CollectionEvery piece of furniture is handmade to order, with sizes, details and finishes modified to individual requirementsinspirationOur bespoke armchairs, sofas and sofas remain the furniture of choice for many discerning customers, from owners of contemporary apartments, townhouses, estates and stately homes to the AD and H&A; G Top 100 Designers.HistorySince the founding of Howard & Sons in 1820, we have acquired an unprecedented international reputation as 'makers of bespoke furniture', and the name Howard & Sons continues to resonate throughout the interior design industry nearly 200 years on. Today, we continue to produce timeless pieces, with the same traditional handmade skills passed down by generations of craftsmen. Often imitated, our classic, bespoke collections are recognizable worldwide, and our own designs easily adapted to your personal specification to ensure you'll own a piece of lasting furniture history to nurture for coming. Family ran on its inception in 1820, Howard & Sons is still family run today, and the same philosophy applies. Our focus: craftsmanship, unique design, quality and tradition. CraftsmanshipWe believes that our time-honored, traditional craftsmanship is the only way furniture should be created to ensure both comfort and durability. Each piece of furniture is handmade in our London workshop, built individually using oven-dried beech frames, hand-tackling webbing, independently coiled springs and low teased animal hair. Seating and back cushions are filled with our down and feather mix, or pure mode if requested. After nearly 200 years, Howard & Sons remains the furniture manufacturer wants to emulate every other company.
