The draza has been given 4.57 out of 5 start235 revvosmost wizard positive revva has tried to imagine almost every shampoo. The cheapest most expensive... I don't know how I can ignore it. I remember using this shampoo as a young man but I happened to try again as a model in a hotel!!! I was swayed and I went looking for shampoo and conditioner to put the bottle. This shampoo does everything. It is a boom to the skull and removes the oil but is rather properly abysed at the same time. I have very hair yea, curly, easily frizzi and dry. It's very difficult but this shampoo made me dry once a soft, and shiny hair. My skull feels dry or clean without itering. Some shampoos dry my skull. I just wash my hair 2x/week, 3 max. A stylist taught me that I will not just shampoo the skull nor my hair ends. This helps me maintain the very well-weedined throughout my hair. Using this technology, I have this type of hair so I highly recommend this shampoo. The most helpful delicate Reeva tried her product twice because I really wanted to enjoy it and said it worked, but I can't. I have quite an oily, sensitive skull with fat hair and it needs to remove the excess oil, so I want to try its product. Keep in mind, I was usually on the edge so don't use shampoo with somanys. I just have to say, as soon as I pulled out the shower my hair was very frizty and already felt dry. When I was washing my skull in the shower my hair got super-slippery, which was not already a good sign for me. I used two later shower mineral products because normally my hair does not. I let my hair dry and after that was still funny frizty and dry. At the top of it, my skull back was very itchy and red. I don't think it's a terrible product because it got everything out of my skull but it was very tough so I'm not going to use it again. 235 customers2Have been reviewed byChikies0814 bought this shampoo and conditioner from Tagisa because the person in Ulta told me it would be clean and good to use everyday and they said it would help with my oil hair. Well.. On the right I felt it would clean my hair well which I liked but the phrase was out of control! After a week or so I realized that Ball had ALOT and my husband falling too and the phrases were just getting the worst and worst. When I talk to another person in another Ulta, he said it was not a daily shampoo. It was good to clean up but it was.
