Houston elementary school el paso tx

Every elementary school has the same legends: it used to be a hospital or it's the school where Bloody Mary lives. I don't know about Bloody Mary, but I can tell you that Houston Elementary had no hospital. It's always been just a school, but with some exchange students. The story for this particular place is more of a personal one for me and my primary friend, but based on his supposed history it's too much of a coincidence. It happened on the fourth floor of the school, which is actually the lowest level of the main building, also named fourth grade hallway. All the teachers on that floor will have an exact time to take us to our bathroom/bathroom. My friend and I would usually abuse the girls this time in the bathroom (which was incredibly huge for whatever reason). There was literally enough space for us to do cartwheels inside (and we did) so we had to play around and gossip for ten minutes we were given until the teacher would open the door and yell at us to come out. On this day we were all on the far side, away from the door, from the sinking when the lights stopped. The pitch turned black, but we all thought someone had done it as a prank. Nobody accepted the closure of the lights. When it happened again, we all ignored it. We called each other to bet next to the sink, away from the switch, just to make sure. It happened once more. There was no one anywhere near the switch, nor did our teacher open the door to turn off the lights themselves. We ran out as fast as we could, who never found the culprit put off the lights that day. A friend of mine has also claimed that a girl's voice is heard la la... When he stayed after class for tuition. What really ties it all together was the story of my own grandmother claiming that has happened and even made news (I really don't know if the story is true. I have yet to check the newspapers). It was about an African-American girl who went to Houston, there was some accident that ended up killing her somewhere in the main building. Can the same girl haunt the fourth floor? 2851 Grant Ave, El Paso, TX 79930 | (915) 567-2620 Grade: PK-5 Student Enrolment: 332 Principal or Administrator: Mr. Alco Ramos Fax: (915) 566-5964 Website: www.episd.org Title I All students of this school are eligible to participate in authorized programmes. Greeting Dowell families, for 6 years now, I have the honor of serving as Dowell Elementary Principal. I have been able to collaborate with a group of dedicated and goal-oriented teachers and staff, an exceptional community, and of course, the best students. During this time, we have been able to create the best possible learning environment to motivate and encourage our students to reach beyond the stars and tell them that the path to college is being paved each day. A little about me, I was born and raised here in El Paso, Texas. I Houston Elementary, Crockett Intermediate, and Austin High School. I also attended the University of Texas in El Paso. I received my bachelor's in interdisciplinary studies, along with my master's in concentration and educational administration in bilingual education. I have two beautiful daughters who day in and day out make me the best person I can be. I've been a teacher since 2000. I taught many students at the elementary level both here in El Paso, Texas as well as in Palm Springs, California. I have also had the opportunity to serve as an instructional coach and assistant principal. I cannot imagine doing anything other than what I do now. I teach and learn something new every day. My students inspire me and keep me smiling. I pride myself in knowing I have a hand in shaping the future of many children. It is my responsibility to ensure that we provide comprehensive educationally sound experience to promote their development, not only academically, but also socially and emotionally. I firmly believe that my role is to serve as an advocate for students as well as to help create positive and nurturing environments with a goal in mind: student success. I pride myself in being my principal. I want Dowell to shine as the best elementary school in the Northeast. Trying these times, I'm grateful that we see our owls entering on with a smile on their faces, ready to learn in this new virtual environment and among our new normal that brings us many challenges. We, the admin team, the teachers and the entire staff at Dowell, are putting our hearts and soul into learning to plan, collaborate, and ensure that all our students are safe, emotionally sound, and as best and as much as they can in this new platform. Why our students are ours! But it takes us all. Parental support is essential and we are grateful we have always been able to trust you! As we navigate through this new platform, we know we're doing the right thing for our owl! It's a process—but as one of our parents said, with flexibility and perseverance, we'll succeed! Dowell states this year as the theme: Together we can! Let's have a great school year! Love, Ms. Oniveros alone we can do so little. Together we can do so much. – Helen Keller 15.
