I've been playing this game for a few years now, but I took a break because of the overwhelming amount of men trying to pick you up. I play every day and sometimes for several hours at a time. I like most features and hope it just gets better and better. I really wanted to give him four stars some things are nerve-wracking with this game. First, when I go watch a 30-second video to collect coins half the time it doesn't work and repeats that it's charging for the whole day. Please fix it. I would also like these videos to have given at least 5 coins at a time, but that's not a big deal and it's just my opinion. Another thing is that we still get game requests from men with fake profiles. As stated in many other reviews, if you do not chat and go to hangouts or other dating sites such as websites stop playing. Then that game will take the place of the game for 10+ days unless I give up, which then spoils my stats. There must be a way to work around this. Overall I love this game is my favorite of all time. I hope it keeps improving and we look forward to new features. P.S I played a player a few days ago who had rainbow tiles. I asked her several times how she had the opportunity for this style, but she completely ignored me. I wonder if something would have to be bought because I would like that. So I only gave it 3 stars because the app has some problems. Otherwise it's a pretty good game! I love the fact that you can play games with lots of different people and that there are solo challenges! But there are a few problems that stand in the way. 1) There are ads after each turn you take. only one one are: solo challenges. 2) sometimes I don't even get my games when it's my turn! I had to lose countless games because it never worked out that it was my turn! It I found was very annoying, and the only way that I've figured out how to find these games is if you log out and then log in again. And every time you sign out, even if it's only for a second, you get all these notifications about new players, as if you didn't even realize you're gone for a second. 3) sometimes he says it's my turn, and then I can't even play. It won't let me click on games sometimes, I've tried reloading my app several times, and it's never worked! And finally 4) timeout for games. I think personally it's quite annoying, you have like 10-12 days or something to play on your turn, or you lose! I'm not trying to spend every day on this app! I have other things to do and sometimes I won't come to the app for a week or more! But in general I like the concept, but if these few things can be fixed, then I certainly highly recommend this game. Thank you for taking the time to read this! Look, I know everyone wants us to buy a ad-free version. Sorry, but I'm not playing enough to make it happen. So I use the ad version and there's a big problem with that. I often play waiting in the waiting room or while watching TV with other people. I have a phone in silence. But , some ads do not want to remain silent! Suddenly there is an explosion of noise from the ad, which does not want to close! I'm going into a high fear panic trying to silence this ad that I don't even want to see! In addition, suddenly all ads are 30 seconds and you can not bypass them. It gets where we see the same ad over and over again and it's frustrating. There are several games that have seen ads about 1 million times. I started absolutely hating them. I'll never download these games just because I've seen too many ads. Okay, done with a rant about ads. The game itself is good. Badges are a nice touch and make you want to score more points. Other small games in the game such as collecting things to get a new box is also fun. The dictionary is good and helpful. But the dictionary often has words that it says it can't define. In addition, some foreign words are accepted, but some are not. The game itself is doing well without any faults. I really liked it. Download Android 11 on your Pixel device if you have qualified Google Pixel, you can check and update the update Android version to get Android 11 in the air. Alternatively, if you prefer to flash your device manually, you can get an Android 11 image for your device on the Pixel Downloads page. Read general instructions for flashing a system image on your device. This approach can be useful when you need more control over testing, such as automated testing or regression testing. In most cases, you don't need to fully reset your data to go to Android 11, but it's recommended that you back up your data before enrolling your device. Android 11 OTAs and downloads are available for Pixel 4a, Pixel 4, Pixel 3a, Pixel 3a XL, Pixel 3, Pixel 3 XL, Pixel 2 and Pixel 2 XL. Configure android emulator to run Android 11 Setting up android emulator to run Android 11 is a great solution for discovering new features and APIs and testing android 11 behavior changes. The emulator configuration is fast and convenient and allows you to emulate different screen sizes and device characteristics. You can configure the Emulator with Android 11 from inside Android Studio: Install the latest android studio preview compilation. In Android Studio, click Tools & SDK Manager. On the SDK Tools tab, select the latest version of the Android emulator and click OK. In Android Studio, click Tools & AVD Manager and follow the instructions to create a new avd. Be sure to select pixel 2, 3, 3a, 4 or 4a device definition and Android 11 image (API level 30). If you don't already have an Android 11 image installed that matches your device definition, click the Download button next to the release name to download it. When you return to the list of virtual devices in AVD Manager, double-click the new virtual appliance to start it. Testing general system image binaries for Android GSI (Android GSI) is available to developers to test applications and validate on supported Treble-compliant devices. You can use these images to resolve any Android 11 compatibility issues, as well as detect and report operating system and structure issues before the official release of Android 11. For information about device requirements, flashing instructions, and information about choosing the right image type for your device, see the GSI documentation. When you're ready to download a GSI binary, see the Downloads section of the Android 11 GSI website. Page.
