Dcuo build guide

DCUO guides page is a collection of different tutorials for all DCUO players that are a little confusing with some DCUO in-game system. These tutorials are free, high quality, up-to-date written by DCUO fans or mmorpg-life staff.   Contact us if you have a guide and want to share with all DCUO community members feel free to contact us. DCUO Spring Event Guide In order to start the spring event talk about Swamp Thing in the Watchtower Aquacultural Area (as a hero) or Poison Ivy in the Hall of Doom's Pit (the villains). Also don't forget to talk to Veronica Cale (Villains) or Doctor Sarah Charles (Heroes) to find out more about taking swamp thing. Continue reading the guide... Lair theme sites and Chattal Lairs and hideouts are located all over Gotham and Metropolis. The base starts as a blank card. It doesn't have furniture or equipment except the main computer, the base computer. Continue reading the guide... Prime Battleground Tips The biggest tip is that everyone should learn the fight mechanics of all bosses. Everyone is responsible for their own survival. Learn what will be a one-shot and proactively communicate about how to avoid that. If you don't have a microphone, you'd better at least listen. Continue reading the guide... T4 Prime Battleground Raid The raid is a great ongoing fight featuring 3 Avatars (Meta/Magic/Tech) and the end confrontation with Brainiac. Prime Avatars switch between them, one being active at the same time. There's a spawning behind every avatar that keeps spawning adds to your affiliation (meta/magic/tech). When killed, these add drops to an element that can be used to reduce the spawning shield. After 3 items are gathered, the spawner can be destroyed and no more adds spawns. Continue reading the guide... Earth Tanking Discussion This is a compilation of tests and information about the land refueling community. This performance kit gives you a good mix of everything. It introduces new forms of refueling through pets and aftershocks, good mitigation on par with other tank powers. There are some nice pulls, crowd control and utility powers. Continue reading the guide... Earth DPS guide The Crushing loadout usually focuses on low cooldown, medium damage that can be used quickly in succession. The Dazing loadout usually has some more damaging powers in longer cooldowns, which, if cascading, also deals terrifying damage to the enemies. Continue reading the guide... DPS for beginners All characters in the DCUO are capable of the compensation coil. Seeing how everyone can play this reel everyone will play differently. The next one works for me. So don't get angry with someone that plays differently then. The damage has only one responsibility in the group, and that's to kill everything. And to kill them as quickly as possible. as brutally as humanly possible. When the boss fight where the boss asks adds, you will have to share the fire between the boss and the ads. Continue reading the guide... Seismic Earth DPS guide After experimenting with various loadouts, I've worked out what I think are the tools for the best Daze based loadout. Instead of all the tricks to trade away, then point out the Power interactions and tools needed to tear it up like DPS. Continue reading the guide... Exobitek & You EXOBITS; these are broken/damaged pieces of exobytes that were not activated when Future Luthor blew them up in the earth's atmosphere a few years ago (see the intro video). Some landed on the moon (the Hive Moon Base for example), others spread far & wide around the world. They represent a small glowing rainbow star with a high-toned buzz. Not to be confused with the briefing, examination or collection of icons sound, which is a slightly different sound. Continue reading the guide... Controller 101 See allot of people think that the controllers of the Power are like healers of health, all you have to do as the controller hit 1-2 powers and blue bars just keep up with the team, I just want to be so simple, the Controller's powers do not regen their own strength, unlike this Healers Spell everyone heals ... including healing if you are low enough for health. Yes Controllers can give buffs that can give you power over time, but when you press the button that pumps up your team's blue bars you don't get anything in return. Continue reading the guide... Electric Healz This guide is for electric healers only. It does not cover other types of healing, magic and nature. Some of the basics of healing are universal to a healer, but the actual nuts and bolts of healz powers are much different from the DC Universe. Continue reading the guide... Oolong Island Collection Locations This map is made from collections in the Normal version. You will find collection pieces of rerest materials and SCIENCE SQUAD experiments collections. Continue reading the guide... Watchtower map No matter if you are a new or a veteran DCUO player, you will probably be lost many times and end up with one of Watchtower's tiered wings. In this map are built into a lot of information, you often need, such as where to find teleport locations, missions, equipment manufacturers and much more.

