NRMCOB/GYN Associates offers a wide range of services for women ranging from obstetrics to gynaecology. The clinic helps women with reproductive problems including infertility, high-risk pregnancies, and contraception. For pregnant women, the Clinic offers a comprehensive approach to pregnancy that begins with prenatal education and care through childbirth and postpartum. Helping ensure babies reach 40 weeks before they are born, the clinic team keeps an eye on the mother and her growing baby. Mothers are encouraged to come to the clinic as early as possible if they think they can expect. Throughout the pregnancy, the team will monitor the mother and baby and be there to answer all questions a mother might ask about their pregnancy. Women's Health ClinicA deficiency in women's health issues, the Clinic team looked at women of all ages for gynecological treatments such as hormonal problems, ovarian cysts, cervical dysplasia management, incontinence and other health problems affecting women's reproductive organs. Dr. Runkles did not perform abdominal incision hysterectomy, oophorectomies and other surgeries and procedures at nrmc.
