

I'm not robot

Continue

Shakes pumpkin patch lawrence ks

Autumn is a beautiful time of year when a crisp cooler fills the air. So bundle up and visit a pumpkin patch or get lost in a corn maze. It's time to enjoy all that Mother Nature has to offer. Nothing says fall or Halloween like a visit to a pumpkin patch. And some patches provide the operation as well. So after you've picked out your pumpkin, you can navigate a corn maze, enter a haunted house or enjoy a hay trip. Choosing the perfect pumpkin to take home and carve is something the whole family can join - even the smallest can help! You can even make a few new friends during a visit to a pumpkin patch. Take, for example, the lonely scarecrow. After a busy day of driving away crows, he'd definitely appreciate some company. Once novel, white pumpkins are becoming increasingly popular. They are also known as albino or pumpkin ghosts. Next, we'll look at miniature pumpkins. Although they are not good for carving, miniature pumpkins are perfect for use as autumn decorations around the house. You can even put a few on the kitchen table as a center. Did you know that a pumpkin is really a pumpkin? That's the truth. They are members of the Cucurbita family, consisting of squash and cucumbers. Next is an interesting pumpkin fact. The tradition of carving real pumpkins begins with the carving of radishes. Then, after the Irish migrated to the United States, they found that the pumpkin was rich and easy to carve. Pumpkins are less than 1 pound in size to more than 1,000 pounds. And the largest pumpkin ever grown weighs 1,140 pounds. How are pumpkins grown? Pumpkins are members of the vine family, so it makes sense that they grow on vines on the ground. Did you know that pumpkins are 90 percent water? Farmers put scarecrows in their fields to discourage raptors - such as crows - from eating recently planted seeds and planting trees. Did you know that a lot of pumpkin sizes and varieties even exist? And, believe it or not, the children are also edible. Next is an interesting pumpkin fact. About 90 to 95 percent of pumpkins processed in the United States are grown in large Illinois states. Other top pumpkin-producing states include Ohio, Pennsylvania and California. Pumpkin seeds make a delicious snack. After you've scooped out the inside of the pumpkin, arrange the seeds on a baking sheet and turn it in the oven. After a few minutes, you will have a delicious snack of roasted pumpkin seeds. Planning your visit to your local pumpkin? You may want to wait: Eighty percent of pumpkin supplies in the United States are available in October. So to get the best pumpkin, pick one out just a few weeks before Halloween. After you have carefully chosen pumpkin Most from the patch, it's time to go home and get ready to etch it. After you've passed Put a small, votive candle inside the pumpkin and put it on the screen for all to enjoy! kenny hung photographyGetty Images Alabama: Bennett Farms Bennett Farms is one of the highlights of fall for me year after year... For children, there is a hay trip, hay maze, corn pit (like a ball pit but filled with corn), a pet pet zoo, and lots of small games. For adults with food, live music, homemade pork shells and a locally produced product store, where you can buy soap, food, craft items, voted, pumpkins, the list continues. - Shelby B.VISIT Alaska: Reindeer Farm This place must be on your list if you visit this area. It is beautifully maintained and has a lot of history. It's been in the same family for generations. - L.A.W.VISIT Arizona: Historic Hitchin' Post Stables Great Experience. We came from Phoenix to escape the heat and found a piece of pumpkin. We arrived on a monday so a bit quiet around the pumpkin patch, but we found it to be a stable and decided to go for a trip. - Danielle D.VISIT Arkansas: Bo Brook Farms As a Nice Farm! Great place for family fun close to the holiday season. Beautiful pumpkin patch and such friendly folks. Recommend it to the whole family or a sweet day. You will leave with a smile, as we did. - Ada S.VISIT California: Jack Creek Farms Great place to choose a different pumpkin or voted in the fall. - Holly G.VISIT Colorado: Rock Creek Farm This pumpkin pieces know what they're doing, there are even local police handling traffic tasks on busy weekends leading up to Halloween. I like that you can drive out to pick the pumpkins you want in their field, even cutting them out of the trunk yourself. - Vince M.VISIT Connecticut: Plasko's Farm Place is great at any time of the year. One of the really great times is when they have a pumpkin gazillion out. It was on Oct. You have to visit. - Richard C.VISIT Delaware: Fifer Orchards The really good place to pick a prime pumpkin in the fall, too. The staff are friendly and helpful, and we love the place. - Bob H.VISIT Florida: Mr. Jack O' Lanterns Pumpkins I had a blast there! There's a lot of work to do and there's a baby goat! It also has a lot of great pumpkins! I can't wait to come back for the