(Power-up). Shooting Boba Fett doesn't count for the trophy. If you have problems with this trophy, though, you can create a game session to find someone to help you with this. You'll need to be in separate teams to increase this. To go to different sides with your friend, let them join a game first and then follow them from their profile for a chance to be part of the enemy team. Only multiplayer The first thing you need to do to get this trophy is to equip a feature card. You can't unlock feature card. You can't unlock this trophy is to equip a feature card. You can't unlock feature cards first. You can see all unlock levels in the game by going to Collect -> Unlock -> Star Cards. These cards cost 7.000 in-game currency that you get by playing matches and earning mission stars. Feature cards are bonuses that give you extra abilities once you earn multiple levels. They range from levels 1-3. They can be anything from reducing explosive damage to having a 100% chance of earning a power-up with a kill. Equip any feature card of your choice. Reaching level 3 will be easy. You need a killstreak of 6. If you die, the level will be reset to 2. The Scout trait card is excellent for flanking enemies because it hides you on the mini-map. Multiplayer Only This trophy requires you to get 100 kills with a hero (like Luke Skywalker or Darth Vader). Heroes vs Villains is a great way to get this trophy. You can play in the role of all heroes and earn this you will have to kill 25 enemies by walking on them with the AT-ST. Turning Point is a great way to get this. He's still in Jakku. Simply find power when you play on the imperial side and start running on people. Credit to Lilly Brawl3r for up-to-date information. That's what got him! Use a towing cable to destroy an enemy AT-AT in Walker Assault 11.53%Rare Multiplayer Just to do this you'll need the T-47 vehicle to turn on in the third and final phase of the battle. The ignition is easy to recognize, it looks like an Airspeeder and two of them will be generated at the same time. If you have problems, you are advised to do the Invasion training mission. This will teach you how to tow the AT-AT cable. It is necessary to the ship in the center of the meter using the right analog stick. Also, if you don't know what an Airspeeder looks like, it's the vehicle you fly on this training mission. That Got Him Video Guide Credit to InFlameBoy for the video. Hold the line! Kill 10 enemies while attacking or defending a control point in Supremacy 30.37%Only uncialed multiplayer The goal is supremacy is to capture control points and repel the enemy team. The team that has the most control points at the end of the game will win. To get this trophy you need to be in the capture area of control and kill enemies. Capture areas are easy to recognize, they are large circle-shaped areas on the map. Stay on targetKill 10 enemies in a Fighter Squadron 13.87%Rare Multiplayer Only game This can be a bit difficult if you're not a good driver. A.I. fighters don't count for this trophy, so you have to have 10 human players killed. Millennium Falcon and Slave I are very powerful and quickly take down fighters, so if you have difficulty looking for a Hero pickup near the ground. You don't have to use a hero vehicle if you can handle it without one. Right now the rebel fighters are much more powerful than the Imperials, so having it will be easy if you know what you're doing. Just focus on human players. Real players have name tags so they can distinguish between players and A.I. Move the viewfinder over a target to see if they are human or A.I. Focus the blaster's fire and fire missiles at them. Check out this helpful guide to the location of IGN hero tokens if you're having trouble finding them: Hero Token Locations Guide. What's the load? Kill 10 enemies carrying cargo in Cargo 12.42%Rare Multiplayer Only Cargo is a game mode similar to capturing the flag. You're going to have to kill the enemy aircraft carrier 10 times for this trophy. It doesn't have to be in one game. Play the TargetDo the most kills in a Blast 13.39%Rare Multiplayer Only Buggy game This trophy simply requires you to be the person with the most kills after completing a game in blast game mode (the team deathmatch version of the game). Buggy: Many players have trouble unlocking this trophy right now. It has been reported that if you have the most kills at the end of the round when time runs out, the trophy will unlock. If the maximum ticket limit is reached, you will not unlock this trophy. However this trophy is not a technical issue for everyone, so you could be lucky and unlock it without any problem. Only multiplayer The goal in Hero Hunt is to hunt down the hero and kill him. The player who kills the Hero becomes one of them. It's a little Deathmatch. You will run against other players to kill the hero and defend yourself when you become one, it is