What's the will? There is a legal document you use to leave the property to your family members, friends or charities. In your form, you appoint beneficiaries who will inherit your property, an executor who will wrap up your property, the guardians to take care of your young children, and the guardians to own and care for your pet. You can set trust for money inherited by children. You can also forgive the debts you owe and indicate how you want your debts, expenses and taxes to be paid. To start creating your will, visit Nolo's Online Will website on the Nolo website. Back to the top What can I do with this will? This will help you: Name the beneficiaries (and alternate beneficiaries) for inheriting your property. Name a guardian to take care of your young children. Create trust or custody and choose an adult to manage your children's assets. Cancel the debts that others owe you. Please indicate how debts, costs and taxes should be paid. Name the executor to pull out the terms of his book. Back to the top What information do I need to make my will? It will be easier if you first gather some information: a rough inventory of your property (but if you plan to leave it all to one or a few people, This should not be skipped) on the beneficiary list -- that is, people when you have your devotion, the list of alternative beneficiaries -- people when you inherit your obligations, the executor of your first name dies, but you have little call , list of first and second choices for the guardian list of your first and second choices for the contact information of the executor for the person you appoint as administrator, executive or pet administrator information about the debts you want to forgive, including the date you lent the money, and the amount you want to forgive the account numbers and location of all accounts you want to use to pay debts Costs and taxes Back to the top How long will it take to make my will? I could make a very basic will in a few minutes. But there is an important document on the will; Don't rush it. Put aside an hour or two to think about your wishes and make your will. Back to the top How long will you save my personal information? After purchasing your ooke, Nolo keeps your personal information for one year. In the meantime, you can return to Nolo's online legal forms to change the will or print copies for reference. If you don't want Nolo to keep your personal information, you can delete it at any time. Back to the top What if I have questions on the way? Nolo's Online Legal Forms offers extensive legal and practical information to help you at every turn. On the right side of each screen in the interview, you'll see information about the decision you've made right now. Back to the top What will my finish look like? Click the link below to see the sample will. Of course, it's just document reflects your property, property, circumstances and the laws of your country. Sample Will Be Back to the Top What Should I Do With My Completed Will? You must sign your will in front of two adults who do not inherit under your will. These people don't have to read ooke, but everyone has to sign as a witness. Save this original document in a safe place, such as a fire-safe box. (Full sign instructions will be printed with your completed will.) Back to the top Can I make copies of my finished ooke? It is ok to give a copy of your will to the executor or other loved ones for informational purposes, but do so only with unmissable copies, so that it is absolutely clear that the copy is not a legally effective will. (A good idea is to save one non-signed copy with a signed document in case you need to make copies later.) Don't sign more than one copy of the ooke. This creates more than one original document and can cause confusion after your death. Back to the top What if I want to make a difference later? Access to Nolo's online legal forms will be available for the full year from the date of purchase. During this period, you can make audits. To change the will after a purchase, sign in and select the document you want to edit on the home page of Nolo's online legal forms. You can't edit a finished document directly -- locate the interview screen with the document that has the answer you want to change and make it there. If you change your will after you complete an earlier version, you'll need to sign it and see it again - as you did with the previous version. Nolo's Online Will always comes with instructions explaining how to finalize your will. Back to the top Which real estate planning documents do I need? In addition to will, you might consider that: living trust (the main priority is avoiding the exhaustive litigation after your death), the Health Care Directive (the appointment of someone who will make health-related decisions if you become too ill to do so), and the power (to allow a trusted person to sort out your affairs if you can't). Learn more about these documents and how they can help your family in nolo.com. You can now live online with Nolo's Online Living Trust. Back to the top Is it safe to make manners without a lawyer? Making manners rarely involves complicated rule of law, and if you're like most people, you won't need a lawyer. It's up to you to leave your property any way you want. Most people don't find this task too difficult. Step by step we will escort you through the process of making your own legal equipment. And if there's a situation where you can use the advice of a lawyer or other expert, we'll be the first to tell you. If you decide to get help from a lawyer, let Nolo's Lawyer Directory take a guess from finding an excellent lawyer. Back to the top, is that right for me? The Nolo's Online Legal Will is a simple, legally valid document. This should do well for most people with typical assets such as house, car, savings, and investment. It's always ok to make a simple will -- everyone needs it. There are, however, some situations where you may need more than a simple will and should get expert advice or at least explore your options. For example, if you think you or your spouse can leave assets worth more than $5 million, your property may owe property tax, and you should explore tax savings strategies. If you're expecting family fights, ask your lawyer how to unsue bad feelings and legal battles. If you want to determine long-term trust for a child with special needs, find out how you can provide for your child without compromising state benefits. See special needs funds of Stephen Elias and Kevin Urbatsch (Nola). Nolo's Online Will is not suitable for residents of Louisiana or the U.S. territory. You must be at least 18 years old and have a healthy mind (which means you know what you have and who you want to leave) to make a valid will. For in-depth information on property planning, see Plan your estate by best-selling author Denis Clifford. Back to the Top Why Can't I Do Nolo's Online Will in Louisiana? Nolo doesn't offer real estate design products for Louisiana. Louisiana's property planning laws differ significantly from property planning laws in the other 49 states. Louisiana based its laws on the Napoleonic Code, while other states based their laws on English common law, and Louisiana's real estate planning laws remain unique. If you have questions about real estate planning in Louisiana, ask your local attorney. Back to the top Always a completely free way to make your will. Start browsing documents Will Start your will Due to recent events, many stores are facing a shortage of certain products. Be aware that many retailers may not currently be in stock, have longer shipping times than usual, or charge above-average prices. Keep in mind that stock items are not actually necessary at the moment and that too many purchases can leave others vulnerable.
