Backyardigans a giant problem full episode

September 18, 2007 (DVD)January 16, 2008 Mini-muffsins at Tyrone's Evan LurieDouglas Wieselman Home A giant problem episode is The Backyardigans from season two. The characters of Uniqua Pablo Tyrone Tasha Summary The Great Friendly Giant, Tasha, is new to the kingdom and wants friends to play with it. However, Queen Uniqua simply can not tolerate giants, especially when trying to take a nap of beauty. She invited the wizards to train Pablo and Tyrone to get rid of him. They try every spell in the book before finally turning themselves and the Queen into giants. Land Sandy area is shown with a horse, tree and bucket. Tasha's feet are coming down the area. The camera zooms in, revealing that the sandy area is actually a sandbox filled with toys. Tasha repeatedly sings Boom, boom! He then looks towards the screen and greets the viewer. He's posing as giant Tasha, a very large creature. Tasha starts singing No One's Bigger Than a Giant. The yard turns into a tree-filled area. Tasha sings a rerun of the song. Tasha spots a village away from the forest and begins to walk slowly towards it. The camera moved to one of the houses in the small village, where wizards Pablo and Tyrone live. Pablo asks Tyrone if they can try magic, but Tyrone reminds Pablo it's hard to cast spells. The two of them are hard to be wizards. Through the song they explain how they can never get the spells right and demonstrate how whenever they try magic, it comes out wrong. The two receive a call from the village queen, Uniqua, through a glass ball. Uniqua tells the boys she wants them to come to her castle at once. Pablo and Tyrone tell her they're going to do it. Tyrone tells Pablo they could use the spell to get from their house to Queen Uniqua's castle. They wave sticks and recite magic words. Magic brings them to the top of Queen Uniqua's castle, on a pillar. They're hung by the back of the robe. The camera is moved to Queen Uniqua inside the castle. Pablo and Tyrone are on their way. Uniqua asks them why it took them so long, and they both start talking at once, so he shuts them up and explains that he's trying to take a nap, but he can't sleep with a giant causing so much noise, so he orders wizards to get rid of the giant. They fly out and sit down to the castle wall. Pablo begins to worry, that they have never had to get rid of the giant before, Tyrone replies that she knows, but Queen Uniqua finds them standing in her window and she shouts at them to leave. As they rush down the road towards the forest, they quickly wind up, as the road is very long. Wizards agree to use flying magic to reach the giant faster. After waving sticks and reciting magic words, they begin to fly around uncontrollable. They began flying towards Queen Uniqua's castle, and barely escaped being covered in it, instead, End up in the Uniqua bedroom, just like stretching getting ready for her to take a nap. She noticed they were still in the castle yelling at them to hurry. They quickly quickly away, finally in control, only they run out of flying magic, and they crash, exhausted. Tyrone offers a holiday on a circular red object, which he claims is a rock. The rock begins to move, discovering that the rock is actually the shoe of giant Tasha. Pablo and Tyrone are petrified and trying to get away from Tasha. Tasha is confused, thinking the Wizards want to play tag, and shouts to the boys that she's going to get them while she chases after them. Wizards, they sing the song I Know Magic using every magic they know. First, they want to turn Tasha into something other than a giant. Pablo suggests turning her into a sheep, so wizards recite magic words to magic in which a giant turns into a sheep. But instead of turning into a sheep, Tasha falls asleep. The Wizards are disappointed. Then the wizards try to make the giant disappear. They disappear instead. Once they've come to light again, Tyrone suggests the giant leave, but instead, they head to the North Pole. Tyrone's trying to get them back, but instead, they're beamed to the moon. Pablo says he's going to try this time, and they happen to show up at Queen Uniqua's castle. Queen Uniqua is angry with the wizards, so they quickly uni hid, eventually landing on the giant's head. Wizards are frightened and screaming, causing Tasha to smile, while tickled. Wizards lose their balance on the head of a giant and fall into a pond. The Wizards are disappointed, and the giant is trying to grab the wizards. Wizards swim out of the pond and start running their heads regardless, but they rely on not getting away with their speed and needing horses. They try to bring some with their magic, but instead, they turn into horses themselves. The giant starts chasing them, then they run away like horses, sighing. When they almost make it to the castle, they run into Queen Uniqua, who claims to have seen it all, and order them to stop messing around, or they'll get rid of them. They watch her go to the castle and return to the wizards. Meanwhile, the giant is almost in the castle. Tyrone suggests making a spell of the same size, even through it's the hardest trick ever, and they manage to make two giant bubbles (which will do all the same size as another being if you touch it). The giant sees bubbles and she blows them towards the wizards cheerfully. Bubbles appear on wizards, causing them to become giants. Wizards are afraid of giants (although they are all the same size). The giant tags them and finally realizes that the giant just wants to play tag with them. Wizards worry queen Uniqua will be angry, so wizards, her giant as well. The Wizards are happy to get the spell right for the first time in history and play the tag while singing On Top of the World. Pablo's stomach cuts and Tyrone suggests having a snack in his house. The village turns back into a courtyard while the children sing the end of the song. They went into Tyrone's house. Tasha opens a previously closed door and shouts Yoo-hoo!
