In need, he asks for oh oh low in W2s in particular I think I read in the instructions that if you didn't file the tax you send 1040 proof of W2s income 1. Tax Filter: All tax followers must provide a copy of their IRS Federal Income Tax Form (1040, 1040EZZ, etc.) for the 2014 calendar year. If you are providing a copy of the 1040 tax form, please do not include any schedule or additional form 2. Non-tax filter: Non-tax followers need to provide w-2 copy (a form that summarizes employee income and tax cuts for years, and is a government source of information in which employees must be used to prepare annual tax returns), W-9 (when a person or company has a tax identification number Required to request); and/or 1099 (used to report the distribution of retirement benefits such as pensions, announcements or other retirement plans.) Form for any individual received income in 2014 but a tax return for work is not filed in the year 2014. Hopefully I can't get spoiled on oh low, I think I read in the instructions that if you didn't file tax, you'd be able to get w2s Send you proof of 1040 income 1. Hopefully I'm not getting worse than i read in the private message he sent me and it was different. Anyway, by the tax refund, my family and I have some paperwork (W2 and something) I just copied the photo copy and sent them all. Well I read in the private message they sent me and it was different. Anyway, by the tax refund, my family and I have some paperwork (W2 and something) I just copied the photo copy and sent them all. I should do the same anyway that I'll find the reaction next week: The Dadechnaghtzz I actually sent my parents' 1040 only. At 1040, this should show how much this income was from W-2. Since I am a non-tax filter, I join the cover sheet, parent 1040, my W-2, financial assistance (grant + loan), and the letter of explanation that includes my other kind of expenses (with financial assistance like non-taxpayer), some of the scholarships I parent, etc. I hope these are good enough for them to see and approve! What I should do the same is that I will find next Week for this was approved 3 business days. (6 days tomorrow) Wow okay. Their FATA instructions are stated: Tax Filter: All tax followers must provide a copy of their IRS Federal Income Tax Form (1040, 1040EZZ, etc.) for the 2014 calendar year. If you are providing a copy of the 1040 tax form, please do not include any schedule or additional form then I refused-the reason why they needed parent W-2. But the instructions said they needed a tax form. I checked the instructions by downloading a new one (not even a week's age) then it was changed: Tax Filter: All tax fallars in THE IRS federal income tax form (1040, 1040EZ etc.), w2s, with 1099s and w9s, must provide a copy for the 2014 calendar year. If you are providing a copy of the 1040 tax form, please do not include any schedule (W2s are required) it is just ridiculous. Well I sent them a long email about it so hopefully they will respond. lol save your instructions file before they update? I have the file so they deny me so I will show them but hopefully I get approved. @jaymaster7 yes Did! I sent them both files (June 11 Today's instructions). I told them it's very unfair. Send us at least one email about changes! The @DodobirdFiance was just rejected. E-mail says thank you for applying the 2016 ADEA Adasas Fee Assistance Program (FATA). Your request for fee help has been denied. The decision was based on the financial information reported on your ADEA documents supporting the adus request and the need received from our office. This decision is final for 2016 cycle. Does your email specifically say you have denied you did not send W2? What does your email say? Should the overall parent's income be under $60k or something? Just checked the portal because I didn't send W2s, let me send dirty email sadly I'm completely lost. Someone helped me. Please excuse really dumb questions, it comes to tax papers so I'm really lost. I sent my FATA request tonight and now I'm getting my paperwork. Also my FATA covers and my parents have been sending them w2's since 1040 as well as 2014. I worked from October 2013-April 2014 but I didn't have a tax file for any year (since I didn't do much) and I've only had a W2 for years 2013. I don't work yet and I live in my parents' income and my four years of college and I had money from financial assistance/grants. I still graduated so Im not filed a fisa for the 2015-2016 school year. I just sent my parents in 1040, with their W2's? Since I did not file tax and there is no income now, do I need to add anything? No help please. I'm sorry I'm completely lost. Someone helped me. Edit: Nnmv, I see that you can assemble the app then send support documents within 10 days. Last modified: Jun 14, 2015 @DodobirdFiance was only denied. Just checked the portal because I didn't send W2s, let me send dirty email sine-mail this bastards fata 2016 instructions have a section on pdf eligibility (pg. 2) and fee help to list annual income closures. I've suggested downloading FATA 2016 Instructions TO DF, I think it will answer all your questions. @DodobirdFiance you get any response for your email? I just sent them my email but I doubt they would do anything. I haven't answered yet. I'm going to call Adasas again to give them my notes about this problem. If the instructions were so clear that they had to amend it later, they should accept responsibility for it. But if anything happens, I'll update you. Would have been.
