Binge app lets you watch live TV channels available in your DTH subscription. You'll also get a catch-up TV service where you can watch your favorite shows you've missed. The catch-up TV service supports episodes for up to the last seven days. This app is not available in the regular Amazon Fire TV Stick App Store. The same applies to the JioTV app. With these two apps, you have access to over 600 live TV channels. Should you buy the Fire TV Stick or go for Tata Sky Binge? Well, today many of us already have Amazon Prime, Netflix and Hotstar subscriptions. Other services such as Hungama Play and Eros Now offer access to Bollywood and Hollywood films and regional films. If you are one of those who watch many regional movies and sports, it might be a good option to get binge. This is assumed you are a Tata Sky subscriber. Otherwise, you're better off buying one from Amazon. However, you'll miss the Binge and JioTV app. August 17, 2019, 7:26 PM | #29 thanks for the source.
