What did you love most about Movie Night? It wasn't until the book was finished that I really appreciated it for what it was: a literary masterpiece. Prose is excellent, never overblown with self importance, but concise and perfect in that short description phrase. It's not a thriller or a suspense novel but it's a real mystery that in itself has really never been solved except in it says, very beautiful author and brilliantly spoken by Jake Weber. Who is your favorite character and why? My favorite character is Cordova, who has changed in since the terrible killer, to love her father and come back again and always a mystery, still so. Was there a moment in the book that especially moved you? I was transformed by this book, rather than moving, like the protagonist, McGrath, who the story was narrated through, and who all came into contact with Cordova. The story hooked me up, more and more, as I listened until the end, which, although unsolved remains complete. Any additional comments? I thoroughly recommend this book to anyone who likes to write really well and a smart mystery. Not your daily paperback thriller!!
