(barely) made through a 20-foot night of stiff wind waves in a 44-foot trawler. We were at anchor, and if she had let go, I have no doubt that we would have sunk. My small 6V-71 didn't have enough power to keep the bow pointed in the wind of 50 knots. The wind would really be the problem, more than the height of the waves. Blow up on the side and die. In addition, coastal shrimp boats are trawlers, not deep-V. They are designed to slide the nets into shallow water, and are wide and flat enough for their length. I've been shrimping for a while. He made a crew on a 70 feet and was captain of a 44 foot that I trawled ashore and fished offshore. 1 Have you ever been on a real shrimp boat? Gump (narrator): At first it seemed like I made a mistake. It was only my induction day, and I was being yelled at. Bubba: Sit down if you want. Gump (narrator): I didn't know who I might meet or what they might ask for. Bubba: Have you ever been on a real shrimp boat? Gump: No. But I was on a real big boat. Bubba: I'm talking about a shrimp fishing boat. I've worked on shrimp boats all my life. I started on my uncle's boat when I was maybe 9 years old. I was just looking to buy my own boat and I was rescued. My first name is Benjamin Buford Blue. People call me Bubba. I Forrest Gump. People call me Forrest Gump. 2 I Know Everything There Is To Know About The Shrimping Business Gump (narrator): So Bubba was from Bayou la Batre, Alabama, and his mom cooked shrimp. And his mom before his cooked shrimp, and his mom before his mom cooked shrimp, too. Bubba's family knew everything there was to know about the shrimp business. Shrimp. I know everything there is to know about the shrimp industry. I go into the shrimp business for myself after I leave the army. Forrest Gump: O.K. Bubba: What you do is drag your nets along the bottom. On a good day, you can catch more than a hundred pounds of shrimp. All is well, 2 men shrimp 10 hours, less what you spend on gas- Bubba: Anyway, as I said, shrimp is the fruit of the sea. And there are thousands of ways to cook it. You can barbecue it, boil it or fry it. You can make shrimp soup, shrimp salad, or shrimp stew. There are pineapple prawns, lemon prawns and coconut shrimp. There are even shrimp in potatoes, shrimp burger, shrimp sandwich... 3 How would you like to put yourself in the shrimp industry with me? Bubba: Hey, I bet there are shrimp all in these waters. I'm told these Vietnams are good shrimp. After we win this war and take it all back, we can bring American shrimp here and shrimp into those waters. Just shrimp all the time, man. Bubba: Hey, Forrest. Gump: Hey, Bubba. Bubba: I'm going to lean against you. You're leaning against me. That way, we don't have to sleep with our heads in the mud. You know why we're a good partnership, Forrest? Because we look after each other, like brothers. Forrest, something I was thinking. I have a very important question for you. How about getting into the shrimp industry with me? Forrest Gump: O.K. Bubba: Dude, I'm telling you what. I got it all, too. So many pounds of shrimp are going to pay for the boat. So many books for gasoline. We'll live on the boat. We don't have to pay rent. I'll be the captain. We can just work together, divide everything in the middle. I'm telling you, 50-50. Forrest, all the shrimp you can eat. Forrest Gump: That's a good idea. 4 You twins? Lieutenant Dan: You must be my new men. Gump / Bubba: Morning, sir. Dan: Oh, put your hands down. Don't say hello to me. There are snipers all over this area who would like to shoot an officer. I'm Lieutenant Dan Taylor. Welcome to Fort Platoon. What's wrong with your lip? Bubba: I was born with big lips, sir. Dan: Well, you'd better go home than. It's going to be caught on a travel line. Where do you guys from the world come from? Gump / Bubba: Alabama, sir! Lieutenant Dan: You twins? Forrest Gump: No. We're not relationships, sir. 5 I'd Made A Promise To Bubba Gump (narrator): This mom, she was right. It's fun to have things that work out. I didn't stay long home because I had made a promise to Bubba, and I'm still trying to keep my promise, so I went to Bayou la Batre to meet Bubba's family, and