Show people what kind of man you want to be. - Legendary Motorsport description. Feltzer is a convertible two-door sports car in Grand Theft Auto: San Andreas and HD Universe (except in Grand Theft Auto: Chinatown Wars). Each performance should represent different generations of Mercedes-Benz road users. It is produced by a benefactor in the HD universe. Design Grand Theft Auto: San Andreas In Grand Theft Auto: San Andreas, Feltzer is depicted as a compact German-style luxury convertible in the late 1980s, based on the Mercedes-Benz SL (R107) (most likely 380SL). The car also appears to carry several elements with typical American classic sports cars, giving it some muscle car-like features. The design of the car is very traditional, with a boxing body, square lamps and a rectangular grille. Feltzer always spawns in his convertible and can carry two occupants. You can only see it in different colors. Grand Theft Auto IV Dark, elegant and handsome... Feltzer Advertising slogan in GTA IV. In Grand Theft Auto IV, benefactor Feltzer is based on Mercedes-Benz SL (R230), but with a front face similar to the smaller SLK-class (R170). Headlamps are very similar to some early 2000s. models, which have a shape similar to that of the Golf Mk4 and a look very similar to some earlier third-generation Volkswagen Caddy models. Brabus influences are mostly seen on rims. Feltzer retains a two-door look and generally a small body from the previous iteration, but has a more areodynamic style. The front of the car is fairly dominated by the front bumper, which has a central intake and two smaller ones next to it. The upper part is occupied by a grid and silver headlamp housings, each with an internal lamp, a larger external lamp and a much smaller turn signal in between. The bonnet monitors the oblique profile and has elevated parts in the middle. On the sides are flared wheel arches, medium-sized skirts and vertical chrome handles. The cabin area is recognizable by its black trim and color rearview mirrors. Silver badges can be seen on the front fnderers. In the back, it takes on a more concave profile, with a trunk lip, a flat plate holder and large rear lamps. The rear bumper has a central opening and two square-shaped exhaust gas slots. Again, silver badges can be seen on the boot. Feltzers can be seen with a folding hardtop (such as actual SLK), soft tip or with a tip down. Some are equipped with a black mesh grille without badges, while others have a standard grid with three bars with a benefactor emblem. The vehicle is available only in uniform colors. It uses a unique set of rims with six gouaches wrapped in low-profile tyres. Feltzer is equipped with a GPS system with a female voice, but only if the player leaves the option of selected cars (default) in the audio menu. Grand Theft Auto V It takes a certain kind of special person to be able to cope with a car like this. Trend-setter, individual, winner. The kind of risk-taker that goes after what they want without getting stuck in the fine print. Are you that person? Come to my salon in Pillbox Hill and I'll convince you that you are. This car is HOT! It won't take long at these highly competitive interest rates. -Simeon Yetarian The Feltzer returns to Grand Theft Auto V, this time shown as a custom sports car resembling the SL 65 AMG Black Series. The GT Wing modification gives the car a spoiler identical to the one in the racing version of the Mercedes-Benz CLK DTM, while the Low Level Spoiler option resembles the street version. Feltzer assumes a similar design to the GTA IV iteration, but it seems to be more customized, with a wide body set, sporty bonnet, carbon fiber parts, larger wheels, side exhaust exhaust. Headlamps seem to be the only other change, looking pretty similar to the Reblas. Silver badgings can be seen on the trunk and rear fbacks. The car is painted only with one color, which also affects sewing on the interior. The rim design is shared with Fusilade and Sentinel and is identical Sports Wheels Organic Type D available at Los Santos Customs. The current design gallery version of the history gallery performance grand theft auto: San Andreas Feltzer in GTA San Andreas has a good top speed, but its handling is quite unsatisfactory, as its light weight acts against it. It also has a fairly slow acceleration. Durability is average, which makes it a few strokes before it catches fire. Auto Eroticarwebsite states that the engine is a 3.8L Supercharged V8. Feltzer has a top speed of about 85 to 90 mph, but is the slowest