Christmas tree! - Ashley D.VISIT Georgia: Yule Forest Hwy 155 This place is the real deal. Pumpkin-a-lot, and that means you can get beautiful round or oblong orange ones, or even bumpy green, yellow and white voted. All kinds of pumpkins. A real piece of pumpkin. - Lindy F.VISIT Hawaii: Aloun Farms They have tons of pumpkins. Any pumpkin you want... You can get a nice size pumpkins for $5. - Kira C.VISIT Idaho: Jordan's Pumpkin Patch & Christmas Tree Lot As a Great Pumpkin Patch!... It's completely fenced, and full of pumpkins, with a little hay-bale maze, a few chickens, a goat and a pig... We definitely come back here next year! - Jennifer L.VISIT Illinois: Kroll's Fall Harvest Farm Area where they have pumpkin poses reminds me of something out of an autumn Hallmark movie. If you get closer to sunset, it's even more enchanting with wire lamps illuminating rows of pumpkins. - Cathryn W.VISIT Indiana: Tuttle Orchards They have a great piece of pumpkin with tons of options. The price is fair and you can get some great fall decorations for your house. This is a must visit every year for me. - Sara B.VISIT Iowa: Colony Pumpkin Patch They have a huge piece of pumpkin. I'll be gone earlier in the season. Great place! - Allison C.VISIT Kansas: Meadowlark Farm If you like supporting local businesses like us, then I would strongly suggest making a trip out to visit this farm. They have fresh fruits and vegetables to buy, and seasonal apples and peaches that you can choose directly from the plant, as well as hard ciders ... We look forward to visiting again in the fall for apples and pumpkins! - Nate A.VISIT Kentucky: Eckert's-Boyd Orchard Overall, this is a super exciting activity for all ages and very affordable. Everyone has a great time and I am sure to come back in the future! - Chrissy L.VISIT Louisiana: Mrs. Heather's Strawberry Patch I freakin' love this place! I gave pumpkin season and strawberry season and it's just a lot of fun for young kids... A lot of picnic tables for lunch and rest in the shade, you can do unlimited activities all day, and you do not have to pay anything extra. It's awesome. - Sammi D.VISIT Maine: Wolfe's Neck Farm Tractor rides, pumpkin patches, face painting, live music, lots of animals, mazes, and locally supplied food from smoothies, wood-fired pizzas to a few local food trucks. - Chris H.VISIT Maryland: Homestead Farm LOVE LOVE LOVE Homestead Farm... Always a treat at Halloween (one of the best pumpkin patches ever, anywhere) and the full market features the farm's products before picking and packing, along with other treats (honey, cakes and biscuit blends, apple cider when in season , etc.). - Ann C.VISIT Massachusetts: Ioka Valley Farm I like pumpkin patches there. We had a lot of fun. I really recommend this great place for families. - Abuci S.VISIT Michigan: Pond Hill Farm There is something for everyone at Pond Hill. Kudos for the Spencer family to create a special place for all to enjoy! - Debbie E.VISIT Minnesota: Knapton's Stop Here for Pumpkins this year since my regular pumpkin place has been out of line for years already. I was very pleased with Knapton's! They have a huge selection of engravings and pumpkin decorations, esters, corn, et cetera. - Melanie B.VISIT Mississippi: Lazy Acres really nice atmosphere. There are farm animals (donkeys, calves, chickens, turkeys, pigs), a bouncy thing (for adults and children), a hayride to patch, live entertainment (illusionist, piglet race), a little choo-choo train ride for kids. Looking forward to seeing it near Christmas when everything is lit. - Ali N.VISIT Missouri: Weston Red Barn Farm This place is spectacular and the staff are friendly. Come here to pick apples and pumpkins, and you won't be disappointed. The price is reasonable, and the memories are priceless. - Shawn D.VISIT Montana: J&N K Farms There was an explosion! Good price for a family outing. Pumpkin patch, kids barrel training, hay riding, corn maze, and lots of fun for all! - Miranda G.VISIT * Note: Yelp was unable to pull data for Montana pumpkin patches, instead we pulled from this most appreciated patch from Google. Nebraska: Vala's Pumpkin Patch You have a tractor up to it and find the perfect ones. There are [there] miles of pumpkins to choose from. - Chelsea S.VISIT Nevada: Andelin Family Farm We can stay there all day! Feeding the animals is my favorite part, and riding a small train is my toddler's favorite! - Ashley H.VISIT New Hampshire: Coppal House Farm You can pet horses and sheep, watch chickens and hens, or stroll through their pumpkin pieces. I highly recommend! - Tiara W.VISIT New Jersey: Stokes Farm We love this place so much!!! We arrived on a sunny Sunday and found it to be absolutely captivating. It's a small place to be sure... The Great Pumpkin will approve. - Kelli C.VISIT New Mexico: Galloping Grace Youth Ranch Pumpkin Patch The Best Pumpkin Patch. Easy to find. Cheap. Lots of fun activities for kids. Lots of pumpkins to choose from. It's very interesting. - Avram L.VISIT