This only down is pay and advances, salary can be better and favoritism of advance is a problem. But all I really enjoyed working for such amazing people People and Management Were these opinions helpful? Before that I had worked in five or six other areas and that was the least I've ever felt. Special education teachers on the Discovery Campus are passively aggressive and condescending. I came to support the students and I was looked at as an outsider and he had spoken to me. Has this review been useful? We always strive to make it better and safer for children. The quality of sport and education is a top priority. Safe and fun working environment. Was that helpful? Big children, demanding parentsGolgamous place to practice your art of teaching, children here are wonderful and talented, but the administration takes more care of parental complaints and test results than the actual needs of students. Was that helpful? Do not - or go through an agency and pay moreFor regret this area does not live up to its reputation. The reversal of nurses in nurses is high for a very good reason: nurses are not supported in this area. They were great and the kids are great! Your license will be at risk to work for D20, they force to delegate to people who are not qualified This opinion is useful? Flexible and exciting WorkVery flexible schedule, all schools were very useful and welcoming! Students in this area tend to be well obsessed and eager to study. Many days available for work. Was that helpful? D20 is a good place to work. Most of the time you'll start as a driver and work from there. It's a normal business type of drama. If it wasn't for my business, I'd stay. Training, benefits, friendly people. Early in the morning, very fast and weather-oriented. Was that helpful? The job itself was great, she loved riding. The job itself was a great experience because I learned to drive a much bigger car than my own personal cars. We had a very important task, to transport all students to their destination Time. To be responsible and trustworthy at any moment when necessary. I have also learned to better understand the understanding of different personalities and Although the hardest part of my job was that I felt the system was unfair, it seemed that workers were taken for granted.the best hours, the salary based on health care costs, driving conditions are not always the bestUnion is useful? It's a great place to go for a career. I had a lovely 24 and 2 years at 8:00. I was respected and a team player. I got along well with everyone and made great friends. Management is always available to talk in difficult circumstances and help with difficult circumstances throughout my career. My colleagues knew they could count on me for help if I was available and I could count on them as well. The hardest part of my job was learning the latest technology programs. I once learned I was fine. I believe the best part of my job was the people I met and helped over the years. (birthdays, promotons)needed more staff during hiring seasonWas this review useful?