recommended to indoors or stay in a place where enemies can't flank you. Get 10 kills in a single game as a hero to get this trophy. Multiplayer Only when you play Drop Zone, you will fight for drop pods that land around the map. The team that claims the most Pods wins. You have to kill 10 enemies trying to reclaim Pod to get this trophy. Once your team is defending a Pod, stay nearby and take out enemies who are trying to reclaim it. Gonk? Gonk! Capture three droids in a Droid Run 25.77%Uncommon Multiplayer Only game Droid Run's goal is to claim all droids as your own. Droids slowly walk around the map so situations can change as the game progresses. Race to the target and catch as many droids as possible. You'll need to get 3 in a game to unlock this trophy. Multiplayer Only In Heroes vs Villains the goal is to kill all enemy heroes. Heroes won't regenerate, so if a Hero dies they're out of the game for the round and will generate themselves as soldiers to help with combat. You're going to have to kill a hero as a hero. It's simple because you eventually regenerate like one and fight other heroes most of the time. Keep playing this game mode and you're sure to get this trophy naturally. At 900 years old you reach... Reach rank 50 9.35%Very rare Multiplayer Solo Grind To reach rank 50 you will need to earn experience points. You'll earn most by going for the other trophies, but you may have to grind a little after you're done. The best way to gain experience is to complete challenges. You always have 3 running challenges. You always have 3 running challenges. They can be anything from killing a certain number of enemies with a certain weapon or winning 3 times in game mode. If you have a challenge that you don't like or it takes too long to complete it you can change it by purchasing a new one for 500 in-game currency. To buy new ones go to your stats, challenges are shown there. Since the game was patched, new daily challenges have been added, so getting to rank 50 is even faster. Play the types of games you like. There is no mode that has the best end result of the experience. If you prefer the easiest way you can always play Fighter Squadron and kill A.I. opponents for an easy experience. CollectorEarn any diorama figurine in game 57.59%Common This will unlock when you reach level 10. This will be one of the first trophies you earn. Optionally there's probably some other goal you can achieve, but it's actually not necessary. Buggy To get this trophy you have to 25,000 credits, the game's in-game currency. You earn money by completing multiplayer games or earning mission stars. You don't have to keep everything at once, so don't be afraid to spend it! DistinguishedEarn 100 Achievements 22.41%Not Common Multiplayer Solo Grind This trophy should unlock with normal play. The results are additional, additional tasks, are different then challenges. They can be anything, for example, earn 10 kills with a blaster rifle in a single game or get 25 kills. You'll probably unlock one or two results with almost every game, so this trophy will probably unlock pretty soon. Determined To 25 challenges 12.70% Rare Multiplayer Solo Grind You always have 3 running challenges. They can be anything from killing a certain number of enemies with a certain weapon or winning 3 times in game mode. You should continue to do this because they will give you extra experience points. If you have a challenge that you can change it by purchasing a new one for 100 in-game currency. To buy new ones go to your stats, challenges are shown there. Don't take cockyDefeat both the Millennium Falcon and slave I 9.06%Very Rare Multiplayer Only You can get this trophy in Fighter Squadron. It's easier to find a Hero vehicle pickup and try to get the other vehicles that way. Millennium Falcon and Slave I can both take a lot of damage and it may take several attempts to get it if many players shoot the target at the same time. You can also try to crash your hero vehicle towards each other, but keep in mind that the accident doesn't always give you the kill. It seems to be a bit of a lottery getting the kill. Check out this helpful guide to the location of IGN hero tokens if you're having trouble finding them: Hero Token Locations Guide. A tremor in ForcePlay once like all the different heroes in the original (multiplayer Only The easiest way to play once like any hero is to play heroes versus villains game mode. You will play randomly like all the characters and this way you will not have to look for hero power-ups. Team up with a friend to complete a mission. If you are looking for someone to help you with this, you can consider finding or creating a game session on this site to seek help! The trophy can also be earned splitscreen with a friend. It can be done in any mission and difficulty of your choice. Co-Op or Solo To unlock this trophy you must complete ALL missions. The difficulty