I can not give specifics, I do not keep this kind of records .... Trish Posts: 3332Joined: Fri Feb 23, 2007 9:00am » Tue May 29, 2012 10:34am I think Vex has one.... But you're going to have to take it out. Why can't that argon just find its own crap.... jeez Marie Contributions: 3405Soji: Thu Jun 29, 2006 12:05 » Tue 29.ridiculous 2012 7:20am Gold and Silver mining can throw away some nice flawless gems. If you are desperate, then you could save before you start mining then reload if none of the veins give you your gem. I'm almost positive that gems (and flawless gems) are flattened prey because I haven't seen the first til after level 35 and I've had a quest for 10 levels now. But if you haven't completed the search to find and bring their baby Dibelly, then the firsts will call the guards and they'll drive you away. If you can choose a lock, get in and they won't say a word. If you catch you stealing... So don't get caught. Sapphires are rare gems commonly found in Skyrim. They can be mined from Geodes Sapphire and pickpocket. Sapphire, a member of the Thieving Association, carries several of them. After obtaining sapphires, they can be used to blacksmith various valuable rings and necklaces for blacksmiths. Sapphires come in three varieties; standard, flawless and excellent. Unique Gems [Edit | Edit Source] Quests [Edit | Edit Source] Ringmaker [Edit | Edit Source] Locations [Edit | Edit Source] Sapphire can be found on the dresser in the steward's quarter, Mistveil Keep, in Riften. Two can be pickpockets or looted from Sapphire. A flawless sapphire can be found on a shelf in the inner sanctum of dibella temple in Markarth. One can be found in Mara's Eye Den, on a table next to the Smuggler's Journal. A flawless sapphire can be found at Korvanjund after completing the quest for the Jagged Crown of either Stormcloaks or Imperials. It is in a bowl above the library to the left of the main throne (looking at it). Using relentless force to bowl, or simply hitting it enough with a sword it will fall off, scattering gems on the floor. Telekinesis changing the spell can also prove useful in collecting the gem above. If dawnguard is installed, a flawless sapphire can be found next to the skeleton to the left of the inner sanctum. This requires careful treatment, because the skeleton is located very close to the edge and will fall and into the valley if the evil gem is raised first. If Dawnguard is installed, two flawless sapphires can be found at the end of Aetherium Forge. Gallery [edit | edit source] Add a photo to this Trivia gallery [edit | edit source] Getting a prowler's shorting profit by completing quest No Stone Unturned greatly increases the chance of finding flawless sapphires. There is only one place to get any excellent Sapphires – from Sapphire to thieves guild once Glover Mallory's letter is given to her. However, the letter respawns, which make Dragonborn get more excellent sapphories, even if it is supposedly unique. Since the Skyrim Wiki I've been having some trouble finding Flawless Sapphires for ringmaker quest in Riften. Does anyone else have the same problem? I have one that I took from the Temple of Dibella, but I can't find another one. Any posts for a second would be greatly appreciated.
