Numbers is a visual adventure game with well-defined logical elements. In this game, we play the role of an actress who tries to clear the murder charge with a ROBOT SCOUT. We play Admirer Mizrahi, an actress who has been playing popular detectives for years. Unfortunately, she was fired, and soon her former boss was found dead. With the help of a scout robot, a woman tries to solve the mystery and clear her name. Killing by the numbers is a pretty typical novel. The game mainly refers to reading dialog boxes, observing the illustrations shown and making random decisions that affect the story. During the game we visit a number of crime scenes shown in two-dimensional illustrations, such as dance clubs or TV studios. Conversations with the characters play an important role, thanks to which we receive circumstantial evidence that allows us to conduct an investigation. Artists enriched the visual formula of the novel with logical elements. During the game, we solve puzzles that are correct arrangement of numbers or calculations. Killing by numbers has a two-dimensional graphic design based mainly on hand-drawn illustrations. The photos are made in manga style typical of many games of this type, the creator of the character design — Hato Moa - artist known to Hatoful Boyfriend. It's also worth noting the soundtrack for which industry veteran Sugimori Phoenix Wright Ice Lawyer, Ghost trick Phantom Detective, Wicketiff Joe is responsible.
