

I'm not robot

Continue

Average income in florida keys

Average family income in Key Largo, FL is N/A. In 2018, the place with the highest average family income in Key Largo, FL was N/A with an N/A value, followed by N/A and N/A, with the respective Values of N/A and N/A. Men in Florida have an average income 1.34 times higher than the average income of women, which is US$ 44,078. Income inequality in Florida (as measured by the Gini index) is 0.473, lower than the national average. The economy of Key Largo, FL employs people N/A. The largest industries in Key Largo, FL are N/A, and the highest paid industries are the N/A. The following graph shows how the average income of families in Key Largo, FL compared to that of their neighboring and parental geographies. The pums dataset is not available at the Place level, so we're showing data for Florida. $58,931 Average Male Salary in Florida ± $842 $44,078 Florida Women's Salary ± $574 In 2017, full-time male employees in Florida made 1.34 times more than female employees. This graph shows the gender-based pay gap in the 5 most common occupations in Florida by the number of full-time employees. The PUMS dataset is not available at the Place level, so we're showing data for Florida. Higher Average Salaries per Race & Ethnicity in Florida $54,227 ± $3,227 Alaska Native $50,175 ± $47,169 White $47,927 ± $556 In 2017 the highest-paid race/ethnicity of Florida workers was Asian. These workers received 1.08 times more than Alaska native workers, who made the second highest salary of any race/ethnicity in Florida. This graph shows the gender-based pay gap in the 5 most common occupations in Florida by number of full-time employees. The closest comparable wage gini for Key Largo, FL is Florida. 0.473 2017 Wage GINI in Florida 0.471 2016 Gini wage in Florida In 2017, income inequality in Florida was 0.473, according to gini's calculation of wage distribution. Income inequality grew by 0.259% from 2016 to 2017, meaning that wage distribution grew slightly less. Gini for Florida was lower than the national average of 0.479. In other words, wages are distributed more evenly in Florida compared to the national average. This graph shows the number of workers in Florida in multiple pay buckets compared to the national average. Use the drop to filter by race/ethnicity. Highest Average Family Income (N/A) In 2018, the place with the highest average family income (N/A) in Key Largo, FL was N/A with n/a value, followed by N/A and N/A, with respective Values of N/A and N/A. The following map shows all the locations in Key Largo, FL colored by their Family Average Income (N/A). N/A Larger Demographic Living in Poverty N/A % of the population for whom the status of is determined in Key Largo, FL (N/A outside the People N/A) live below the poverty line, a number that is approximately approximately the same as the national average of 13.1%. The largest demographic residents in poverty are n/a N/A, followed by N/A N/A, and then N/A N/A. The Census Bureau uses a set of monetary income limits that vary by family size and composition to determine who classifies as impoverished. If the total income of a family is less than the family limit than that family and each individual in it is considered to be living in poverty. The most common racial or ethnic group living below the poverty line in Key Largo, FL is N/A, followed by N/A and N/A. The Census Bureau uses a set of monetary income limits that vary according to the size and composition of the family to determine who classifies as impoverished. If the total income of a family is less than the family limit than that family and each individual in it is considered to be living in poverty. The most common working groups, by number of people living in Key Largo, FL, are n/a. This graph illustrates the division of the main job vacancies performed by residents of Key Largo, FL. The most common jobs occupied by residents of Key Largo, FL, by number of employees, are N/A. The highest-paid jobs occupied by residents of Key Largo, FL, for median earnings, are n/a. The most common employment sectors for those living in Key Largo, FL, are N/A. This graph shows the division of the main industries for residents of Key Largo, FL, although some of these residents may live in Key Largo, FL and work elsewhere. Census data is marked for a home address, not a work address. The most common industries in Key Largo, FL, by number of employees, are n/a. The highest paid industries in Key Largo, FL, for median earnings, are N/A. A. Domestic production and consumption consist of products and services shipped from Florida to other states, or from other states to Florida. Domestic production in dollars Domestic production in consumption of domestic dollars in Tonnage The following chart shows the participation of these products in relation to all Florida products. Showing data for Florida. Domestic Production in Dollars Domestic Consumption in Consumption Tonnage Domestic in Dollars Unsubscribed consumption at Tonnage $714B Projected 2045 Value in Florida 56.2% growth In 2015, Florida's total outbound trade was $457 billion. This is expected to increase 56.2% to $714 billion by 2045. The following chart shows how Florida's outbound domestic trade is expected to change compared to its neighboring states. Interstate commerce consists of products and services shipped from Florida to other states, or from other states to Florida. Domestic Production in Domestic Production Dollars in Toneltic Consumption In Dollars Imess of Nadotic Consumption in Tonnage Most Common Trade $17.7B $15.1B $10.7B In 2015, Florida's top domestic partner for goods and services (for dollars) was Georgia with $17.7B, followed by Texas with $15.1B and California and and following the map