New York: Stakey's Pumpkin Farm We LOVE it here. The pumpkin field is huge, and there are so many pumpkin varieties that it can't be left disappointed. We love that you can choose your own pumpkin immediately the vine, properly authentic pumpkin-picked at its best! - Christine D.VISIT North Carolina: Hawk's Pumpkin Patch They have a rich variety of pumpkins and photo opportunities... I'll be back next year to get my pumpkin, and maybe a pumpkin pie. - Barrie P.VISIT North Dakota: Lil Bitz Pumpkin Patch Such an Interesting Place! I was worried that it would be mostly for small children, but it was a blast for adults too. We spent the day there and had the best time! - HK TVISIT* Note: Yelp was unable to pull data for North Dakota pumpkin patches, instead we pulled from this most appreciated patch from Google. Ohio: Hershberger's Farm and Bakery You can't miss this place - a truly unique experience. The staff were very friendly and enthusiastic. The selection of baked and manufactured items is excellent... Highly recommended! - Penny P.VISIT Oklahoma: Parkhurst Pumpkin Patch This place is awesome! They were riding hay, horseback riding ($6), animal food ($1), ropes and tire swings, giant corn maze, wooden castle for children to play, hay to jump into, a small small shop Get some jelly house, and a pumpkin you can pick out to take home on the way out. - Krista H.VISIT Oregon: Growers Outlet I Love This Place! I seriously don't buy fruits or vegetables anywhere else. They also have things like cider, honey, and a pumpkin brownie that's super tasty (and perhaps seasonal). Anyway, the price here is unbeaten, and the product is great. - Danielle S.VISIT Pennsylvania: Milky Way Farm Amazing Family Experience! Go and see the animals, have some delicious ice cream, choose pumpkins, and do a hay trip! - Donna A.VISIT Rhode Island: Barden Orchards The pumpkins are amazing. A large variety to choose from both size and color. Have a ton of them and have not broken the bank. You can go out and pick them yourself up in the fields or they have a bunch at the main building. - Shawn A.VISIT South Carolina: Lever Farms It's hard to pick because all pumpkins have such a nice color and are in great condition. I love being able to actually choose your pumpkin from the vine. - Melanie M.VISIT South Dakota: Spearfish Corn Maze & Pumpkin Patch Great experience: food, activities, games for kids, fun, reasonable prices. - Jennifer PetersonVISIT * Note: Yelp was unable to pull data for south Dakota pumpkin patches, instead we took from this most appreciated patch from Google. Tennessee: Gentry's Farm Wow, what a wonderful afternoon we spent picking our own pumpkins, taking a car trip through the farm, and exploring all sorts of cool kid-friendly areas. - Liz B.VISIT Texas: Hall's Pumpkin Farm We have been coming here every year for 4 years now, since our son was born. Quite the event, tons of cute photo opps, hay rides and corn mazes (at a surcharge), a little petting zoo (well, if you can reach them through fence-haha-with chicken and goats mostly), warm corn, dog corn, sausages and more for sale. They also sell hay sues, corn stems, and a variety of different types of pumpkins, of course! - Ericka C.VISIT Utah: Crazy Corn Maze and Pumpkins We went again this year and we got 6 large pumpkins for $20. The total weight is 100 lbs ($0.20 a pound). There are plenty of perfect pumpkins to choose from. - E.S.VISIT Vermont: Douglas Orchard & Cider Mill Cider, the best cider doughnuts, strawberries and pumpkins of all VT! The staff were very friendly and friendly. A Shoreham organization! - Wyatt T.VISIT Virginia: Belmont Berry & Pumpkin Farm Overall, it was a great experience. The pumpkins were full, the sunflowers were beautiful, and the staff were very friendly. - Hayley M.VISIT Washington: Schuh Farms Loves Our Experience at Schuh Farms this year. We visited for the first time to get our autumn pumpkins. Where are lovely, easy to find and they have great prices. You can choose your own, they have a great selection of not only regular run-of-the-mill pumpkin carvings but a variety of different decorations as well. - Heather B.VISIT West Virginia: Orrs Farm Market This time of season there are seriously the most beautiful pumpkins and a lot of different apples. Definitely a place to visit at any time of the season. - Emily B.VISIT Wisconsin: Pearce's Farm Stand We can't wait to join! Bonfires, Halloween fun, fancy pumpkins for decoration (blue, white, crazy growth) and pumpkins for kids to carve for Halloween. AND vote preferred, not expensive. - Chrissy P.VISIT Wyoming: Green Acres Corn Maze Love this place! We come every year. Corn pits, hay baskets, animal tire swings, pet zoos, giant jumping bubbles, apple shooting, playgrounds, tractor rides and mazes! - Tiffany R.VISIT This content is created and maintained by a third party and entered into this page to help users provide their email address. You can find more information about this and similar content at piano.io piano.io

