James's 2012 novel. This is the third and final installment in the Fifty Shades of Grey (2015) and Fifty Shades Darker (2017) film trilogy. In the film, Dakota Johnson and Jamie Dornan as Anastasia Steele and Christian Grey follow the pair when they get married, and they have to deal with Anna's former boss (Eric Johnson) who starts stalking them. The main photo on Fifty Shades freed began at the same time as Darker in February 2016, in Paris and Vancouver. The film was released in the US on February 9, 2018, including a limited edition of IMAX. It was a success at the 2016 Treasury, which grossed more than $370 million worldwide against a production budget of $55 million. It's the lowest film of the trilogy. Like its two predecessors, 50 Shades Freed received negative reviews, with criticism for its script and acting. Plot Newlyweds Christian and Anastasia are forced to cut their honeymoon and return home after receiving news of a break-in at the company's Christian headquarters. Some computer records have been stolen, and security camera footage identifies the perpetrator as Jack Hyde, Anna's former boss, who was fired for sexual assault. Meanwhile, Ana introduces herself to the new personal security team. Christian surprises Ana with a new house and has hired attractive architect Gia Matte to renovate it. Anna is annoying when Gia flirts openly with Christian in Anna's presence. Anna privately threatened to fire Gio if she continued flirting and forced her to stop. When Christian is away on a business trip, Ana ignores his desire to stay home, and meets her friend Kate Kavanagh for a drink. Kate, who is dating Christian's older brother Elliot, says she suspects Elliot may be having an affair with Gio, who is also his business associate. When Ana comes home, she encounters Jack Hyde, who's trying to kidnap her. Anna's security team killed him, and he was arrested. Arguing with Christian about her evening out with Kate, Anna insults Christian because she over-controls and possesses and demands more freedom. Soon after, Christian surprises Ana with a trip to Aspen, with kate, Elliot, Mia and José. Elliot proposes to Kate, who accepts. It's revealed that Gia only helped Elliot pick out the ring. The married men continue their erotic sex experiment, but things get complicated when Ana announces she's pregnant. Christian is deeply disturbed, saying he had other plans for their early years together. He leaves and goes on a nightly drunken drink. Upon return, Ana discovers that Christian sent a text message and met his former lover and former BDSM dominant Elena Lincoln. She gets mad at Christian and locks up in the casino for the night. Christians look for Ana in the morning, and they continue to argue with Ana, who tells Christian how important the child is to her. Soon after, Hyde issued a $500,000 bond, phoned Ana, who demanded a ransom for Mia, Christian's kidnapped sister. Hyde is demanding $5 million in cash in two hours and threatening to kill Mia if his demands are not met. He warns Ano not to tell anyone and bring the money himself. Ana takes a checkbook and a revolver from Christian's desk then goes to the bank to withdraw the full amount. Suspicious bank manager to Christian. He thinks Ana's leaving him, and then he notices the coincidence of Hyde's release, the unknown Of Mia's town and the sudden big cash withdrawal. Hyde tells Anna to get into a car parked in the alley and turn the driver over to throw it away. Anna tricks Hyde by taking the bank manager's phone and squeezing her phone into a bag of money. She leaves the back door to discover that the driver and Jack's accomplice are her employee Liz. Anna comes to the drop-off with the money. Hyde, psychotic and vindictive, attacks Ana and kicks her stomach. Liz tries to stop Jack when Anna pulls out the revolver and shoots Hyde in the leg. Christian and his security team, who electronically tracked Anna's cell phone, came and caught Hyde and Liz. Anna softens when she hears Christian's voice. Three days later, Anna wakes up in the hospital with Christian by her side. Though angry at Anna's recklessness and still a concern about fatherhood, Christian realizes how important their child is to her, and they get away with it. Christian's adopted daughter Grace assures Christian that Anna won't leave him. Anna comes home the next day. Christian's private investigator, Welch, left a report showing that Christian and Hyde shared the same foster family, even though Christian doesn't remember it. Hyde retaliated because Christian was adopted by a rich gray family in his place. They also learned that Hyde was blackmailing Liz into being his accomplice. Christian and Ana are also learning Christian's mother is buried. They visit her grave and Christian lays flowers on it. She made $38.6 million over the weekend, the lowest of the trilogy, but enough to take the top spot at the box office. [22] The film grossed $10.8 million on Valentine's Day, the third-largest total when the holiday fell on the weekday, for a vow ($11.6 million in 2012) and Darker ($11 million), bringing the five-day gross to $56.1 million. In its second weekend, the film grossed $17.3 million, down 55.1% (slightly better than the previous film) and finished in third place, behind newcomer Black Panther and Peter Rabbit. [26] Critical response Rotten Tomatoes review website has an approval rating of 12%, based on 181 reviews, and an average score of 3.08/10. The critical consensus website reads: 'Fifty Shades freed brings its titilating trilogy to the unspoips conclusion that is behind the film franchise, which adds up to a very unsatisfactory ménage à trois. [27] On Metacritic, the film has a weighted average score of 31 out of 100, based on 43 critics, meaning generally uncomfortable reviews. [28] The audience surveyed by cinemaScore put an average B+ rating on a scale of A+ to F, the same rating was earned by Darker, and PostTrak reported that 56% of women (who made up 81% of the audience on opening weekend) definitely made a recommendation to the film. Writing for Variety, Guy Lodge was critical of the film and said, Actually, without sex, the PG-13 version of Freed can cut without watering down a second of narrative coherence as it is; We may wonder what the point would be, even if similar searches could be leveled with a movie as it is. [29] Peter Travers of Rolling Stone gave the film none of the four, noting, With this last entry, we officially hit the bottom of the soda. The beats, chains, ass plugs and nipple staples are nothing compared to just the torture of watching this movie. [30] Robbie Collin of the Telegraph gave the film one of the five stars, and he also wrote This is a film in which one of the more emotionally detailed performances gives audi product creations. Jeannette Catsoulis writes for The New York Times, The Film is a resort that is significantly inferior to 91/2 weeks Kim Basinger, 2. Abduction outside the left field and marriage over email addresses. But these narrative fragments, lazyly dumped together with a neglected supporting outflow, are nothing more than an unacceptable cause that connects the bonfire sessions. [32] Opposite, indieWire reviewer Manuela Lazic Film tri od štirih zvezd, ki pravi: Končno je pojav petdesetih odtenkov prinesla dezarmirajočo komedijo, zaradi česar je ta smešni material zabaven za gledanje.
