Jalapeno with spicy strawberries and summer lime margaritas, assorted frozen cocktails and much more! Bier Fest - NEW dates: Saturday and Sunday, September 12- November 15 At this year's event, the third year of the Bier Fest at Busch Gardens Tampa Bay, you can sip and enjoy seasonal beers and new recipes featuring fall flavours in one of Florida's most spacious outdoor theme parks. In addition to improving the park's already stringent health and safety measures, capacity will be significantly limited to create even more open space for guests to enjoy the Bier Fest every Saturday and Sunday from September 12 to November 15. Whether it's local craft beers, an organized selection of specialty wines and cocktails, interesting international delicacies, snacks and unique meals, you can explore 16 Bier Fest chalets in the park's open-air festival area, with modified food and beverage service procedures and contactless transaction options. You can pair their favourite beer samples with delicious new beer-inspired dishes such as Sam Adams® OctoberFest braised ribs and drunken shrimp tacos from the New England IPA, and Yuenling chocolate cupcakes® Black and Tan. Hearty dishes are also available Busch® Bier Garten inside the Garden Gate Café, including new dishes like roasted mojo pork pub crisp nachos and mac and cheese loaded with creamy budweiser® cheese sauce topped with boujee bacon and onion strings. For more details, including the new menu, visit For the best value to enjoy a variety of food and beverage offerings, you can buy a Bier Fest Sampler Lanyard, from only $32.99 for a punch of 5 samples Pass members get an exclusive offer: 15 items for the same price as a sampler of 12 items, or three additional samples for free! Park guests will be able to enjoy the autumnal fun day and night, as Bier Fest favourites will also be available at the park's separate ticket night event, Howl-O-Scream, starting Friday, September 25. HOWL-O-SCREAM Select Nights September 25-November 1 This year's modified Howl-O-Scream event will include ten terrifying scare zones in Busch Gardens Tampa Bay's vast 335-acre park, including four new areas. Designed to safely scare, the creative production team consulted medical experts to modify this year's area designs with an emphasis of physical distancing, as well as improved health and safety measures, while remaining true to the terrifying envy fans experience. With a considerably limited ability to create plenty of open space, guests will experience the thrilling fear of new horrors as they rush between thrilling roller coasters and fan-favorite Fiends show every Friday to Sunday from September 25-November 1, 2020. I had the opportunity to attend this year's Howl-O-Scream and we had a scary time! Busch Gardens has transformed the entire park with fright zones and a scary setting. I was a little nervous that it wouldn't be as scary as everything was outdoors, but Busch Gardens didn't name it! I really got my fair share of screams. I also like that the Bier Fest was still going with stations set up for amazing eaters and drinks. Here's what you need to know about Howl-O-Scream 2020 ALL-NEW 2020 Scare Zones with Limited Capacity NEW: Lycan Landing: It's always a full moon at this campground and park rangers can't hear you screaming. When the campfires run out, will you escape the glowing eyes that lean through the trees or share their cursed destiny? NEW: The shortcut: Cutting through the cemetery may seem like an easy way out, except when corpses rise from the ground to invite you to their new graves: The Junkyard: You'll find more spare parts as you explore this hairy scrap site. Are you going to get away with it in one piece or be devoured by the haunted rubble? NEW: Escape: In this treacherous kingdom, chaos reigns and rules are made to be broken. Escaped inmates from Grey Echo Penitentiary seek their own twisted form of justice and are ready to sentence. These four brand new alert zones join a collection of fans-favorites back. The full list of Reservations and more are available now at www.HowOScream.com. Customers are strongly encouraged to make early bookings as reservations are needed and space is limited each night. Howl-O-Scream is a separate ticket event. HOWL-O-SCREAM is 18 horrible nights this year! You can attend every Friday and Sunday from September 25 to November 1, 2020. Christmas City Christmas 20, 2020 through January 3, 2021 End the year with holiday cheers earlier than ever at Busch Gardens® Christmas Town™, the Park's award-winning Holiday Event. New this year, the event kicks off with a preview weekend with bright screens and some entertainment elements on November 14 and 15. The city of Christmas takes place every day with a festive pleasure throughout the park from November 20, 2020 to January 3, 2021. Just because it's hot here in Florida doesn't mean we don't celebrate the holidays! In fact, I think we decorate even more! To bring joy to life, Busch Gardens' creative team consulted with medical experts to offer a modified event with required reservations and a limited capacity that celebrates the spirit of the season safely. This seasonal event includes outdoor entertainment and experiences as well as improved health, safety and sanitation measures, including temperature controls, facial coating requirements and physical distancing. Included in the park entrance, park