If you are looking for a reliable way to get waves on your hair, this hair kit is a must if you have tight curls, treating your hair with an S-curl texture can help you loosen and relax your curly hair and style your hair easily. One of the styles popular with people with short, rough hair after a textured treatment is the 360 wave look, where curly hair is trained to lie on the scalp, with around 360 degrees around the head. To create this look yourself, start with textured firearm treatment and then create 360 waves in your hair over the next few weeks. You can find S-Curl Texture riser treatments at MStudioImages/E+/GettyImage Texturer Application Pharmacy or Beauty Supplies Store. Most kits include styling products such as latex gloves, texturized treatments, in-between shampoos, conditioners and gels or sprays. Petroleum jelly and fine combs are also required. Start by applying petroleum jelly all over the hairline to prevent burning the skin with a texture riser. Then put on your latex gloves and use a comb to scoop out a chunk of S-curl texturer. Comb the texture riser completely through the hair for at least 10 minutes until the hair has an S or wave pattern. Next, rinse the texture with warm water and wash your hair with a china shampoo. Rinse and repeat as needed until all textures come out of the hair. Finally, apply the hair conditioner and rinse after about 5 minutes. Follow the textured treatment to start the process of brushing, drying, and creating 360 waves. Your hair should grow up to about an inch in length so that you can have enough to work with it as you train it. When working at 360 waves, hairbash is the most important tool in the styling toolkit. Brush daily for more than 10 minutes, starting from the crown of hair and working your way into the hairline. I'm going to do all the hard, medium or soft boar bingo brush flicks. Brush your entire hair evenly and avoid shampoo for a week or two when making waves. After brushing the hair, achieve an S-curl and tie a mever to the head. You can sleep in the mever you do and do this process at night so that you can continue to sleep. Do not wipe your hair in the morning when removing the do-rag, as you can undo the wave pattern. For a few weeks, you can create an S-curl pattern on your hair. Use a hot oil treatment or deep conditioner every month to keep the waves looking radiant and healthy. Leave on for about 30-45 minutes, rinse and repeat the brushing process above. Ryan McVeigh/Digital Vision/Getty Images 360 waves are hairstyles worn by both men and women. This style requires very curly hair that is less than an inch long. To achieve the style, swaying grease and combs are used to soften the hair and turn it into a spiral deep wave from the crown. Head. The 360 Wave Texturization Kit includes both oil-based grease and bing-hair brushes for setting styles. Clean and towels start with dry hair. Leave the head moist, but do not get wet. Steal 1/4 of the grease in scoops and rub palms to emulsify. Grease the hair, starting with the crown. Grease the entire head from the crown to the front, side and back down. Massage grease into hair to make sure it is completely saturated. Place a hard bristle brush on the crown, gently brush on the forehead, and then brush from the crown to the back of the head. For the sides, brush at an angle towards the ears. Brush oiled hair for at least an hour each day in a specified pattern. Regular brushing is the key to setting waves and achieving style. To protect the style, wrap your wobbly head in a do-rag. This compresses the style and further establishes it. Wear a mure of the bed as much as possible. Do not wash your hair for a week after using the kit, because the shampoo loosens the style. ©2020 Wal-Mart Stores, Inc.
