim, who then notices that they are being monitored and triggered by an alarm, separating Yusei and Bruno. Primo activates a duel guard robot filled with yusei combat data to stall Yusei as he installs the program in hundreds of Duel-Bots, collectively called Diablo. Bruno almost ran into this secret army, but Primo knocked him out and kicked him out of a secret factory, when he eventually launched one of his lost memories. Meanwhile, Guard Robot uses its high prediction capabilities to block Yusei's high-level monsters and special calls, putting him in a difficult position. 82Get With the Program, Part 2 / Yusei Fudo, 100% Chance of Defeat! Transcription: Fudō Yusei Haiboku Kakuritsu Wan Handoreedo Paseto! (Japanese: 不動遊星 敗北確率100%) Shin YoshidaOctober 28, 2009 (2009-10-28)November 20, 2010 Jack and Crow arrive at the complex only to find themselves locked, so they sneak over the ventilation shaft. As Yusei continues to fight the Guardian Robot, Primo completes the installation of their program in Ghosts, although one of Yliaster's other emperors, Jakob (leader), is curious and suspicious of his actions. With his objective completeness, Primo begins self-destructing the countdown and leaves using his power, giving Yusei just 1.0 minutes to win his duel and escape. Jack and Crow join Bruno who, reluctantly, must escape ahead of Yusei. As time is about to run out, Yusei manages to use his monster's abilities to block the Lock Deck Guard Robot and call on Stardust Dragon to win the duel. As the complex explodes, Lazarus uses his tricks to save Yusei and warns him not to go further into the issue. 83 Will the Real Jack Atlas, Please stand up, part 1 / Cheater!? Jack AtlasTranscription: Yōgisha!? Jakkū Atorasu (Japanese: 容疑者!? ジャックアトラス)Which UedaNovember 4, 2009 (2009-11-04)November 20, 2010 Sector security fell in with because of Jack's arrest. Mina and Trudge show footage of something similar to Jack's Duel Runner causing other people to crash in duels using the Red Dragon Archfiend. Yusei and company recall that earlier Jack had fallen out with them for sticking to his usual plays. Jack still denies committing any crime, and Crow isn't helping. As a result, Jack was arrested and sent to prison. When the news spreads, everyone else has a hard time believing it. Later that night, an electronic bug opens Jack's cell, allowing him to escape. However, he then runs into the identical Jack Atlas who rides the identical Duel Runner and acts like Jack in his Duel King phase (from season one), and is challenged on Turbo Duel. Jack draws a Tuner monster that can call the Red Dragon Archfiend, but refuses to use it because of an earlier argument, and calls exploder dragon instead. He gets the upper hand at first, but is shocked to discover that his tactics have been called weak by the imposter. The imposter summons the identical Red Dragon Archfiend and defeats Jack, knocking him overboard. Yusei and Crow arrive only to see the imposter, thinking the real Jack Atlas has committed another crime. 84 If the real Jack Atlas will come, please stand up, Part 2 / Another JackTranscription: Mō Hitori no Jakkū (Japanese: もう一人のジャック)Koji UedaNovember 11, 2009 (2009-11-11)November 27, 2010 Wanting to find out the truth behind Jack's alleged crime spree, Carly encounters a pair of hippies who abeit with a motif. She repeated this to Yusei and Crow, who are searching the crash site only to find one of Jack's tickets. The real Jack is trapped in a virtual prison of sorts, made by the Yliaster trio, forced to watch as a cheater ruins his reputation. Yusei and Crow catch up with the imposter, but they're attacked by the pushers. Hearing the kindness of his friends, Jack broke free of captivity and caught up with his imposter for the rematch. This time Jack learns from his mistakes and uses a real tuner monster to summon red dragon archfiend. The imposter then invokes his Red Dragon Archfiend, but Jack manages to destroy it. However, the imposter then manages to revive him and invokes two more copies of Red Dragon Archfiend. Jack manages to survive his attack and has the power to summon the Magnificent Red Dragon with his Dragon