Continue reading the guide... Lightning Strikes DLC Bounty Sites Heroes you've probably met some DCUO Wanted Bosses known as BountyEs, and the latest Lightning Strikes DLC Heroes have a chance to test their skills with the new Open World Bountyes. Continue reading the guide... How to collect Plant set Here's a little guide to collect the plant set. This is a stock, as the whole part is obtaining through briefings. on. Collections. Continue reading the guide... DUO Tips The following tip-tricks and advices by Iceman2537 and his friends over at The Society's USPC server league. The main purpose of this guide is to help the green 30s to get the signals needed for better gear, so you can get the more difficult alerts for raids and missions. Continue reading the guide... How to collect the Archer set Unlike other sets, the Archer set consists of only six parts: Chest, Back, Hands, Waist, Legs and Legs. There is also an Archer style mask (it's not part of the set), but it's sometimes bugged and not visible in some characters. Once you're done, you'll get the 25 points for the Man in Stocking feat. Continue reading the guide... Basic Guide to DPS The FOS raids out, it has become very clear who knows how to play as DPS and who doesn't. FOS raids require good, capable and skilled DPSers to be able to finish them within a reasonable time and heartbreak. So I thought I'd write a BASIC DPS guide (for raiding) for existing and new people. So if you're doing half of dmg experienced players raids, read below and learn the basics around DPS. Continue reading the guide... Hard Light Guide to DPS and controlling If you look at the description of each power, you will see that it gives you the opportunity to combo other powers. As you do, simply use the commands in the Power description it says. For example, Light Claws says to combo the Mini-Gun, using the Ranged Moon attack. So once you cast Light Claws and the animation finishes, just hold down the Ranged Attack button. Looking for a description of the Mini-gun, you can see that you can combo the Whip Thrash (x2), which means you can combo into it twice, one after the other. To do this, when the Mini-gun animation is complete, tap the Melee Attack button once to go into Whip Thrash. Tap again to do it again as the first animation finishes. However, please note that combo has other powers, you must have bought these powers. Continue reading the guide... Fortress of Solitary Power Core Guide Fortress of Solitary is an eight-person raid that requires tier 3 armor. One of the main rewards for successful players is Marks of Krypton, which players can use in the Watchtower or Hall of Doom. Continue reading the guide... How to collect medieval set Here's a little guide to collect the beautiful medieval set. This is a special set, as each part was given duos and the necessary role - Tank. Continue reading the guide... As the Fire Tank Kristyana is extremely TL; DR Guide to the Fire Tank consists of three parts-the first two provide theories behind refueling and fundamental differences in fire and ice, and the last for anyone who wants to skip the I don't care Just show me how. Continue reading the guide... How to get Lantern colors for your character Here's a little visual guide on how to use the official ingame NPC Lantern colors for the Green Lantern Corps and the Sinestro Corps for your own character! The ingame DLC light powerset archetypes are not the same color the NPCs do, unfortunately, so I thought I'd make this little guide for those who have problems getting the colors right in relation to NPC official colors. Continue reading the guide... Maps of race venues Whether you have decided to run, Fly or do Acrobatics in some DCUO Races will be a challenge for you. The maps below show all race locations (introductory and Rookie are omitted as they are outside the starting nightclubs/police station). Continue reading the guide... Metropolis Exploration Feat The maps below show the triggers for various exploration feats. Continue reading the guide... Gotham Exploration Feat The maps below show the triggers for various exploration feats. Continue reading the guide... Daily Toyman Race Tutorial Daily Toyman Race tutorial is designed to help new players and people who are struggling in the daily Toyman race. This one runs through some commentary and some tips. Continue reading the guide... Skill points and weapon trees These maps make the main stats in the game, in order of importance (my personal opinion!) depending on the role. Basically, you can tell you how many skill points you need to completely max out all the innate in the role of trees, starting with the most important stat (again, in my own opinion) and moving downhill. Continue reading the guide... How to gear up correctly for DCUO in the DPS role levels 1-30 in a tutorial to adapt your powers, learn the combat system and understand that feat points lead to skill points. While new players first realize that it allows you to buy points to other weapon classes, but the fair value of innate abilities (may be, crit, defense, health, vitalization, dominance and recovery). They make you better in the role and never stop leveling your character with skill points. Level 30 you need at least 25 skill points to be able to move comfortably through