Welcome to uk junior bodybuilder Connor's website. I'm 24 years old and I'm from Essex, England. My goal is to be Mr. Olympia, nothing less will satisfy me! I work six days a week and I was the strongest man in my school. In addition to bodybuilding, I enjoyed powerlifting and was shot putin regional champion. I started training in September 2008 and, as you can see, I have made tremendous progress in a short period of time, my goal at the moment is to put as much mass and size as possible. Look around and find out about me. If you want to know something else, please contact us on the contact page. /wp-content/uploads/YSM155-Demo.mp4 Buy: Only registered users can make transactions. Irish professional wrestler Killian DainDain in May 2017Birth nameDamian MackleBorn (1985-02-20) 20, 2019)[1]Professional pressuring name(s)Big DamoDamian O'ConnorDamoKillian DainBilled height6 ft 4 in (1.93 m)[2]Billed weight322 lb (lb (2))Billed fromBelfast, Northern Ireland (born 20 February 1985) is an Irish professional wrestler. She is currently a signatory to the WWE, where she appears under the NXT brand as Killian Dain. At the WWE, he was part of a team that included him, Alexander Wolfe, Eric Young and Nikki Cross. He previously competed on an independent track under the ring name Big Damo, derived from his front tyre name Damian O'Connor. Before joining the WWE, he won the heavyweight ICW world championship while wrestling in the Insane Championship Wrestling. [5] [6] [7] He also wrestled in numerous campaigns on a British independent track, across Europe and the United States, including Progress Wrestling, Revolution Pro Wrestling, Westside Xtreme Wrestling, Absolute Intense Wrestling, Beyond Wrestling, Premier British Wrestling, Scottish Wrestling Alliance, What Culture Pro Wrestling and IPW:UK. [8] [9] [10] [11] [12] WWE announced on October 19, 2016 that Mackle had signed a development agreement with the company and arrived at the WWE Performance Center in Orlando, Florida. [13] Early life Mackle played goalie for his college football side. [14] He also played rugby union (up to university level), basketball and He noted that as a child, he was interested in professional wrestling because of the larger-than-life persona and face paints of wrestlers like Sting and The Ultimate Warrior. [15] He mentions his compatriot Fit Finlay's huge influence on his wrestling style and inspired his success. [16] Professional press career Early career (2005-2010) Mackle trained for NWA Scotland in Scotland under Robbie Brookside (now a WWE NXT trainer). Of Brookside, he noted: I don't think there's enough hyperbole to explain what a good coach he is... I can't think of a better coach I've met in any sport. [15] After training at NWA Scotland, Mackle made his debut for the Scottish Wrestling Federation at the age of 20 under the ring name Damian O'Connor. He originally wrestled in Scotland and the north of England as Britain's most sought-after tag team with Scott Renwick. Together, the two won various tournaments and tag team titles in promotions such as SWA (4 times), W3L (2 times), SSW and 3CW. Although they never officially divorced, they both focus on a singles competition around 2009. This proved fruitful for both, and O'Connor began touring his native Ireland, the United Kingdom, continental Europe and the United States. O'Connor would win heavyweight titles in the SWE, W3L, XWA, Pride and Ring title in the laird SWA. In 2009, O'Connor took over a SWA education school called The Source Go-To School. O'Connor has coached numerous wrestlers, including Joe Coffey, Joe Hendry and Nikki Cross. [17] Insane Championship Wrestling (2013-2016, 2018) O'Connor wrestled randomly for ICW from 2009 to 2012 under various tricks, but his return in November 2013 saw him debut big Damona. Damo defeated Chris Renfrew at the ICW World Heavyweight Championship in Belfast on February 27, 2016, [18], marking the first time he has changed hands outside Glasgow and made Damo the first Ever Irish-born champion. On July 31, 2016, at Shug's Hoose Party III, Damo lost the championship to Joe Coffey. [19] 11 November 2018. O'Connor (Killian Dain) returned to the ICW for just one night, defeating Mikey Whiplash. [20] Independent