Money line: Auburn -304 (bet $304 to win $100) | Kentucky +240 (bet $100 to win $240) Against spread/ATS: Auburn -7.5, -110 (bet $110 to win $100) | Kentucky +7.5, -110 (bet $110 to win $100) Over/Under: 49.5, Over -110 (bet $110 to win $100) | Under -110 (bet $110 to win $100) Kentucky at Auburn: Three things to know about the Tigers announced in mid-August that they would allow 20 percent capacity at Jordan-Hare Stadium, which equates to about 17,500 fans. Wildcats must replace QB/NWR Lynn Bowden Jr., who was one of the most exciting players in SEC 2019. He is now relying on his trade with the Miami Dolphins. QB Terry Wilson returns from a season-ending knee injury, and he is battling auburn transfer joey gatewood and Sawyer Smith for the job. Yes, Kentucky could use all three quarterbacks early. The Tigers don't have such issues because sophomore QB Bo Nix is back in the middle. He was good enough in 2019, but he needs to take a big step forward if Auburn is to compete for the championship. Kentucky at Auburn: Odds, betting lines and picks Bet Auburn 27, Kentucky 16 Money line (ML) Auburn (-304) is the heavy favorite for the opener, but you can't risk three times your potential return game where you haven't seen either side yet. It's just too risky. Avoid. Against the spread (ATS) I feel a lot better support from AUBURN (-7.5, -110) when the line wasn't seven and hooked, but the uncertainty under the middle of Big Blue makes me feel a little bit better. It also let the fact the Tigers are 9-3 at ATS in their last 12 home games over the past two seasons, including 8-2 ATS in the last 10 as the home favorite. Over/Under (O/U) DOWN 49.5 (-110) is the way to go with this one, as nix and the Tigers offense was decent but rather mediocre at times last season. The Wildcats have some growing pains as they try to figure out who their field overall is. It's a tough place to try and answer questions because the Tigers have DE Big Kat Bryant and LB K.J. Britt breathing down their necks. You want to do something about it? BetMGM. For more sports betting picks and tips, visit SportsbookWire.com. Please play responsibly. Erik Hall | Montgomery Advertiser Gus Malzahn discusses Auburn's second fall scrimmage We have had a good week in practice. It was good to get back to the routine of the Auburn football team opening the 2020 season at home against Kentucky in Southeastern Conference action on Saturday, September 26 at 11 .m. CT. Auburn, ranked No 9 in the Amway Coaches Poll, finished the 2019 season 9-4 overall and 5-3 in the SEC. It ended last season with a 31-24 loss to Minnesota in the 2020 Outback Bowl. No 20-ranked Kentucky went 8-5 overall and 3-5 in the SEC during 2019. UK wrapped up last season by beating Virginia Tech 37-30 in the 2019 Belk Bowl. Auburn vs. Kentucky football betting odds-on game week, Auburn is a seven-point favorite against Kentucky, according to BetMGM. The Commission has the game has 47.5 points. Auburn has a -278 win straight, and Kentucky has a +225 win straight. In 2019, Auburn averaged 33.2 points per game and allowed 19.5 points per game. Nix set school freshman records with 2,542 passing yards and 16 touchdown passes, but the belief in his ceiling is much higher. He's another player right now and he should be. Tigers coach Gus Malzahn said. He's got a year of experience. He's one of our leaders. ... I think you'll see him fix it. Nix certainly took care of the ball with just six interceptions. He enters a season-high school record streak of 191 throw passes without an interception, which is the second-best active streak nationally behind Clemson star Trevor Lawrence (276). The Tigers (9-4, 5-3 SEC) reached the 50-point mark four times during Nix's initial campaign. It ties the second program in history behind six 50-point outings. Heisman Trophy winner Cam Newton put on the board during the school's 2010 national championship season. Kentucky (8-5, 3-5 in 2019) has senior Terry Wilson back at center after he missed the final 11 games last season after tearing a patellar tendon in his right knee against Eastern Michigan in the second contest of the season. Wilson is not a big thrower, but the Wildcats mainly had a run-first operation that couldn't stretch the field without him. Wilson completed 67.2 percent of his passes for 1,889 yards, 11 touchdowns and eight interceptions in 2018. Coach Mark Stoops said he sees the quarterback ready to step his game up to the level after dealing with injury difficulties. He missed a year and it hurts, but he's still older and smarter and has more understanding of the offense, Stoops said. It comes with reps. We've got to have a great week and he's got to go out there and start. We're going to lighten it up with a road game in Auburn. Stoops laughed after relaxing this Auburn comment because he knows the opener is not an easy task. The Wildcats are just 6-26-1 all-time against the Tigers and 2-12 visiting Auburn. The trip to Auburn is the first for Kentucky since 2009. Stoops sees this contest as the beginning of an ultra-tough schedule for the COVID-19 situation that led to the conference pushing back early in the season and going into the 10-game, all-SEC slate. We have a difficult schedule ahead, Stoops said. It's brutal. Brutally difficult. I just shake my head in amazement at how hard and how well prepared that every team we play is. It's a challenge. The capacity of Jordan-Hare Stadium has been reduced to about 17,500 for the opener and Auburn students make up the majority of people inside the stadium. If you look at it, most of our fans are students. Malzahn said. Our students are the best in the country, so I'm really looking forward to these guys bringing their A-game, making it as loud as possible and making it a good home-field advantage. Auburn's top back defender is senior middle linebacker K.J. Britt, who had 69 tackles (10 losses) while earning first-team All-SEC honors last season. Kentucky's defense is led by senior outside linebacker Jamar Boogie Watson, who has 13.5 career sacks. --Field Level Media
