This includes low and high estimates. Please select a value within this range that reflects your item's relative age and quality. The Salvation Army does not set a valuation on your donation. It's up to you to assign a value to your item. Please consult your tax advisor for professional advice. NOTE: This list is not all-inclusive, and not all items are accepted in each location. If you have questions about your donation, your local Salvation Army Thrift Store will be happy to help you. Cars We always appreciate vehicle donations. Colin Hefferon You can't really take a semi-trained guess about condition or value when it comes to donating expensive items. You probably won't find them on any charity's published list of approached values either. Things like jewelry, artworks, paintings and antiques almost always require reviews. The IRS suggests that artworks worth more than $5,000 should be raised, and you should value the item if it's worth $20,000 or more. Attach a copy of the rating to your tax return. You can request a statement of value from the IRS if you donate anything that's extremely valuable – worth $50,000 or more – but it costs you $6,500 for one to three items and $300 each for each item over three. You must also submit Form 8283 and complete Section B for these items. Technically, Form 8283 must be submitted for all donations worth more than $500, but really expensive gifts over $5,000 require you to fill up Section B of the form, too. As for planes, cars and boats, the rules here are particularly tricky and you can have a choice of valuation methods depending on what the charity does with the gift. You'll probably need the help of a tax professional if you're going to be this generous. Generous.