Circuit (2014-2016) In December 2014, Damo unsuccessfully challenged Drew Galloway to the EVOLVE Championship in Inverness, Scotland. In 2014, Damo made his debut in Revolution Pro Wrestling. [22] In 2015, he wrestled to NJPW grand socks Tomohiro Ishi,[23] Hiroshi Tanahashi[24] Shinsuke Nakamura,[25] and Tommaso Ciampa. [26] In 2016, he wrestled international wrestlers Speedball Mike Bailey,[27] Roderick Strong,[28] Dalton Castle,[29] Big Daddy Walter[30] and Matt Sydal. In October 2015, Damo made his global force wrestling (GFW) debut on his UK Invasion tour, losing to Bram. [32] Total Action Wrestling (2016) In January 2016, Damo appeared in Total Nonstop Action (TNA) as part of the Maximum impact cycle. On March 1, in an episode of IMPACT Wrestling, Big Damo unsuccessfully challenged Eric Young for a mountain championship at TNA King. [34] TNA in One Night Only: Joker's Wild, Big Damon and Jimmy Havoc were won by Drew McIntyre and Mike Bennett. Impact Wrestling 8. Young managed to preserve. [36] WWE Sanity (2016–2019) Main article: Sanity (professional) In June 2016, Mackle signed with WWE to perform under its NXT brand. [37] [38] On October 19, 2016, WWE announced that Mackle had signed a development agreement with the company and arrived at the WWE Performance Center in Orlando, Florida. Mackle appeared at the NXT live event on April 4. Mackle made his debut at the NXT live event on September 11. [40] Then he returned to use the ring name Damo. NXT 7. In an episode on 11 December, Damo attacked No Way Jose and appeared to team up with the heel stable SANiTY. In January 2017, he began wrestling under the new ring name Killian Dain. [42] NXT January 18, 2001. [43] NXT's January 25th report on the 25th of January 2005[43] [44] NXT 8. On 22 February, Dain and Young and Alexander Wolfe beat Dillinger, No Way Jose and Roderick Strong. Dain and Wolfe beat Bollywood Boyz earlier in the night. [46] At WrestleMania 33, Dain reached the top three final at André the Giant Memorial Battle Royal before final winner Mojo Rawley was eliminated. On July 19, on an episode of NXT, Dain lost to Drew McIntyre in the NXT Championship No. 1 Contender, marking his first televised defeat. [48] NXT 28. [49] However, he failed to win. [50] NXT April 18. [51] During the 2018 WWE Superstar Shake-up, SANiTY (excluding Cross) was recruited to SmackDown. [52] The group debuted the 19th season of SmackDown LIVE. [53] The following week, SANiTY lost to the Usos and Jeff Hardy. SmackDown LIVE's 3rd Season 2015 [55] This led to a table match between two teams in Extreme Rules, which SANiTY won. The July 24 season of SmackDown LIVE, SANiTY and The New Day will be held on July 24. WWE SmackDown Tag Team Championship No. 1 Contender Tournament. SANiTY (represented by Dain and Wolfe) was defeated. [57] The group competed in only two televised matches during the rest of 2018, but competed mainly in live events. [58] After a break of almost four months on tv, SANiTY returned in an episode of SmackDown LIVE on April 2, 2019, losing a three-on-one Falls Count Anywhere match to The Miz. [59] Return to singles (2019–present) During the 2019 WWE Superstar Shake-up, Young was recruited to Raw. When Wolfe joined NXT UK[61], the group was officially dissolved. Dain made a return to NXT live events on May 16, defeating Jermaine Haley. [62] NXT 3. He made a comeback on the 17th of NXT. [64] This led to the match between the two being scheduled for the NXT's August 7 game. Dain, however, attacked Riddle before the fight started. [65] Personal life Mackle is a lifelong supporter of Premier League team Manchester United and NBA team Orlando Magic. [14] He has stated that he believes that wrestling – unlike other sports – can be a unifying factor for the people of Belfast, the country of his birth, because there are no (sectarian) affiliations in wrestling. He said that he was not in favour of Scottish football because there are a lot of connotations with sectarianism. He grew up in a confused area and is aware of keeping political connections out of his public life. Mackle married on The 17th. [1] Other media Dain made his WWE video game debut as a playable character in WWE 2K18 and returned to WWE 2K19.
