City of palo alto utilities advisory commission

One of the most impactful ways to engage in city decision-making is participation in one of the City's many boards of directors, commissions and the issuance of specific citizen committees. These groups consist mainly of Palo Alto residents, many of whom bring scholarly expertise and/or broad community connections to the table. They are advising the City Council on policy issues and are working closely with city personnel, who serve as a bridge between the community and city's decision-makers. Members are appointed by the City Council and usually serve three or four year terms. For more details on the purpose, membership, and activities of each group, including recruiting timelines and applications, click on the group name below. Architectural Review Board (ARB) Citizen Advisory Committee for the FTTP and Wireless Master Plans Historical Resources Board (HRB) Human Relations Commission (HRC) Library Advisory Commission (LAC) Palo Alto Bicycle Advisory Committee (PABAC) Parks and Recreation Commission (HRC) Library Advisory Commission (LAC) Palo Alto Bicycle Advisory Committee (PABAC) Parks and Recreation Commission (HRC), PRC) Planning and Transportation Commission (PTC) Public Arts Commission (PAC) Utilities Advisory Commission (UAC) Purpose: The Utilities Advisory Commission (UAC) is levied from providing advice on the acquisition and development of electrical, gas and water resources; joint action projects with other public or private entities involving electric, gas or water resources; environmental implications of electrical, gas or water utilities, conservation and demand management. Meetings: Regular meetings are at 7:00 p. m. on the first Wednesday of each month and are cables live on Government Channel 16. Please check the appendices of city meetings for exact dates, times and location. Whoever is on the Commission: The Utilities Advisory Commission consists of seven members who will be appointed by and serves at the pleasure of the City Council. The term of office of each member will be appointed three years or until his or her successor. Six members of the Commission will be residents of the City at all times. The names and addresses of current commissioners are listed below. Contact the Commission by email. The Utilities Advisory Commission appreciates trial of citizens and your email will be sent to all seven commissioners. Correspondence received at noon on the day of the UAC meeting, in relation to an item on the Agenda, will be placed at the Commissioner's places at the meeting. See Palo Alto Municipal Code (PAMC) Sections 2.16 and 2.23 for more information about the Utilities Advisory Commission. Be notified that your email to the UAC is a public record and your correspondence should not include any private information (such as home address or minor children's names) that you may not want the general public to have access to. If your email is in relation to a specific agenda item for an upcoming meeting, your email will be available for public inspection at at Meeting. We thank you in advance for took the time to share your comments! Recruitment The City continuously accepts applications for Boards of Directors and Commissions.