shows the amount of trade that Florida shares with each state (excluding itself). Median household income in Key West, FL is N/A. In 2018, the place with the highest median household income in Key West, FL was N/A with an N/A value, followed by N/A and N/A, with the respective Values of N/A and N/A. Men in Florida have an average income 1.34 times higher than the average income of women, which is US$ 44,078. Income inequality in Florida (as measured by the Gini index) is 0.473, lower than the national average. The economy of Key West, FL employs people N/A. The largest industries in Key West, FL are N/A, and the highest-paid industries are N/A. The following graph shows how the average household income in Key West, FL compared to that of its neighboring and parenting geographies. The pums dataset is not available at the Place level, so we're showing data for Florida. $58,931 Average Male Salary in Florida ± $842 $44,078 Florida Women's Salary ± $574 In 2017, full-time male employees in Florida made 1.34 times more than female employees. This graph shows the gender-based pay gap in the 5 most common occupations in Florida by the number of full-time employees. The PUMS dataset is not available at the Place level, so we're showing data for Florida. Higher Average Salaries per Race & Ethnicity in Florida $54,227 ± $3,227 Alaska Native $50,175 ± $47,169 White $47,927 ± $556 In 2017 the highest-paid race/ethnicity of Florida workers was Asian. These workers received 1.08 times more than Alaska native workers, who made the second highest salary of any race/ethnicity in Florida. This graph shows the gender-based pay gap in the 5 most common occupations in Florida by number of full-time employees. The closest comparable wage gini for Key West, FL is Florida. 0.473 2017 Wage GINI in Florida 0.471 2016 Gini wage in Florida In 2017, income inequality in Florida was .473, according to gini's calculation of wage distribution. Income inequality grew by 0.259% from 2016 to 2017, meaning that wage distribution grew slightly less. Gini for Florida was lower than the national average of 0.479. In other words, wages are distributed more evenly in Florida compared to the national average. This graph shows the number of workers in Florida in multiple pay buckets compared to the national average. Use the drop to filter by race/ethnicity. Highest Average Family Income (N/A) In 2018, the place with the highest average family income (N/A) in Key West, FL was N/A with N/A value, followed by N/A and N/A, with respective N/A and N/A values. The following map shows all the places in Key West, FL colored by their Average Income (N/A). N/A Larger Demographic Living in Poverty N/A % of the population for whom poverty status is determined in Key West, FL FL people live below the poverty line, which is roughly the same as the national average of 13.1%. The largest demographic residents in poverty are n/a N/A, followed by N/A N/A, and then N/A N/A. The Census Bureau uses a set of monetary income limits that vary by family size and composition to determine who classifies as impoverished. If the total income of a family is less than the family limit than that family and each individual in it is considered to be living in poverty. The most common racial or ethnic group living below the poverty line in Key West, FL is N/A, followed by N/A and N/A. The Census Bureau uses a set of monetary income limits that vary by family size and composition to determine who classifies as impoverished. If the total income of a family is less than the family limit than that family and each individual in it is considered to be living in poverty. The most common working groups, by number of people living in Key West, FL, are N/A. This graph illustrates the division of the main vacancies held by residents of Key West, FL. The most common jobs held by Key West residents, FL, in number of employees, are N/A. The highest paid jobs held by residents of Key West, FL, for median earnings, are N/A. The most common employment sectors for those living in Key West, FL, are N/A. This graph shows the division of primary industries for residents of Key West, FL, although some of these residents may live in Key West, FL and work elsewhere. Census data is marked for a home address, not a work address. The most common industries in Key West, FL, by number of employees, are n/a. The highest paid industries in Key West, FL, for median earnings, are N/A. A. Domestic production and consumption consist of products and services shipped from Florida to other states, or from other states to Florida. Domestic production in dollars Domestic production in consumption of domestic dollars in Tonnage The following graph shows the participation of these products in relation to all Florida products. Showing data for Florida. Domestic Production in Dollars Domestic Consumption in Consumption Tonnage Domestic in Dollars Unsubscribed consumption at Tonnage $714B Projected 2045 Value in Florida 56.2% growth In 2015, Florida's total outbound trade was $457 billion. This is expected to increase 56.2% to $714 billion by 2045. The following chart shows how Florida's outbound domestic trade is expected to change compared to its neighboring states. Interstate commerce consists of products and services shipped from Florida to other states, or from other states to Florida. Domestic Production in Domestic Production Dollars in Tonelge Domestic Consumption in Dedostic consumption at Tonnage Most Common Trade Partners $17.7B $15.1B $10.7B In 2015, Florida's main domestic partner for goods and services (for dollars) was with $17.7 billion, followed by Texas with $15.1 billion and California and $10.7 billion. The following map shows the amount of trade Florida shares with each state (excluding itself), itself.