introduce myself to them. Ms Blue: Are you crazy or just stupid? Forrest Gump: Stupid is also stupid, Mrs. Blue. Ms Blue: I guess. Gump (narrator): And, of course, I paid my Bubba himself. Gump: Hey, Bubba. It's me, Forrest Gump. I remember everything you said, and I understood everything. I take $24,562.47 that I had, which remains after a new haircut and a new suit and I took mom to a real fancy dinner, and I bought a bus ticket and then three Dr Peppers. Boat seller: Tell me something. Are you stupid or something? Forrest Gump: Stupid is also stupid, sir. 6 I would be your first companion. Gump: Hey! Lieutenant Dan, what are you doing here? Dan: Well, I thought I'd try my sea legs. You don't have legs, Lieutenant Dan. Dan: Yes, I know that. You wrote me a letter, you idiot. Well, well. Captain Forrest Gump. I had to see this for myself... And... I told you if you were a shrimp boat captain, I'd be your second-in-command. Well, here I am. I'm a man of my word. Gump: O.K. Dan: But don't you think I'm going to call you sir. Forrest Gump: No, sir. 7 God help Gump Reporter: Hurricane Carmen came this way yesterday, destroying almost everything in its path. And as in other towns up and down the coast, bayou la Batre the entire shrimp industry was a victim of Carmen and was left in total ruin. This reporter learned, in fact, that only one shrimp boat actually survived the storm. Gump (narrator): After that, the shrimp was easy. Gump: Since people still needed them shrimp for shrimp cocktails and barbecues and everything and we were the only boat standing, bubba-gump shrimp is what they got. We've got a whole bunch of boats. 12 Jennys, big warehouse. We even have hats that say Bubba-Gump on them. Shrimps Bubba-Gump. It's a household name. Man on park bench: Hang on there, boy. You're telling me you're the owner of the Bubba-Gump Shrimp Corporation? Forrest Gump: Yes. We have more money than Davy Crockett. Epilogue: Gump (narrant): Now Mom said that there is only so much fortune that a man really needs, and the rest is just to show. So I gave a whole bunch of them to the Evangelical Church of Foursquare... and I gave a whole bunch to the Bayou la Batre fishing hospital... And even though Bubba was dead and Lieutenant Dan said I was crazy, I gave Mom Bubba's share of Bubba. You know what? She no longer had to work in anyone's kitchen. 1 你上过真正的捕虾船吗? 阿甘(画外音):看起来我弄出了什么岔子。 这是我当兵第一天,可第一天就让人吼了一顿。 巴布(以下简称巴):如果你想坐就坐下吧。 阿甘(以下简称甘)(画外音):我当时不知道我会碰到谁,他们会问我什么。 巴:你上过真正的虾船吗? 甘:没有,可是我上过一艘真正的大船。 My name is Forrest Gan, and people call me Forrest Gan. 2 I don't know anything about the shrimp industry (voiceover): Babb is from Debetri Bay, Alabama, his mother is a shrimp cook, his mother's mother is a shrimp cook, and his mother's mother is a shrimp cook. For the shrimp industry, Babs are really omniscware. B: I know all about shrimp. When I retire from the army, I will do it myself. Gan: That's good. B: Just pull the net along the bottom of the sea. With luck, you can catch more than a hundred pounds of shrimp a day. If all goes well, two people fish for ten hours, less oil money... B: Anyway, as I said, shrimp is the fruit of the sea. Shrimp cooking methods are counting. You can use it for barbecue, or cooking, or frying, or soup, or cold dishes, or stews; pineapple shrimp, lemon shrimp, coconut shrimp, etc. and potato stews, shrimp burgers, shrimp sandwiches ... 3 Do you want to go shrimp with me? (Forrest Gump and Babb arrived for the first time in Vietnam... B: Hey, I bet the waters are full of shrimp. I hear this place in Vietnam is rich in shrimp. When we win this war, we'll take everything here, and we can bring American shrimp catchers here and hunt shrimp in these aquatic cities. Shrimps that never finished, man! (One day, taking a nap on the walk, Forrest Gump and Babb sat back to back in the rain. B: Hey, Forrest. Hey, Babb. B: I'm going to lean on your back, and you're going to lean on my back so you don't put our heads in the mud and sleep. Do you know why we're good partners, Forrest? Because we take care of each other, like brothers. Forrest, there's one thing I've been wondering about for a long time - I have a very important