guests can enjoy holiday traditions with a touch, from millions of twinkling lights across the park's 325 acres to physically remote holiday shows, breathtaking animal encounters and contactless visits with Santa Claus and Rudolph® the red-nosed reindeer. Holiday Enjoyment Entertainment A winter wonderland in hot weather awaits park guests with a variety of holiday programs offered throughout the event. Guests are encouraged to check the park's website before visiting to find out which programs are available on each date. NEW fireworks show Spark the Night: This year, guests will have several opportunities to enjoy festive christmas colors as they cover the sky in a dazzling spectacle. Fireworks are offered some nights throughout the event on the Festival grounds, offering plenty of space for guests to expand and enjoy the sights. Christmas on Ice: For the first time ever, park guests will be able to enjoy Busch Gardens' oldest holiday show in a new outdoor location on the Festival stage. This fan-favorite skating production will perform awesome delights on the real ice for a physically distant audience every Friday and Sunday and extra holidays like Thanksgiving and Christmas Eve. Elmo's Christmas Wish: Families can sing and dance with their favorite furry friends in this fun holiday show. Celebrate the Christmas spirit with Sesame Street in sunny day theater with physically distant seats. Three Kings Journey: The musical tale of the famous trip to Bethlehem is now offered alongside festive meals at the spacious Dragon Fire Grill. Holly Jolly Express: All on board for Christmas Cheer! With limited capacity, this locomotive is on track to celebrate the most wonderful time of the year with favorite songs of the season as guests venture across the park in a festive way. Card-worthy, contactless photo Santa's Merry Meet and Greet: Jolly elves guide guests to see Santa Claus for a physically distant photo at a new spacious outdoor location this holiday season. Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer: Jingle all the way to Pantoopia at Rudolph's Winter Wonderland to find the most famous reindeer of all and take some contactless photos with Rudolph and Clarice. Original Characters of the City of Christmas: For glittering moments, guests will meet Princess Poinsettia, princess sugar plum, ice princess and merry snowmen throughout their trip to the city of Christmas. Sesame Street Friends: Take advantage of physically distant photo opportunities with everyone's favorite hairy friends in their festive holiday outfits. Holiday Eats and Unique Gifts As guests spend the night between iconic roller coasters, they can explore the Christmas village: a delightful destination filled with drinks and dishes from a brand new chef and mixologist created holiday menu. Beyond a selection of fan-favorite seasonal beers and mulled wine, you can also choose from a variety of new holiday-inspired beverages rooted in classic Christmas traditions. These unique and time-limited options include specialty cocktails such as winter Wonderland Hot Toddy, honey whiskey and a chai infusion, and the festive Spiked Hot Cocoa with gingerbread crumbles, caramel and whipped cream. The spirit of the season is in every bite of holiday dishes throughout the park such as sliced pork tenderloin, smoked turkey thighs with pumpkin cider glaze, turkey harvest and prosciutto cursors and a variety of peppermint desserts. The best way for guests to savor and save during the holidays is with a Lanyard Christmas City Sampler, starting at just $34.99 for a 5 punch thong. Pass members can take advantage of an additional special offer with an exclusive thong of 12 punches for the price of a 10-punch thong to sip and savor throughout the event. After making the fuel for festive fun, guests can tick everyone off their holiday store list from dazzling ornaments to charming nutcrackers with Busch Gardens exclusive 2020 holiday merchandise that is only available at this special event. Pin Trading is here! Busch Gardens has launched the new pin trading program in 2019. With more than 150 brooches now available in the park, you can start collecting and exchanging pocket souvenirs. Fan favourites, attractions and events to collections you will be able to exchange pins with employees while they explore the park. Another new coaster! The buzz continues with more history in manufacturing at Busch Gardens Tampa Bay, as construction continues on Iron Gwazi arriving this year in 2020. When it opens next year, the ride will become North America's largest hybrid and the world's fastest and steepest hybrid coaster. Expanded Health and Safety Measures: Busch Gardens Tampa Bay East to the health and safety of our customers, employees and animals for whom we are responsible. The park has worked diligently with state and local health officials, external consultants and attraction industry leaders to improve our already stringent standards of health, safety and cleanliness. These protocols and guidelines will be modified to reflect changes in industry standards and methodologies, public health and government guidelines, and the advancement of scientific knowledge on the communicability of COVID-19. Busch Gardens Tampa Bay is pleased to continue to provide our customers with fun, inspiring and memorable experiences, while meeting important health and safety needs during this time.
