9th anniversary gifts for my wife

Our editors independently research, test and recommend the best products; You can learn more about our review process here. We may receive a commission on purchases made from our preferred link. While the first wedding anniversary often comes with grand celebrations — grand trips or lavish staycations, and of course the top layer of wedding cakes — the second sometimes seems less monumental by comparison. But this opportunity is no less special and worth celebrating. So how do you mark the second year in a way that feels fresh and new? Well, for starters, champagne is always a good idea. Choosing a gift that symbolizes your love and affection is also a must. The traditional second birthday gift is cotton, making this the prime time for splurge on an upgraded bed or a comfortable throw that you can use when curled up together on the sofa. Modern gifts are Chinese; consider adding a stash of your entertains, or discover unique pieces that are unique. But by all means, feel free to think outside the box as well, and remember that going with personalized special gifts is always easy to fool. Here, your partner's best 2nd birthday gift will surely be loved. Combining cotton elements and personalization, this large quilt is tailored to your initials and wedding year. Throw it on your couch to have on hand to curl up during movie night, or coat it on a bed in your master bedroom. Also good: It's available in two different sizes. Both a sweet and sentimental way to commemorate your wedding and a cool work of art for your home, this special canvas features sheet music from your first dance song. With eight different sizes to choose from, this can be a beautiful accent or a serious statement maker. Have your wedding song, wedding vows, or even just a heartfelt message that turns into a pretty mold. Each piece is specially printed onto a handmade piece of cotton paper (although FYI, the frame comes separately). Available in seven different sizes, it's also a budget-friendly option. This tray is a meaningful—and practical—gift for him. Choose from a variety of shapes and sizes, then add custom text on the inside. It can be something as simple as your wedding date, your vows, or a few lines about what you like about your partner. The message is printed on organic cotton, in accordance with the theme of the second anniversary. Channel the vibe of 'we relax in a five-star hotel' every day by tucking into this extra soft waffle woven robe. Kimono style is designed and comfortable, featuring contrasting pipes to completely complement That fancy hotel robe. Be sure to take one for you and your partner; You can even have it monogrammed with your initials for a personal touch. Courtesy of Uncommon Goods Oh, the places you'll go. These wonderful mementos come world map plus 100 pushpins. Use them to mark (and reminisce about) all the places you've traveled with—from your hometown to your wedding destination to your honeymoon destination—and/or to plan all the locations on your bucket list and plan future adventures. If you can take your favorite, most comfortable, most worn winter sweater and turn it into a blanket, here's what you'll get. Made of 100%, sustainable cotton, the black knitted throw offers a unique wash that gives it a dimensional and even more textured look; it's just as slick as comfortable. Not to mention that for every purchase, brands plant trees in the Amazon rainforest. For couples obsessed with your pet, there really is no better gift. Just send a photo of your pet and receive this strange custom-made print. Trust me, it's guaranteed to be fun. If you don't sign up for (or receive) a new bed for your wedding, consider this the right time to improve your sleep situation. This complete set has everything you need, including blankets, bundles of sheets, and even pillows. Made from a 100% cotton long-staple, it also really fits the theme of this anniversary, not to mention it's one of those gifts you're both guaranteed to get a lot of use from. Courtesy of Coyuchi When it comes to improving your bed, this blanket is the perfect accent piece. Available in four sun-washed colors, each with the same geometric prints, this is an easy way to add a pleasant visual touch to a neutral bed. Made from organic Portuguese cotton, it is stonewashed to make it extra soft, and the weight is perfect for adding extra warmth in winter or using solo in summer. Belongs to The Citizenry These towels are not made of old cotton. The brand partners with local artisans around the world to create beautiful goods in a fair trade environment. In this case, this is Pima cotton from a family-run factory in Japan that has been making towels for over a century. The end result is this amazing waffle woven towel that feels as good as it looks. You may already have a coffee maker in your kitchen, but we like the idea of giving this to any javanese addict to keep holding hands in his office. It comes with an electric pour over the kettle, dripper and carafe, all in a modern and minimal matte black design. If you don't need to completely change all your beds, but want to update your sheets, continue with this set. Made of soft patchwork cotton, the fabric only becomes better and softer as you and has the added benefit of being nice and cold to the touch, a gift for hot sleep. Although it comes in six neutral colors, you can't go wrong with a crisp, clean pure white. Level your coffee cup game with this set of six clean and classic mugs. All Chinese ceramics of this brand are durable and chip resistant, oven-, dishwasher-, and microwave-safe, and, and, best of all, designed to be stacked to help maximize space in your kitchen cabinets. Is your partner a coffee lover? Pair it with the next item in our list for the grand prize... Courtesy of Social Print Studio At this point, you've probably already composed your wedding album, so why not make another album capture all the fun and memories that have happened since then? This elegantly bound book features 38 ultra-thick pages and a beautiful linen cover that comes in 11 colors. For a personal touch, it has a special title stamped foil on the front. Any kind of birthday (anyway, any kind of celebration) calls for some bubble. Toast up to two years with a bottle of champagne worthy of this special occasion, considered one of the best there is. This exclusive variety is produced in limited quantities, making everything even more special. Take a pair of these for a sip saying celebratory champagne is out of. Each handblown glass is truly unique—no two are the same—and they come in a beautiful variety of solid colors as well as metal-fleck options. Plus, for every item purchased, the brand makes a donation to support children living in poverty. And who doesn't like a gift that gives back? Courtesy of Wonderful Winc It's guaranteed unlike any wine you've ever had before. Produced through sustainable winemaking techniques — think organic wines, pesticide-free farming, eco-friendly production and natural cork bottling — these are the 'cleanest' wines we've ever seen. But don't worry, it's still really delicious, and with this package, you can try red, white, and rosé. UncommonGoods/Etsy Choosing the perfect gift for your wife could be, well, a challenge.
