Virgo man taurus woman lipstick alley

People have been studying astrology and horoscopes for a long time, and it seems that most people tend to be in line with what horoscope experts have to say about their sign. Even total non-believers will occasionally read their horoscopes. It's fun! And most of the time, they're totally spot-on too. Daily horoscopes may be off base, but the broader horoscopes detailing their specific personality based on their zodiac type tend to be quite accurate. Women have been reading about what their potential partners are interested in for a long time. Not that we feel the need to become someone we're not to please them! Call it a curiosity, or a deep intrigue. Hey, men do too! No shame. We all want to know what our future husbands and wives might like in a couple. Let's take a look at what men look for in a woman as a potential co-parent based on her sign. And remember, everything's fine. Never feel like you need to change who you are to please someone else. As you'll see, there's someone for everyone out there, and every sign has its preferences for a perfect parenting match. 15 Aries: Strong, independent scorpion men want a baby mother who speaks her mind and gets what she wants. The last successful, sassy, powerful woman! They love safe, sassy women in general, but a powerful and successful woman is really what she's after. A woman who openly tells how she feels and what she wants shows Scorpio's men that having children with her will be a breeze compared to most. There will be no unnecessary arguments where you have to guess how it feels to please her, and you will be sure you will always stay with your children. There is nothing more attractive to a Scorpion than someone who is open and ahead, and a woman who takes on challenges and overcomes them makes a great mother in her eyes. 14 Libra: Intelligent and beautiful Libra men want a woman who is funny, good, dedicated and intelligent. They are quite demanding, and are always looking for the perfect match. Once they find her, they'll do anything to keep her. They can't stand shallow women or saying they can't keep up. An intelligent, funny and devoted woman will show the scorpion man that her children will be well cared for. If she has a good sense of humor, she knows she will keep things interesting as they address parenthood together. They're not too worried about his wife's bad sides, whether it's a sharp tongue, or an ultra sensitive, emotional side. As long as she's the only one, she'll get up with almost anything to keep her and start a big family. 13 Taurus: Supportive and feminine A support girl will make a Taurus man go wild! They are attracted to sweet, feminine women, regardless of their or humor. They want a woman who will encourage them and be their number one fan. Don't get it twisted though, don't his wife for being a mat. They know that below her makeup and sweet nature, there is a powerful woman who will keep her children online. Taurus men see female women as the mothers and end caregivers. Nothing says great mother as a caring and kind partner. If a woman supports her dreams, she imagines the life they will have together, taking pictures of her wife supporting her children in all their future endeavors, and can't get enough of it! 12 Scorpion: Creme De La Creme Scorpio men want nothing less than the best. They want the whole package: sexy, intelligent, passionate, adventurous, athletic, independent - they want it all! They love to feel necessary, but not suffocated. We give you back the score: They want to feel at home, but not stuck at home. They are extremely demanding and blown up, and need a woman who can keep up with her changing goals and aspirations. If they suddenly decide they want to pick up and move to India, they want a partner who is open to the idea. The traits that the scorpion man looks for in a woman is hard to come by, and it takes a special kind of lady to put up with her shenanigans, especially after having children. He will know when he has found the one, for his beautiful appearance, independent nature, and love for adventure. He doesn't plan to settle down to start a family, he wants to take them for a walk. 11 Scorpion's worst match: Cancer Possibly the worst combination out there: a scorpion male with a cancer nut. In addition to the fact that Scorpios wants a woman who is downstairs for everything they decide they want to do, they can't stand emotional and sensitive women. And that's almost the definition of cancerous women. I should know, I'm cancer myself. A cancer woman will make the scorpion man feel bound and suffocated, while the cancer woman will always feel unsafe and out of place. There is nothing these women want more than to find the one, settle down and live a comfortable and mostly predictable lifestyle. This kind of life is almost the equivalent of hell on earth for a scorpion man. They want kids and the perfect, beautiful woman, but they want most things to be on their terms. They absolutely cannot stand a woman who needs constant peace of mind and a stable home. 10 Gemini: Intelligent, creative and funny gemini men would go crazy for creative women. Bonus points if you are an artist. They like a woman who is on earth, and not afraid to evolve. They are looking for a woman who can keep things surprising and entertaining, even after years of marriage. This shows them that no matter how long they are together, and no matter what parenthood will throw at them, things will always be interesting and new when married to the right person. Gemini men don't expect their baby mothers to be extremely adventurous or crazy, they just want someone who will keep things fresh, new and fun before deciding to decide establish and assume paternity. You can spend most of your nights indoors because you have a baby, but you can certainly watch new movies, try new hobbies together, and take on a new project with enthusiasm. 9 Sagittarius: Energetic and exuberant sagittarius men look for women who have bubbly, high-energy personalities. They want someone who challenges them mentally and physically. They see this as a good indication that they will have an entertaining and fun life together, and raising children will be full of road trips and ball games. Sagittarius men are adventurous, but they're fine with having a partner who grounds them a bit, as long as they still have fun. They want to know without a doubt that their children will grow up in a home that is always active and busy. Intelligence is a necessity, because they want intelligent children. They don't expect the woman to take care of the children on her own, but she certainly hopes she will be able to have thought-provoking discussions as a family. 