Orbital speed calculator earth

Work out the orbital duration or time to go around. Orbital duration: Orbit duration = $2 \cdot \pi \cdot \text{its second root} \left(\left(\frac{\text{half diameter}^3}{\mu} \right) / 60 \text{ min} \right)$; Note: The speed in m/s Gravitational Constant G is $6.67408 \times 10^{-11} \text{ m}^3 \text{ kg}^{-1} \text{ s}^{-2}$ mass of the main body M in the radius of the circular orbit in the standard parameters km $\mu \text{ gm} =$ (this is different according to the main body you choose). This is a NASA fact sheet that details each planet's duration, orbit and distance. Example: Earth orbits the sun The slightly elliptical orbit has a height varying from 147.1 million kilometers to 152.1 million kilometers, averaging 149.6 million km. Try this and the result is less than 365.25 days, the moon orbits the Earth: still quite elliptical at the perigee below 363,104 km. At apogee top 405,696 km, average 384,400 km Geostationary satellite: 35786 km altitude, space station: 408km height Starlink constellation: 540 - 570 km high If above 600 km, there is very little air hauling, they may pollute the sky forever! Rocket launched to low Earth orbit begins: 185 km high, satellite imagery in orbit around Mars, global exploration: 378 km high Phobos is the moon in orbit around Mars: 5980km high. The effect may be error and should not be used for orbital maneuvers or navigation of real spacecraft. If anyone uses this page and can do calculations freely, please tell me where I'm wrong.
