Girl short story analysis

Follow the latest daily buzz with BuzzFeed Daily newsletter! Hey, friends! I congratulate you on another New Year with another guide from me! I recently got into the world of literature and I want to introduce it to you too! So, what are you waiting for? Let's get start! > writing utensils > paper > THIS IS THE MOST IMPORTANT THING, SO DON'T FORGET ABOUT IT!!! - YOUR IMAGINATION! - As everyone knows, stories start once... This is not a bad way to start and it can be used as an interesting hook for your audience, but... Let's hold this for a while. Let's start by thinking about what you want to write about: Fantasy, Mystery, Science Fiction, Non-Fiction, Historical Fiction, Romance, etc. choose one, and start letting your imagination flow. Typically, a storyline appears in a roller coaster union or something on a triangle. There is exposure, conflict, ascending action, culmination, falling action and resolution. It's easier to start brainstorming with climax or resolution so you can work backwards. You have to fill in the conflict first (which will drive the protagonist's feelings to create a story). There are four types of conflicts: > Most common: Character vs. Character (protagonist vs. antagonist) > Single internal conflict: Character vs. Yourself > Last two: Character vs. Nature > Character vs. Society After performing all this work, you can finally come to writing! That's the thing: everyone writes unequivocally. There are many perspectives you can write with: 1st PoV, and 3rd PoV. There are 3 types of third point of view. >Objective: Where Narrator doesn't know any thoughts from any character. It's like they see it with their own eyes.>Rated: Where the narrator knows what everyone thinks.>Limited: Where the narrator can hear the thoughts of only one person (the protagonist). Get to write now! Usually the first one you write or write will be your project. You can get a friend to view it and give you thoughts about it to clean it up. Success! Hi guys! Want to do something special? Something different from a cooking recipe? Thus, you have found the right inset! You don't need to buy anything, you just need a piece of paper and a pen or a computer to write. You also need some imagination and a little patience. Don't worry! It's not like a novel! You must write a maximum of 3 pages. Now let's go make a short story! The pictures I posted here inspired me to have different stories, so I put them here. First of all, you have to choose the main characters. (maximum 5 different protagonists) Then you need to describe their appearance, character and explain how they are related. You have to give enough details without revealing everything. They should be ordinary individuals with a special and disturbing feature. (This picture Mine, my cousin drew it. Its website: Now, you have to draw the place of history. He can be anywhere, as long as his description is uncertain and a bit of suffering. In such a story you have to imagine three different places maximum. Places should be familiar to the reader. (House, on the street, in the cinema, etc....) You should also describe the ambient air, the atmosphere associated with the places. A short story should be based on two or three topics. He can deal with any topic. (About nature, for example) The story can be fantastic too. Throughout the story you have to focus on these topics. Events should unfold around them. You can make them obvious, but it is more important when these subjects are implicit. In this step you have to enter something strange in the real and normal context. Something that will disturb the behavior of the characters and their habits. You have to be scary in a particular scene, what can be called a key scene. Characters, and of course the reader, should feel insecure, lost and concerned about what is happening. A short story should be scattered from the details. After the key-scene you should be more and more accurate in the descriptions. This step is relevant because the reader will use these details as clues to imagine how the story ends. These details may have different meanings and interpretations. The reader must lead the wrong track and misinterpret the events of the story and the attitude of the characters. Tensions must endure until the end of history. This feeling will encourage the reader to know the result. You have to make the tension deeper. The attitude of the characters will change, the places will seem alarming. The reader's attention should be returned. He should not suspect what will really happen at the end of the story and should be afraid. Only at the right end of the story, in the last sentence, in the last words, will you open the denunciation. That means the fall of history. You have to come up with an unexpected ending. If the reader is surprised and amazed, you managed to build a short story. Here are some of the best stories around, and what makes them even more remarkable is the fact that each of them is totally free. If you like to read this article just for you.1.
