Any advice on what to do? Thank you, DPC The previous next sort of voices until yesterday, the microphone on my plantronics Gamecom 780 worked amazingly (It's a USB headset microphone). All of a sudden he stopped picking up and other people couldn't hear me when I used him. Everything has been tried. -Uninstall/reinstall drivers -Raising levels in windows -Muting / unmuting using hardware switch -Connect to USB 2.0 & 3.0 One interesting aspect that I found that the microphone still picks up, but I have to shout into it to hear even the darkest noise when I listen to the microphone through windows. Also wondering when I would hit the whole at the back of the microphone, it would pick up wind noise, but not if I blew up at the front of the microphone. Also, whenever I flick the microphone, it would pick that up. What happens to this microphone? I have the same problem but with the Gamecom Commander headset. It sounded good until recently. My microphone is too quiet for others and windows. Make sure you connect it directly to your PC instead of through a USB hub. Try another USB port on your computer from the one normally used - which will force it to reinstall. Plantronic headsets run in some types of USB ports, such as USB 2.0, but not 1.0 or 3.0 plugs. Attempting to connect headphones to different USB ports until it starts working flawlessly. I've had this problem before, it works. So I had this exact problem, also tried all the solutions, but then this morning I (again) discovered that there is a microphone mute switch on the headset.. I won't ask you to send it until I have all the parts on my computer and it's all together. Direct message to me if you are willing to do so. 0 Request product keys is not allowed.