of the sports cars, even slower than the more compact Sentinel XS. Acceleration is decent, but powerful enough to easily break traction on the rear wheels when hit. Feltzer has developed a reputation as one of the best floating cars in the game, due to the high level of shortened torque generated by the supercharger. The suspension is solid and responsive, maintaining feltzer levels in the corners, albeit with some fishtailing at high speeds. These features provide an accurate representation of the unyiey nature that Mercedes coupes provide. Braking is good, and ABS is an available option, although not standard. Feltzer has endured high-speed frontal drops well, thanks to its luxurious grail, and can withstand numerous frontal blows without failure or fire. However, the car cannot handle the shooting well, and also leaves the player very vulnerable if the player drives with the top down. The V8 engine cover, which is coupled with a 6-speed gearbox in the front engine, appears to be a rear-wheel drive layout. It shares the sound of the engine with Carbonizzare. The car accelerates rapidly with a higher top speed than the GTA IV variant and this makes the car dangerous, as the player is more prone to being thrown off the windscreen. Compared to other sports cars, it has lower top speed, average acceleration, poorer braking, but higher traction. This is often as one of the best floating cars in the game because it is back heavy, has responsive suspension and is easier to control. Gracie will jump the wall and fail the mission, but Feltzer will be unlocked and ready for the player. This unique Feltzer is one of five vehicles in GTA IV mentioned by name, the other being a shitty beige Willard from It's Your Call, a silver Glitter recorded in Clean Getaway, a Patriot from Puerto Rican Connection, and Romero used in The Undertaker. That same Feltzer can be found in the Gay Tony Ballad during the Blog This mission!..., can be obtained by helicoptering the car out of the driveway and then pushing the vehicle with another car into the Lost Clubhouse car park. Trivia General Grand Theft Auto: San Andreas Image by Beta Feltzer. Keep on turn different turn lights. Feltzer's so short, Carl's going to jump over the door to get in, instead of opening it. That's not going to happen if the door is open or missing. Feltzer has a more detailed internal dashboard than other cars because it's open. Inside gta san andreas driving school there is an image of beta Feltzer with different turning lights. In GTA San Andreas, the only two missions featured prominently by Feltzer (Fender Ketchup and End of the Line) feature a scene with a character hanging on the windshield. If a player drives Feltzer to TransFender during the Fender Ketchup mission, Johnny Sindacco is still strapped to the windshield as the player adjusts Feltzer. Feltzer beta artwork in San Andreas showed Feltzer with 4 doors, this model is probably based on a Mercedes-Benz W116. Feltzer is the last vehicle a player drives in the lead story Grand Theft Auto: San Andreas. Grand Theft Auto IV Gracie Anceletti's pink Feltzer is called purple by stats menu. In GTA IV, if a player takes Feltzer with his top to the car wash, the vehicle will be washed manually (as with all convertibles). According Autoeroticar.com, Feltzer was manufactured in 2003. Grand Theft Auto V Motor Bay Feltzera in GTA V wears the Linnengen Benefactor badge. This could be a parody of the Mercedes-Benz Kompressor line of superchap engines. When he is provided with a custom rear bumper at Los Santos Customs, one side will be mishapen. This is fixed in an improved version so that both sides touch the ground. As with Comet, Feltzer has two different dashboards depending on the version of the game. The instrument panel of the original version is similar to that found in the E46 generation of bmw 3 Series, while the improved version dashboard evokes the W140 Mercedes-Benz S-Class dashboard and is the only benefactor with this dashboard. The gauges in the improved version are very closely reminiscent of the benchmarks that appear on Mercedes-Benz vehicles in the late '80s, especially those found on high-end models. This is shared with other vehicles, such as Verlierer and Bullet. According to ambient files, Feltzer is one of several named vehicles in the game that make distant car noises. [12] Other vehicles include Entity XF, Cheetah, Comet, Daemon, Carbonizzare, Vacca and Banshee. Feltzer's front license plate is not positioned correctly, but is tilted 45 degrees backwards.
