FogBy- Carl SandburgSummary in English- FogDETAILED SUMMARY poem The Blur poet Carl Sandburg is depicted in nature and its quiet work. To prove his point the poet gives a comparison between mist and cat. The poet says the fog comes quietly and slowly like a cat. If it does, it won't bother us. It sits quietly like a cat. It goes down and looks quietly over the harbour and the city. (Then everything moves at once with a gust of wind) 1. The fog comes like a cat: the poet sees the mist of the cat. It comes with its tiny quiet feet as the cat does when it is lurking. Like a cat, it moves undetected and in complete silence. So, the poem The Blur becomes an extended metaphor. 2. Sitting in Silent Haunches: the fog comes quietly and grabs the entire landscape of its turn. The poem presents two images of the mist and the cat. The fog turns into a cat. And the cat gets back into the fog. The fog moves in slowly and then stops and gradually covers the entire landscape or the marine landscape and the port. Mist like a cat keeps lying for hours. It keeps a view of the harbour and the city below. The atmosphere is full of silence and mystery. And then, like a stalking cat, it moves on. It disappears silently unnoticed. That means he's going to be in town very quietly so no one can announce its arrival. They have compared it to the arrival of the cat, because the cat always enters the place quietly. He also says that the fog is covered throughout the city and port and it looks like he's sitting on folding feet and watching the cat sit big and look around. Finally, he describes leaving the mist, which disappears very quietly and unexpectedly, again, similar to the cat's departure. Fog Poem summary hindikavi describes the fog. The fog is a dense cloud of small water droplets present in the atmosphere. This is usually seen during the winter season. Here, the poet has described the development of fog towards the city and the harbour. He says the fog comes when the cat comes with its little feet. This means that the fog towards the city grows very slowly and calmly like a cat. No one knows when the city's fog is. How do you enter? Therefore, the fog is compared to the cat that enters our house in unexpected ways. He also says that the cat sits quietly due to fog throughout the city and looks at the surrounding areas and things turning its legs back. It also seems that the fog quietly covers the entire city and port and looks around like a cat. After a while, the fog leaves town. The poet says this because it is a natural phenomenon that the fog does not stay on for a long time and leaves the place after a few hours. Now, here, too, the poet says that, like a cat, the fog leaves the place very quietly without seeing anyone. Fog Summary in English In this poem, the poet has beautifully demonstrated how the fog comes from stealing forward like a cat does. Just as the cat sits in its haunches, the fog too seems to sit quietly looking at the harbour and the city and then quietly moving forward. When it arrives, it's so slow that you barely notice it until you see or feel it. The same thing happens to the fog. No corpse can predict the mist's arrival. The fog arrives quietly and surrounds the whole place and stays for a while. It's going to cause problems for everyone, but it's going to stay there. He doesn't know what's going on around it. Fog causes a lot of obstacles and incidents, but it won't stay in one place for a long time. [After a while, when the problems are over, the fog disappears, too, and it becomes clear everywhere.] Because problems are over time through the same way the fog disappears also and it becomes clear throughout.
