Getty Images Phone scammers are becoming more complex than ever to avoid a new column on Inc. Reveals. Once unsuspecting people pick up, thieves can make money from premium fees, or even use their vote to authorize other accounts. However, a quick glance could reveal whether a call means real business or not. According to Joseph Steinberg, CEO of SecureMySocial, certain area codes can ward off potential victims that something is wrong. In the past, criminals hid behind 900 numbers, which accumulated high charges, but the public quickly caught on. Then the scammers tried a new approach. Many of the schemes soon included the numbers 809, an international uih from the Caribbean that appears to come from the United States. As this ruse has also increased, fraudsters have since moved to other islands that still fall under country code +1. Criminals are known to use id callers with a prediction of 473, which appears to be domestic, but in reality it is a pre-service number of Grenada Island, he wrote. According to AARP, receiving calls from any of these foreign countries can cost $5 a minute or more. The robot or the person behind it can also persuade listeners to spend money on sketchy timeshare or cruises. In other schemes, people pretend to need help or money because they are in danger. Steinberg advises never returning a missed call from an unknown number – if it's real, the person can send a text message or leave a voicemail. Remember, it's unlikely that someone you don't know - who's in distress in a place you're not familiar with - would dial a random number in another country and ask for your help, he says. They'd call the police. To protect your wallet, beware of 473, 809 and 900. It will also not hurt to check missed calls according to international UTO codes starting +1: International code area codes +1 Country 242 – Bahamas 246 – Barbados 268 – Antigua 284 – British Virgin Islands 345 – Cayman Islands 441 – Bermuda 473 – Grenada, Carriacou and Petite Martinique 649 – Turks and Caicos 664 – Montserrat 721 – Sint Maarten 758 – Saint Lucia 767 – Dominica 784 – Saint Vincent and the Grenadines 809, 829 and 849 – Dominican Republic 868 – Trinidad and Tobago 869 – Saint Kitts and Nevis 876 – Jamaica [h/t 10TV] This content is created and maintained third party and imported to this page to help users provide their e-mail addresses piano.io. calls to a phone number. Instead of going through a big, big, phone book, you can find and verify zip code and area code on the web quite easily. If you have an address or partial address, you can find your zip code by searching for the USPS zip code, a tool on the U.S. Postal Service website. You can also search by city or state, or find all the cities that are part of a specific zip code. In addition to postal acronyms, policies and best practices, the International Postcodes page, managed by Columbia University, also has an extensive index of domestic and international postal codes. You can also use different search engines to find your zip code. For example, if you want Google to search for a zip code by address, enter what you know about the address so that a map of the location with the zip code attached appears. You can even enter something like a SOUTH Laurel MD zip code to see all of them for that area (and find links that show the full zip code list for that area). You can also enter a zip code to see the geographic location to which it belongs, as well as a map and other related web results, such as cities that use this zip code. If you don't connect your zip code to the end of your search, Google might show unrelated information. For example, search 90210 reveals information about TV series, while zip code 90210 displays information in the zip code. You can find a zip code with DuckDuckGo, too. Enter a zip code and DuckDuckGo returns a map, zip code location, weather, real estate, and other relevant web results. Bing's zip code search brings back what the city/local city relates to, maps and local attractions such as grocery stores, hotels and movie theaters. If you enter a partial address, Bing will fill it in for you and reveal the zip code. Similar to a zip code, you can use the search engine to find the UTO code by searching for a city. To reverse and see what part of the country the AREA NUMBER is related to, just enter the UTO code in the search engine. To find a UTO code with Google, enter the name of the city and state you're looking for followed by the words UTO. You usually find what you need. For international profiles, search for a phrase, such as a call code in Kenya, and you'll get an informative answer with the numbers you'll need to call this nation. Enter city and state in the new Bing search, and you'll most likely see Google-like results that show the UTO at the top of the results. The same applies to international code calls. Another way to find the dial number online is Wolfram Alpha, which is considered Computing Intelligence. This data-driven search engine doesn't show results like the others listed on this page, but with a little digging, you'll find some unique information about cities and states you might not find in another search engine. Using yahoo to find a pre-judgment number is similar to using Google; enter the name of the city and state followed by the UTO code for immediate result. Finding international codes isn't as easy with Yahoo as it is with Google, but of course you can still use Yahoo to find other websites that may provide you with this information. Quite a few pages specialize in searching directional code areas that a simple query search engine may not detect. You can use these free resources to find almost any area code and/or country code you've called in the world: Area code: Contains area numbers from the predominantly United States, even though other countries are scattered here. BT Phone Book: Use this page to search for area codes in Britain country codes: This page will ask you which country you are calling from and to which you want to assign the correct country code, area code, or both. LincMad: Zip Code MAP that offers visual representation of area-specific area atos in the United States, and Canada.AllAreaCodes.com: Like LincMad, you get a full map of UTO directional codes in the U.S. and Canada, as well as links to area-specific zip codes, UTO area codes details (e.g. wireless or line connection, operator when it was introduced), search engines, and UTO area code lists that can be printed. Thanks for let us know! Tell us why! George Diebold/Getty Images Area Code 578 is one of the unassigned North American numbering codes that includes the United States, Canada, certain Caribbean nations and territories of the U.S. Using a 578 phone number is an attempt to disguise the source of the call. ULI directional numbers in NANP were first used in the early 1950s, using 95 of the possible 152 area codes. As the number of phone users has increased over the decades, additional area code has been overarticulated to meet needs in regions of the continent with higher population density. For example, area code 917 overlaps area code 212 and 718 in the New York City area to accommodate a significant increase in phone users in the area. Ugurhan Betin/Getty Images UTO 668 is not a valid pre-court number in the United States. However, it is a valid area code in Oujde, located northeast of Morocco. Calls received from halfway 668 can be traced back to telemarketers, invoice collectors and surveyors. The pre-contract number 668 is used to disguise a valid phone number, which makes it impossible to make a call or track the business that made the call. Phone calls and text messages received from this pre-judgment number can be reported and added to the list of false numbers. Scam artists are also known to use invalid phone numbers. No city has a 855 master. This is free of charge used in the United States and Canada. Calls are free to callers because the receiving party pays long-distance charges. While free area code UTO numbers, such as 855, are used in both the United States and Canada, the owner of a toll-free number can go to which calls to answer. Take. For example, if a company in the United States doesn't want to accept charges for Canadian calls, it will block canadian numbers from connecting. Calls to 855 and other free ULI numbers are not free of charge for callers from outside North America. Area codes 520 and 928 are generally (but not exclusively) intended for all cities and municipalities that are not in the Phoenix metropolitan area of Arizona. Arizona's largest city in the 520 hallway is Tucson. Arizona's largest city in the 928 hallway is Flagstaff. See arizona area code map. Note These area codes apply only to hotlines. The area code of mobile phones is not limited by geographical location. A person who lives in a house in one city can get a wireless service with another predation code.