doesn't matter. Training missions also count for this trophy. If you're looking for someone to help you with this, you can consider finding or creating a game session. Master Complete all master difficulty missions in the original game 2.40%Ultra Rare Co-Op or Only Trophy Description can be a bit confusing. Basically you have to do that's exactly what it says. Beat all missions in Master difficulty of running without dying can be ignored for example. Most missions are quite easy and should not cause too much trouble. It's easier to do with a cooperative partner. If you're looking for someone to help you help this can then consider creating or creating a game session. A good thing to remember is that if you die, you can wait for your friend to finish the round instead of spending a lifetime. All maps have a place where you can camp in cover to defect from most enemies. In Sullust it's not that simple, but we'll get there in a while. The blaster cannon is your savior and is essential enough to use. Infantry and vehicle turrets can also be very useful. What you should do with pods is leave an enemy alive and then claim them. The enemy you leave alive is preferably a Viper probe droid because it does not try to reclaim the pods. You can simply avoid them and you should also use these situations to collect hearts and load pickups. If you have already completed the mission in Difficult mode, you can use your multiplayer star cards. Ion Torpedo is almost necessary for AT-ST. It is recommended to use the DH-17 blaster gun in missions because it has high damage at close range and will guickly face the imperials, but of course if you like another weapon more, feel free to use it! On Sullust's survival. Take a look at the image below. You'll want to place a Blaster cannon here and camp in this location. Eek! But won't the tie fighters be able to hit me? The trick is here. If it finds you in this position at the beginning of the round. Tie fighters will fly far into the sky and ignore you, but you have to be careful not to leave this corner or they will start shooting. It is very important for this tactic that before the fighters of the tie come back you get to this place if you are somewhere picking pods or doing something else. This place is also great for destroying AT-ST with your Ion Torpedo. All AT-ST's won't be left behind. Then you will have to deal with most imperials quickly and preferably inflict a lot of damage on walkers from this place before they approach. Once you've killed the imperials, you and your partner will have to rush into the back of the hangar. If AT-ST remains, destroy them by playing cat and mouse around the fuel tank at the back. Finally use your Ion Torpedoes to destroy tie fighters. Many people like to use Turbo Lasers, but 3 tie fighters, you can use it if you want it. If you can't get the blaster cannon to turn on, then it is recommended to restart the mission, but it can also be done without it, however it will be Difficult. Other survival missions are much easier because there are no tie fighters shooting from above. So you shouldn't have much trouble beating them. You'll have to take on the battle missions yourself. For Hero Battles, you'll want to use Princess Leia or Palpatine because they have the ability to give a sanitary pickup. This ability makes these missions very easy. Normal battles can be more difficult. The tactic here is simply to find a good place to hide behind, get an infantry turret to cover the other side while shooting at the other, and also take care of the leftovers of the infantry turrets. All maps have something to hide behind. Hoth is difficult because there really isn't a clear position to hide in. Go to the back of the cave and find a corner to cover your left/right as you use a blaster cannon and infantry turret to face the enemy. The personal shield is great for collecting tokens. Below is a video to show a tactic. This method works in all maps. You can also die once. The enemy team gets 20 points for killing you. It is easier to do this without the support of the A.I. so that he does not die and giving the enemy extra points. Battle Mission Tatooine - Master difficulty on the ball Complete any survival mission in Master mode within 35 minutes 4.83%Ultra Rare Precision shotOn get 10 shots to the head with the Cycler Rifle is a sniper, you need to get 10 head shots kills with it to unlock this trophy. One way to get the trophy is to flank people from behind and shoot them at close range when they're still focused on something else or capture targets. Alternatively you can flank the enemy from the corners in small maps when they are trying to capture the load or simply Snipe normally and you will eventually get it. The rifle was terrible before a patch was released, so now it shouldn't cause much trouble. Credit to Lilly Brawl3r for up-to-date information. Scrap Collectibles from a