Five nights at freddy's 150

Welcome to your new summer job at Freddy Fazbear's Pizza, where both children and parents come for entertainment and food as far as the eye can see! The main attraction is Freddy Fazbear, of course; and his two friends. They are animatronic robots, programmed to please the crowds! However, the behaviour of the robots has become somewhat unpredictable at night, and it was much cheaper to hire you as a security guard than to find a repairman. From your small office, you need to see the security cameras carefully. You have a very limited amount of electricity that you are allowed to use per night (corporate budget cuts, you know). This means when you run out of power for the night, no more security doors and no more lights! If something is not right, namely if Freddybear or his friends are not in their right places, find them on the screens and protect yourself if necessary! Can you survive five nights at Freddy's? For all the simplicity of the game's control and premise, five nights at Freddy's is daunting. It's a great example of how cleverness in design and subtlety can be used to make an experience daunting. Simple stills and proper character designs steal the show in this game, and show that Scott Cawthon knows a great deal about the secret fear people feel when looking at creepy dolls and toys. It is elegant in how it sows fear, and is a must-own for anyone who likes scary games. -Joel Couture IndieGameMag.com This game was created using Clickteam Fusion! In this final chapter of the five nights of Freddy's original story, you must again defend yourself against Freddy Fazbear, Chica, Bonnie, Foxy, and even worse things lurking in the shadows. Playing as a child whose role is as yet unknown, you must protect yourself until 6am by seeing the doors, as well as fending off unwanted creatures that may venture into your closet or on the bed behind you. You only have one flashlight to protect yourself. It will scare away things that can creep in the far end of the aisles, but be careful, and listen. If something has crept too close, then shining light in your eyes will be your end. In Five Nights on Freddy's 2, the old and aging animatronics are joined by a new cast. They are child-friendly, updated with the latest in facial recognition technology, tied to local criminal databases, and promise to put on a safe and entertaining show for both children and adults! What could go wrong? As the new security guard works nights, your job is to monitor cameras and make sure nothing goes wrong after-hours. The former guard has complained about the signs trying to enter the office (he has since been moved to day-shift). So to make your job easier, you've got your very own empty Freddy Fazbear head, which should trick the animatronic characters into leaving you alone if they were accidentally entering your office. As always, Fazbear Entertainment is not responsible for death or mutilation.
