4 marks of the church activity

For smaller parishes and congregations, handing over the offer table is not always enough to cover special programs, charitable services and other expenses. Creative fundraising events offer an opportunity for the church to pull together a common goal. When the small church needs to raise cash, look for fundraising activities centered around simple concepts that don't require large initial investments. monkeybusinessimages/Stock/Getty Images The traditional church bake sale is one of the easiest fundraisers to plan. Get permission to set up a bake sale table outside the grocery store entrance on Saturday, or plan to sell it outside your own church on Sunday morning. Invite everyone in your church or ministry group to contribute to some baked good. Be generous and don't be afraid to pay a high price. Free coffee throws up business and to-go containers give customers an opportunity to get their treats home with them. OlenaMykhaylova/Stock/Getty Images organizes pancake breakfasts on Saturday or Sunday mornings, spaghetti after lunch on Sunday services or Friday night barbecue plates. Whatever you choose, make sure that the service of easy-to-prepare dishes has broad appeal to the community. You may be able to convince a business or church member to donate some supplies, and buying them will reduce the cost of the ingredients. Sell tickets for $5 to $10 a plate and be sure to disclose where the money is going. Consider pre-orders for delivery or offering a drive-through carry out service. shells1/Stock/Getty Images Plan a church yard sale in spring or autumn when more people are cleaning up the mess or preparing to move. Advertise cheaply with patrol signs, online ads, flyers and posters in high-traffic areas such as shops, libraries and cafes. Invite members of the congregation to bring donated items to the Church a few weeks in advance so that volunteers have time to sort and price the items. No matter how big your temple youth group is, the fun will be where the youth gather to pray and enjoy the community. Many leaders of the youth group have set up stations within the temple for activity zones. Other leaders prefer to divide the youth into teams and send them into the community after prayer and worship, returning to the Church for classes, games, and dinner. Caiaimage/Sam Edwards/Caiaimage/Getty Images One of the main focuses of a Church youth meeting is to inform the youth group about positive ways of sharing faith. The development and sharing of testimony is an important part of Christian life. Make God-fearing decisions and share how these decisions have affected your are part of the division of faith. During the meeting, give the youth the opportunity to share their personal testimonies without fear and learn how to share their faith with others. Teach them God's word should speak for them instead of recited a complicated speech. The passages for sharing faith without fear can be found in scripture in several places, including: --In response, Jesus declared, 'To tell you the truth, no one can see the kingdom of God unless he is born again.' (John 3:3) --Jesus answered, 'I am the way, the truth, and the life. No one comes to the Father but me. (John 14:6) pastorscott/E+/Gettyimages Prayer and Praise activities begin with youth rallies, usually in the church chapel. Some youth groups praise bands that lead them to praise during rallies, and some major church rallies hire professional praise and worship bands. Prayer and praise are a large part of Church youth meetings, regardless of the size of the Church or youth group. It is time to prepare prayer lists and praise reports and seek God's guidance. A 1995 study by Youth and Religion Online found that 80 percent of U.S. teens pray. Hero Images/Hero Images/Gettyimages community activities are central to the church's youth rally. Invite Members to pre-donate bulbs to the youth group. The youth group consists of Jesus the Light of the World (John 8:12) on the outside of the light bulb containers. Choose the youth group into small units and send them into the community to distribute the lightbulb while it's still daytime. skynesher/E+/Gettyimages Many smaller youth groups end their rallies with wind-down activities. Divide the youth group into teams, making sure you have a leader every time. Give each time a list of pizza toppings. Each team must find each ingredient on the list, go to the homes of the people they know. In the list of toppings, you can buy only one item from a store. Once the items are collected, the team must take the items to the house on the map where the oven is waiting and bake the pizza. The first team to return to the temple with its ready-made pizza wins. After graduating from college, he came into contact with a Spanish teacher in Lenoir. The lady's father did not approve of Church's singing, instead recommending him a career in the corporate world. Katherine tried to connect him to one of the writers he used to work with. He's a music label, and he's been in the music business longer than church was. The two immediately got along well and started getting closer. They dated for a while and tied the knot in an exclusive ceremony on January 8, 2008.