mission. This is 5 in a race. If you fail you have to take them again. Some missions have more difficult collectibles, but most of them are obvious and easy. You just have to find them from a mission. If you're having problems, here's a helpful guide from GamesRadar: Collectibles Location Guide. Alternatively, you can check out the video guide that shows all the collectibles in the game below. All collectibles - Video guide credit to PowerPyx for video. You don't have to earn all the stars to earn this trophy, just one per mission, so this is an extremely easy trophy to get and it will simply unlock by playing through training missions. You can see the requirements of the stars before you start the mission, then look at it and aims to complete at least one. Not taking damage in the Endor Chase mission may take a few tries, but it's quite easy. Focus on staying on the road and avoid using the push because you're not in a hurry. Below Below a video if you want to get a visual on the path. Beggar's Canyon is one of the training missions. You'll learn how to fly a star fighter. At the beginning of the mission you will face some TIE FIGHTERS after learning to control the fighter. Focus your focus on tie fighters and kill them as quickly as possible. Others will regenerate so as not to waste time. Keep destroying them until the trophy unlocks. New Recruit Complete any common 77.31%Co-Op mission and difficulty you would like. Co-Op or Solo This trophy requires you to earn 5 stars in total from battle missions. They don't have to be five stars from a single mission, you can earn as many stars as you would like from different battle mission in normal mode Complete the mission in difficult difficulty Complete the mission in distress without dying Complete the mission in Master Mode Find collectibles Once you get 5 stars by playing battle missions, this trophy is yours. Complete a battle mission in the original game 11.59%Rare Co-Op or Solo This trophy requires you to earn 5 stars in total from Survival Missions. It doesn't have to be five stars from a single mission, you can earn as many stars as you would like from different survival mission in normal mode Complete the mission in difficulty Complete the mission has 5 stars to earn: Complete the mission in normal mode Complete the mission in difficulty Complete the mission has 5 stars to earn: distress without dying Complete the mission in Master Mode Find collectibles Once you get 5 stars by playing survival missions, this trophy is yours. Ackbar's EliteComplete any survival mission in Master mode without spending a life 3.67%Ultra Rare Co-Op or Solo This is easier to achieve on Hoth. You need to get a blaster cannon and place it in the location shown in the image below. Stay in this position and take care of all enemies like viper probe droids, snipers, and jump troopers don't come in, so you have to go kill them through the door. Also, sometimes enemies get stuck in the back and don't come, so you'll have to attract them carefully. Once they start coming, go back to the turret. Overall it's quite easy, stay cautious and you're sure you're getting the trophy. If you want to do this with a cooperative partner, use the same method. Have the player who is getting the trophy field in the room while the other takes care of the enemies. This way, if the player who kills the enemies dies, the camper can still unlock the trophy. Do... or not. No tryComplete tutorial 59.31%Common You can access the tutorial from the main menu by pressing the command command All you have to do is complete the tutorial and this trophy is yours. This is a bit of a random trophy, but it won't be hard to unlock. You may have unlocked it before without even knowing it. When you play on Endor you'll see a lot of Ewok running around. These are the little hairy creatures. Sometimes they throw rocks at you. The map you need to play on is the Endor Forest Moon found in the Supremacy and Walker Assault playlists. Keep playing on the map and sooner or later you'll get it without even trying. If you really can't get it, try staying close to the tree houses as an imperial. WalkerDestroy's defender a Y-wing in Walker Assault 11.66%Rare Y-wing arrives in Walker Assault during the phase when the Rebels attack AT-AT. The easiest method is to take a power-up tie fighter and shoot down one. To get a fighter you will need to take a power-up that has a TIE Fighter icon. You will quickly learn what these are like and where to find them once you play more. They are easy to notice and show through walls and objects. The Y wings you need to destroy are the WING ships bombing the Walker. Take a look at the trophy image if you don't know what they look like. An even easier way to destroy a Y-side is to use an ionian torpedo (equip it as a star card on the imperial side). Once you arrive, lock your Ionic Torpedo on the Y-shaped and take it down. Down.
