Lafourche parish warrants for arrest

Lafourche Parish Sheriff Craig Webre announced the arrest of Michael Lirette Sr. (66 years old) from Raceland on Tuesday. Lirette is charged with First-degree Rape stemming from an incident involving a young man, who took place about ten years ago. Juvenile detectives opened an investigation into Lirette in October 2017 after a teenage freight victim emerged. Detectives learned Lirette had allegedly had inappropriate sexual contact with the child, including sexual intercourse, while the child was under the age of ten. The inappropriate contact took place several times over the course of approximately five years. On Tuesday 7 November, detectives made contact with Lirette. After questioning, Lirette was arrested and discussed in the Lafourche Parish Detention Center in Thibodaux on charges of First-degree Rape. His bond was set to $30,000. Lafourche Parish Sheriff Craig Webre has announced a Covington woman was arrested on several charges after he falsely accused a Thibodaux man of domestic abuse. Sandra Brooks (49 years old) faces charges including domestic abuse, slander and filing a false report. On June 29, 2017, Brooks submitted a report to the Lafourche Parish Sheriff Office in which she claimed physical abuse by 57-year-old Carl Johnson Sr. of Thibodaux. Brooks and Johnson collaborated from September 2016 to March 2017. Brooks reported that she sustained several injuries due to Johnson's abuse, and she offered audio recordings of encounters with Johnson, including an incident on February 24, 2017, in which she accused Johnson of domestic abuse abuse. Investigators also learned Brooks submitted a similar report with Johnson's employer, the National Football League, three months before 23 March 2017. Johnson is employed as an NFL line judge and is a former vice president of accuming the league. Detectives taught Brooks to also contact a national media outlet and share her allegations. Brooks filed a temporary protective order against Johnson and he was served with the order on July 11, 2017. Ten days later a hearing was held to determine whether the order should be extended. Based on the evidence and arguments presented, Judge Christopher Boudreaux dismissed the protective order with prejudice. In reviewing audio recordings provided by Brooks, and through interviews with both parties, investigators determined Brooks, not Johnson, was the dominant aggressor in the February 24 incident and allegedly committed a battery on Johnson. Detectives also found no evidence of any wrong doings by Johnson and eventually excuse him in the investigation. On 5 October 2017, investigators met with Brooks and informed her that no charges would be filed against Johnson. They also informed Brooks of the investigation into her involvement as the dominant aggressor in the incident and submitting a false report. The next day, Brooks contacted investigators and requested that they end the investigation and abandoned all charges against Johnson. Investigators informed her again that they only follow charges on her, not Johnson. During investigation that lasted several months, detectives interviewed nearly a dozen individuals and checked a large number of documents. They also have painful medical records various medical facilities that contradicted Brooks' injury claims. Detectives also concluded that Brooks Brooks audio recordings secretly without Johnson's knowledge, and she tried to provoke him. Those surveys were useful in determining Brooks as the dominant aggressor. Detectives also maintained contact with the NFL over the course of the investigation. Investigators obtained guarantees for Brooks' arrest, and on Tuesday 7 November she turned herself into the Lafourche Parish Detention Center in Thibodaux. She was booked on guarantees for domestic abuse Battery, Slander, Criminal Accident (Submitting a False Police Report), and submitting a false petition for a protective order. She was released Tuesday afternoon after posting $2,500 billion. As a condition of her tape, Brooks was ordered to stay away from the victim, Johnson. Detectives indicate that their investigation continues.