level 30 content. Continue reading the guide... Depths of the Arkham Collection For those looking for the depths of the Arkham Collection, Xionsmith, Vobe and Electric have created a map of all the spawn points they've found so far. Collections only spawn at the same time on the island and there are about 4 spots that were to spawn underwater in the colony. The spawning time is approximately 10 minutes. Continue reading the guide... DCUO Tomorrow District Collections and Locations The map below shows each collection spawns I found over 30 hours searcyhing in the Tomorrow district. One round The collection spawns were high on the roof or high ledge. The square means that the collection spawning was down low on the ground, or a first/second story roof or awning. Continue reading the guide... How to collect Dresden 7 kit Here's a little guide to collect the beautiful and futuristic Dresden 7 kit. This is a special set, as all parts are given through briefings and collections. Once you're done, you'll get the 25 points in the spotlight feat. Continue reading the guide... Caging Penguin Instance Cage Penguin is a new challenge mission, part of a March update that appears to be the hardest solo mission in the game. If you underestimate your bosses you will surely pay for it! Players who have Tire 2 or Tier 1 armor in this case are slightly lighter, but can be done without raid gear as well. The incident is located inside Gotham – Burnley, Gotham Old Subway. The boss fights basically mini lessons from the new 30s on how to do raid boss fights. They teach you to learn to block and not range and worry about phase changes. Continue reading the guide... Marks Rewards DCUO If you press the Loot button before the Mark has a chance to settle and stop movin' after the bosses are dead, you may bug out and not fall. If one of the players (in raid, duo, or alarm) loots the items and the bag is full you don't get loot. Continue reading the guide... The list of wanted bosses of heroes throughout the game DCUO has several wanted poster missions that require you to kill a certain boss. Most of the time you don't have to make the mission of the poster after you attack the monster to get it. However, not every time this will work. The posters can be found at the police station. Continue reading the guide... Ace Chemical- DCUO Hard Mode warns this hard mode alerts are quite different from others because they are dynamic. The ACE is never the same twice. First, you go through a few rooms until you reach the large main room with a queer in it. In this room will be ambushes, 5 of them. First, you have to beat the raids before the doors open to move on. Continue reading the guide... 51-DCUO Hard Mode Alerts The general walkthrough of Hard Mode alerts is very similar to normal alarm playthrough. The four sections of this are exactly the same. Continue reading the guide... Being a naturalist in Scrump The most important thing you need to remember while healing is to keep using your gun combos, or you'll run out of power very fast. Because nature has such a wide variety of glasses, people ask me for suggestions on what skills are important while leveling. First, let me start by mentioning that leveling Nature builds very differently and requires a respec when you start getting close to 30 fits more smuggly in the endgame. reading the driver... Statistics and systems systems The King level 30 will have 15 Power Points and 15 Skill Points only to reach the level. You can earn a number of additional skill points by performing scolding feats that reward you towards new skill points. Feats are results that you get things done under certain circumstances. Continue reading the guide... Legends PVP Beginners Character Guide bulthax This is a beginner's guide to legends Arena. It lists all the characters you move and a little bit about what you do with each. There are no statistics on that. Its really just to give those new to Legends an idea of what their abilities do. Continue reading the guide... Iconic Armor Guide King So many people (including myself a time ago) started the game and started leveling the character, only to find that the iconic armor you get from Mentor isn't quite what you wanted for this toon. Well this guide to solve this problem and answer the questions you can make is iconic and how you can get them. Continue reading the guide... A Guide to Weapon /Role Synergy by Doctor Comics One of the most common questions I see on chat channels and forums both here and in SOE is this: Is (weapon A) good (power B)? This guide is designed to answer this question. Continue reading the guide... How to respec If you decided to respec your character and do not know how to do it, this tip will help. Continue reading the guide... DCUO Statistics Descriptions The Statistics tab in the Inventory window (I) displays the player's current attributes. When you click on the Stat name, description will appear read under the window of the stat. The main statistics: Health, Performance, Protection, Might, Restoration, Vitalization, Accuracy, Toughness and Dominance. Continue reading the guide... List of Keyboard & Chat commands kithkarnon By typing a slash [ / ] before certain commands entered in the chat window, you will be able to enter how or to whom, you can chat.
