Usps customs form for apo

When shipping internationally, to a U.S. territory, or for military shipments (APO/FPO), a customs form is required. This form is used to declare the contents of the package in order to pass through the corresponding customs agencies that control the flow of goods outbound and out of each country. Whether shipping easy or easyship, we will simplify this process by automatically assigning the correct customs form to eligible shipments with all required information included. Just fill out all the fields in the shipping order form and we will take care of the rest! The specific service will determine how many custom forms (labels) are required: Three (3) customs forms: for shipments that produce three copies of the label, put them in a plastic sleeve (as this recommended by USPS) affixed outside the package. One (1) customs form: For shipments that produce a copy of the label, customs information will be combined in your shipping label and listed to the left of the address information. International Mail envelopes or parcels weighing 13 ounces or more cannot be deposited at unattended mail outlets such as collection boxes and falls in the lobby. These pieces of mail must be taken to the nearest USPS post office or can be provided to your carrier if you are a known customer and have included your return address along with a completed address, signed, and dated PS Form 2976, 2976-A, or 2976-B. Special Notes on U.S. Territories and Military Post: Shipments to U.S. territories and military post offices are handled somewhat as domestic or international shipments: Address: considered national, with the country set up as USA. The State will then indicate the territory or type of Military Post Office (APO/FPO/DPO). Learn more about military mail addressing. Rates: National rate tables are used to calculate shipping rates in U.S. territories and military bases. Customs: Like international shipments, these packages will have to clear customs, so customs forms are required. Restrictions: International restrictions apply by destination country. Learn more about Military Mail. Additional restrictions apply: sign in to leave a comment. Customs declaration forms are required for use at APO/FPO/DPO addresses, also known as military mail. If you are shipping a military postal package using First Class Mail International, this requires the USPS PS-2976 customs form which states that any shipments with this customs form cannot exceed $400 in total declared value. It is important to report an accurate declared value as this is what will be used to determine the duties. If the value is actually less than $400, make sure your customs information reflects this. However, if the value greater than $400 is accurate, do not lower the declared value beyond what is accurate. Remember, you also certify that your customs forms are correct and post information knowingly can have legal consequences. If you have a shipment worth over $400, you have a few options to send it: Ship priority mail express. Split the shipment. Learn more. Examine the declared value of the item. If the store provides discounted price information for each item on an order, you can choose to use the discounted product price for each item on the customs form. Learn more.