Sign. With his strength, Jack manages to destroy three dragons, along with a imposter, who was actually a robot for the Ghost duel. Still in the Yliaster trim hideout, Primo complains that the duel was worthless, until the line is lit on the dashboard, which indicates the activation of the circuit on the Infinity Circuit, which resulted in the satisfaction of Jakob, as he states that everything is going according to their plan. Jack goes back to where he was held in captivity, only to discover he was missing. Yusei then has the uneasy feeling of being used by Yliaster's 85Majka knows best / Santa's watch, Poppo TimeTranscription: Poppo Taimu no Furudokei (Japanese: ポップタイムの古時計)Tadashi HayakawaNovember 18, 2009 (2009-11-18)November 27, 2010 (Hulu samo)February 5, 2011 (TV) Yusei's landlord, Zora, is depressed because the city wants to replace a broken cuckoo clock at her watch repair workshop. Later, zora's son Lynden visits the gang, who returned after three years of training to fix the clock. When he sees Zora again, she's not happy to see him, since he broke his watch at all. Before he escapes, crow challenges him to a duel, forcing him to apologise if he wins. The crow runs into a bit of trouble with Lynden soaking up one of his monsters and summoning his Clock Knight monsters who rely on coin toss but soon returns with his Black Armoring Master. Lynden's trying to pull out of the duel, but Crow tells him he needs to stop running away from his problems. Lynden invokes the Wizard for the time he received from his late father to destroy Crow's monster. Crow decides to take the damage instead of activating his Mirror Force, as Lynden realised he could not keep running regardless of the win. Lynden successfully fixes the cuckoo clock and rekindles his relationship with Zora. 86Duelist for Hire/ Crash TownTranscription: Kurasshu Taun (Japanese: クラッシュタウン)Yasuyuki SuzukiNovember 25, 2009 (2009-11-25)November 27, 2010 Yusei arrives in a desert town called Crash Town, after receiving a letter from a woman named Barbara that Kalin is in trouble. It clarifies that there is a battle going on in this town at sunset between the Malcolm family and the Radley group. Yusei is surprised kalin sided with Radley's group and notices a change in his personality. Kalin uses his Handless Combo and quickly defeats Malcolm's challenger, who was taken to become a slave in the mountains. Yusei's trying to get to Kalin, but it doesn't suit him. Barbara tells Yusei that the only way to save him is to beat him in a duel to separate him from the Radley family. Yusei decided to join the Malcolm family, earning his place by beating three Malcolms in one turn, with his Nitro Warrior. Barbara mentions a plan that involves using dynamite to aid Kalin's escape after their duel. During the next sunset, Yusei duels Kalin, who puts his handless combination on effect. Kalin complains that he could never forgive himself for the actions he took as a dark signatory, and asked to die, saying he would be satisfied if Yusei defeated him. Yusei manages to take the lead, but Kalin still has tricks up his sleeve. 88Showdown at Sundown, Part 2 / The Trap Laid in The Front of VictoryTranscription: Kiryū Kyūshutsu! The Malcolm family's main dog, Lawton, then appears and duels Radley, beating him before there's even a turnaround. Barbara and the Malcolm family used Yusei all along to remove Kalin from the Radley Group to make them easy prey. Yusei, along with Kalin and Radley, are taken to the mines and given shock necklaces. Yusei finds a way to escape, but Kalin still refuses help. Yusei manages to avoid loss from the effects, but Lawton invokes a more powerful monster instead. Kalin's group is directed towards a deadly gap, so West and Nico's father jumps to change the tracks to safety, and Sergio falls into the abyss (and dies) in English called He's just badly hurt. Yusei manages to summon Drill Warrior from his graveyard, and Kalin knocks in Lawton before he can answer it. Lawton then throws dynamite that sends everyone flying, and Yusei and Kalin fall into the canyon. Lawton kidnaps Nico and West, and along with Barbara overthrows Malcolm.