question for you, do you want to go and get me with me? Gan: All right. B: Dude, let me tell you this. How many shrimp you catch each day to pay the ship's payments and how much to pay for the fuel. We live on the boat so we can save the rent. I'll be the captain, we can do it together, everything is evenly distributed. Dude, I'm telling you, it's a breakdown of five and five. Forrest, there are shrimp you can't eat. That's a good idea. 4 Are you twin brothers? Lieutenant Dan: You're my recruits, aren't you? Gan and Ba: Good morning, sir. Dan: Put your hands down! Don't say hello to me. There are snipers everywhere, and I prefer to shoot the officers. I'm Lieutenant Dan Taylor. Welcome to the Ford platoon. You have a problem. Your mouth? B: I was born with a big mouth. Dan: Oh, that's all. You better hold him back, not die because he hit the mine line. Where are you from? Gan and Ba: Alabama, sir. Are you twin brothers? No, we are not parents. 5 I promised Babb (Forrest sold his portrait to a ping pong company, then he went to visit Babb's parents.)) ) Ba Ma: Are you crazy, or were you born so stupid? Ms. Bulu, it's stupid to do stupid things. BA: I think so. Gan: Of course, I visited him at Babb's grave. Hey, Bab, it's me. Forrest Gump. I remember everything you told me and did everything. I now have twenty-four thousand five hundred and sixty-two dollars and forty-seven cents, that is all. I cut my hair, made a new suit, had a real meal with my mother, bought a bus ticket and drank three bottles of Peps soda. (Forrest Gump bought himself a boat.) Owner: You tell me, are you stupid or something? It's stupid to do stupid things, sir. 6 I will be your leader (one day, while Forrest was working on a boat, I heard someone call his name.) Turns out it was Lieutenant Dan. Hey, Lieutenant Dan, how did you get here? Dan: Well, I'd like to try my leg, the sailor's leg. But Lieutenant Dan, you have no legs at all. Dan: Yes, I know. It's your letter, you idiot. All right, Captain Forrest Gan, I have to see for myself. I told you that if you were the captain of a shrimp boat, I would be your leader. I'm coming. Gan: All right. But don't expect me to call you sir. Gan: No, sir. 7 God help Forrest Gump (they started to shrimp.) But since there are fewer sources of shrimp, it seems that not everything is optimistic. But a hurricane changed everything. Reporter: Hurricane Carmen hit the area yesterday, and the damage was extensive. Like other coastal towns, the shrimp industry in Debetri Bay was almost completely destroyed. Only one shrimp boat survived, according to local authorities. Gan: It's much easier to catch shrimp after that (voiceover). Gan: Because people also use shrimp for shrimp cocktails and barbecues and the like, and because we are the only surviving shrimp boat, they can only buy Bab-Gamp Shrimp Company goods. We bought twelve ships, all named Jenny, and bought a large old warehouse. We also put Bab-Gamp Bab-Gamp shrimp company on our hats. The name is a household name. (At this point, the man waiting on the stool with Forrest Gump was already another man, and he was very suspicious of Forrest Gump's statement.) Wait, man, you mean you're the boss of the Babb-Gamp shrimp company? Gan: Yes, sir. We made a lot of money. Richer than David Crockett. End: Gan: (voiceover) mother has often said that a person's real need for wealth is limited, and the rest is to show. So I donated much of my wealth to the Evangelical Church of the Four Corners... Also Donating a lot of money to the Debetri Bay Fishermen's Hospital... Although Babb is dead, and although Lieutenant Dan said I was a fool, I gave Babb's shares to his mother. Do you know? She no longer needs to cook for someone else. Gan: My mother used to say that the wealth that a person really needs is limited, while the rest has to be broad. So I donated much of my wealth to the Evangelical Church of the Four Corners... Also donated a lot of money to the Debetri Bay Fishermen's Hospital... Although Babb is dead, and although Lieutenant Dan said I was a fool, I gave Babb's shares to his mother. Do you know? She no longer needs to cook for someone else. on the other hand.
