These are quite simple and as long as you just put a mix of wizard towers, archer towers and a few warrior towers (preferably at the end of the enemy route it should be ok! However, that is, if you need help on the first five levels here are some tips, you can also ask us a question through our answer page. After completing several levels, check the upgrades page to upgrade to towers that you put. Think about where you want to make improvements so they're not wasted on towers you don't like to use. Tab.Check quest that one made regularly too Crystals that you can earn for completing in-game quests. We have questions and answers to this topic that can help you: Show everything you knew this day would come. You never knew when exactly, but you knew that this day would come. A day when you would have to become the strongest defender of them all. You are the leader of a fearless group of warriors and gods, and you can also use gold knocked out of the castle and empire to build and defend the kingdom from the villains. Using these buildings and special spells, you must now defend against all the evil that comes at you. This is Empire Tower Defense, where you decide the fate of the kingdom. Empire Warriors TD is a simple TD game. Modeled on the usual type of game, you are positioned as the overseer of defensive warriors and towers against incoming waves of monsters, mobs and goblins. There are quite a few different tools at your disposal, so we will go through each of them. There are also both in-game and off-game tricks that you can use, so we'll be over the towers and how they work in battle first. Four Towers You have four different towers that you can use: Fighter, Archer, Mage and Golem. All these features have different features that you can unlock as you move on. The fighter class is a strong line of defense in the early levels. Allows three armed guards to go out in a designated place to defend themselves. Any enemy that enters this zone will have to fight them. Most of the damage, however, will be mage. Mage is the primary damage, because it can be a powerful fire squad. They suspend spells, and can do high damage at higher degrees. Archers and Golems deal significant damage, but not as much as a mage. Instead, these are the big support towers that we'll discuss later with their modernization. Modernization of towers Each tower has a different set of modernized features. You can choose only one of the two, so it is quite impressive. With a fighter, they can be upgraded to paladin and assassins. Paladins are great tanks, while assassins are big killers against large tanks. Archers can be upgraded to a night support tower or a sunbathing tower with damage. The night tower gives buff to other towers near it, and can also give you a strong sleep attack if it hits the target. The mage's tower can transform into a fiery or arcane mage. Fire is a tower with heavy damage, and arcane is more useful, where it can teleport enemies and send them far away. The golem is probably the strongest. It can be upgraded to a forest giant or a frosty giant. The forest giant can handle repeated damage at a decent pace, while the frosty giant best slows enemies to the snail's pace. Different combinations Probably the best combination that can be produced to destroy enemies is the funnel channel. If you have only one exit to which you want to you can first place the hunting tower to lock it on the very return, and then through several towers of the mage of fire. Then you can put a frosty giant, which is updated with slow infatuation. If there are still a few exits, usually 2 that enemies can enter, it is best to focus on having all the towers within reach of one certain plot. On the center plot, you want to put an archer tree overnight with improved tower strengths. The night archer tower can give any tower near it a boost to a critical chance as well as a boost to attack speed, making it ideal for damage towers. These are just some of the benefits that towers can take advantage of. This set is the largest you can use, but you can mix and match on your own. Your heroes can do a lot of damage to your heroes. Each of them can also have improved statistics. They have one basic damage skill that you need to activate while others are passive. As you progress, focus on leveling up passive skills as this will allow heroes to become completely independent and function on their own to level up. Modernization of towers by stars Each tower can also be modernized with the help of stars. These upgrades are a passive bonus upgrade. The stars themselves are conquered by defeating different levels. Each level can give 3 stars combined, and can be used to unlock tower upgrades. Each set is different. For example, mage towers can be upgraded with passive stars that allow them to deal more damage and also have a higher attack rank. The Golem Upgrade Tree can increase the amount of damage they can deal, as well as reduce the amount of money that costs to upgrade the tower itself. In addition, it can be fully upgraded to help inflict 5% of the current health of the enemy that will hit, or enemies, as it can deal an aoe attack. The Hunting Tower can be upgraded to deal more damage and gain more health, making them even stronger tanks. They can also get a life jacket, allowing them to stay alive a little longer against many enemies. Magic You also have magic spells. These are a bit strange, but they can be useful. there is a healing spell, a stun/cold spell, a meteor spell and a guardian spell. Of all these, the caregiver is the most important. It allows a giant guard, like another master, to fall into the ground. It is best to use sparingly, because they are not unlimited. Instead, use them only when you are in the crosshairs, because they will be necessary so often. After the guard the meteor is the next most important, followed by the healing spell. They can be used to remove large waves more often, as they do more often. Yes, use them on the right side t t