8 Cancer: Dedicated and innocent cancers are the caregivers of the world, so naturally men like to feel like they protect their wife. They don't necessarily want an endangered damsel, but they love to be helpful. They are looking for a woman who allows her to take care of her, from paying for dinner, to providing a safe home. Cancer men love a woman who is absolutely dedicated to him and their lives together. Just as she likes to make her feel safe and comfortable, she wants someone to do the same for him. When that happens, you'll feel ready to take the plunge and have children so they can keep taking care of each other – plus a little! If you feel like your partner isn't 100 percent involved, you probably won't want to take things to the next level. 7 Capricorn: Independent and loving just like Scorpios, Capricorn's men are picky, but once they fall, they fall hard. They want a woman who knows her self-esteem, and doesn't constantly doubt herself. Someone who is sexy, but not promiscuous. They value class and independence. Although they love affection, they usually don't appreciate public displays of affection. They prefer women who are loving and independent. This shows them that they will make wonderful and loving mothers. They want to take care of their families, but they want their wife to be able to handle herself and the children while she's away. Nothing shows a capricorn man that a woman is the perfect fit to start a family more than having big dreams and an even bigger heart. 6 Capricorn's worst match: Many Aries agree that Capricorn and Aries are completely different in almost every way possible - in all the worst areas. Arias are known to be blown up and willing to take risks out of nowhere, which often men whimse over the edge. Capricorns love planning and security, and Aries couldn't be a bigger opposite. An Aries Woman and Capricorn Capricorn will constantly fight for control over each situation. This is usually the case with many situations, but parenthood comes with even more challenges. Both Capricorn and Aries will feel they know what's best for the kids, and might even go out of their way to disagree only because of the disagreement. It doesn't sound like a good match for us! 5 Leo: Accomplished and somewhat vanishing Leo men love an outgoing woman, sure she dresses well. A little vanity doesn't bother them at all. If you take good care of yourself, they'll know you're going to do the same with their kids. Leos are all about the finer things in life: nice clothes, nice furniture, staying well cared for and having high quality belongings. They want the same for their family. They want people to look at him and his wife and children and know that they are all cared for and accomplished. High maintenance women are right in a Leo's alley! If you catch a Leo's eye, you can be sure it radiates confidence, because they don't fall for anyone. If the woman of your dreams shows up, you better believe you'll give them lavish gifts and amazing vacations. This won't stop when they have kids, either. 4 Aquarius: Strong, self-assured aquarius men are looking for strong women who don't seek anyone's approval, especially him. They don't like needy or tight women, they prefer to stay on their feet a little, unsure if their wife doesn't even need them. Leos loves that confidence and strength because it shows them that they will be strong for their children, even when everything reaches the fan. He likes to know that his wife can take over and do what's best for her children, regardless of what other people might think. You don't get all the hubbub about appearances. Leos definitely prefer to start a family that marches to the beat of their own drum. Who has time to worry about other people's opinions, anyway? 3 Virgo: Logical and intelligent Virgo men look for sensible women to start families. They are not huge in emotionally needy women, or those who like public displays of affection. They want a simple woman to help care for their children and raise them to be intelligent and logical people. Look also matters to this sign. It's not a deal breaker if a woman doesn't spend every day making up and getting her hair done, but a little vanity doesn't bother them. If they find a woman who is almost as unenomenal as they are, they will fall head over heels. They can't imagine a better person to start a family with a no-nodding type of woman. Virgos usually want things to be on a fairly uniform level. 2 Pisces: Soft, open pisces men are all about love. Fall in love, fall in love and show your love every day! They usually love women who are loving, generous and open-minded. A woman who the planet and goes out of its way spreading love and happiness is the dream for men. They pay close attention to women who are funny, and look to see how she interacts with everyone they know. If she always extends courtesy and love, he takes that as a sign that she will always be kind and just when it comes to her future children. It's a big deal for him. He knows that people aren't always right, and they don't always make the best decisions, especially when it comes to parenting. But he understands that there is no such thing as a perfect father, but a woman who puts kindness above all else will always be a winner. 1 Pisces Worst Match: Libra Normally, pisces men and Libra women do not make a very good match. Your personalities just don't mesh well. Things can start very well, but sooner or later, there must be some arguments as your personalities begin to show and become more comfortable. Pisces are sensitive, and tend to care about everyone. Libra women have no heart in any way, but don't care about nonsensical emotions. Pisces men are on the floor and are completely happy to live a quiet lifestyle with their families, while libra women like to go out and socialize. The pisces will see this as an indication that he really doesn't mind settling down and raising children together, at least not in the way he thought.
