Summary As you can see, there are many ways to get a free iTunes gift card. Companies are waiting for your help and they will reward you for it. Have you ever tried any of these websites? Do you know another way to get free iTunes gift cards? It's rude to reject a gift card, and they rarely come with gift cards because people don't think they're going to return gift cards. I mean, who returns store credits? Well, I would. Cash is more helpful to me than an iTunes gift card, but here we are. At least I am I'm not alone - we've received all the gift cards that look like a white elephant. Well, there is more than one way to issue a gift card. Here are a few ways to use a gift card for a digital store that you don't use. Before we go any further, go thank the person who gave you the card before turning it into something useful. Friends are awesome. Do you have a friend who could actually use an iTunes gift card to buy apps for their iDevices? Do you have a friend who uses gift cards to reload their kiddos' accounts instead of keeping a credit card in the file? Ask them if they want to buy your card from you. You can do the transaction in person, and since you already know the person, you don't have to worry about taking your gift card and running it. This is probably the easiest way to exchange your gift card for cash or a gift card to another store. Regift physical cards As long as they don't write your name on the card itself, you can keep the gift card and give it to someone across the line who could use it. Most large digital stores don't have gift cards that expire, and you can simply remove the card from the paper slip if your name was written there. Buy a found labyrinth gift card case - or just use a beautifully decorated Altoids can - and regift away. If you received a digital gift card in your email, it's a little harder to repoint. If the digital gift card came with a code, you can send it in another email/text, but they look a little weird. But hey, as long as they can use it, who cares? Reddit Gift Card Exchange This is a digital age where there are many people who want and need different gift cards out there, and Reddit has one of the better places online to try to swap them. Just as people can exchange digital copy codes, PC parts and all sorts of interesting and insane gear on Reddit, the Reddit Gift Card Exchange is a subreddit that helps users exchange gift cards safely and lawfully. Some people will buy gift cards from each other, some will exchange gift cards of equal value, and after Christmas you will be more likely to find someone willing to swap for your gift card. Just be sure you're reading their guide and be ready to lose a few dollars on the stock market. It was a gift anyway, and 85% of the money on a store you use proposes 100% of the money on a store that do not do. Use it on Movies Anywhere-authorized movies and music if you are unable to unload your card, or you just don't want to bother with it, don't worry, there are some things you can do with your card. If the gift card you're trying to blow is for iTunes or Vudu, then you can just do yourself a favor and buy movies that movie anywhere is eligible. Movies Anywhere can connect and sync your movie library between iTunes, Vudu, Amazon Video and Google Play, so you can buy movies from one of the four retailers and enjoy them on all four platforms. Not always Studio is on board with Everywhere else, so check the movie list on the store and make sure it says it's Movies Anywhere eligible. The other media that can be easily cheesy and split between digital retailers is music. If you have a digital gift card to burn, you can buy a few albums that you had in mind and download them to your computer or upload them to the music locker service of your choice. iTunes often has more albums for sale than Google Play, so this could be a golden opportunity to buy an album you haven't found in your regular store.
